West Ferry Lift Bridge

Closed Through 2015

The City of Buffalo Department of Public Works issued a traffic advisory for city residents, visitors and motorists: The West Ferry Street Lift Bridge over the Black Rock Canal, which is currently undergoing an $8 million rehabilitation, is closed to vehicular traffic. The bridge will be closed to all vehicle and pedestrian traffic until at least the end of 2015.

Due to the nature of the project, the bridge will be immobile as Federal Navigational Law requires the bridge must be in the fully raised position during the period of rehabilitation.

While the bridge is closed, there will be no vehicle access to the park.

The West Ferry Lift Bridge will remain immobile and in its fully raised position during the rehabilitation, which is expected to last through 2015.

Tips for Keeping Pets

Safe on Halloween

Halloween is meant to be fun for children of all ages, but according to the SPCA Serving Erie County, pets often experience the dark side of Halloween fun.

With extra precautions, seasonal problems can often be avoided.

Hungry pets: Chocolate can be fatal to your pet! The sweet smell of Halloween chocolate and other candy left by a door pleases pets, as do cookies and cakes served at Halloween parties. Sweets can

The Adventures of...

Rocket Man

by Doug Smith

In the Nick of Time

Bound for a church dinner last week, Rocket Man encountered a red vehicle in stationary orbit, its little old driver sporting a beautifully sculpted white beard, his craft slightly dented in the front. In June a deer had similarly disfigured First Mate's main means of transportation. Rocket Man didn't mention it, to this man, in particular.

"Can I help you?" Rocket Man called. "I am trying to get to ...," said the little old driver, but traffic drowned out his destination. "Meet me under the green sign," Rocket Man shouted, pointing to a directional board at which two paved flight paths diverge.

"I'm trying to get to...," the fluffy wanderer repeated.

"Meet me under the sign!" Rocket Man insisted.

The red vehicle bore a New York plate in a dealership frame from Streetsville, between Toronto and the North Pole. He had three passengers, not an elf in the lot. He said he needed help getting to "Staley Road, the pizza place."

Rocket Man laid a finger aside of his nose and broke the news that there's not a pizza to be had on Staley Road. The visitor's twinkle faded. "Say Cheese?" he uttered.

Oh blitzen, Rocket Man muttered under his breath, for Say Cheese is on Love Road, not Staley, barely a long par-five away, yet involving a circuitous route. You could hardly get there from here.

The man in the beard tried again. "Brick Oven?"

Bulls-eye, except, as Rocket Man told him, Brick Oven has recently moved. "Let me call my friend," the visitor said. From a pad, a voice asked, "Hey, where are you buddy, you were right behind me," to which he replied, "I must have turned wrong."

Since the new Brick Oven is almost within sight of the old one, Rocket Man said:

"Tell ya' what. Follow me to the traffic circle. I'll go all the way around but you go only halfway around and stay on Route 3-2-4." (He punctuated this with hand signals, as if calling a foul.) "Pass three traffic lights and beyond a mostly empty mall, look for a sign that says 'Jackson Music.' The Brick Oven'll be right there. It's a terrific restaurant."

The driver's co-pilot spoke. "That's great. I'm really getting hungry." Her smile lit the dusk.

Off they went, Rocket Man uneasy at the close pursuit by a vehicle with front-end damage. Then, short of the circle, the man with the beard veered, searching for Staley. To the consternation of merging traffic, Rocket Man slowed and gesticulated wildly enough invoke shoulder surgery, except that he pitches with his other hand. The little old driver got in line and at the turn, away they all flew like the down of a thistle.

It couldn't have been. Or could it? With just sixty-eight days 'til you-know-what, Rocket Man's taking no chances...

BUFFALO TRIVIA

by Joe Bortz

Below are route numbers that are an integral part of the City of Buffalo. But what happens when they exit the city?

1. Route 16 – Leaving the city on this route, what would be the first suburb you would reach?
2. Route 384 – If you headed north to the end, what county would you be in?
3. Route 265 – When was this route established, and for what purpose?
4. Route 130 – Outside of the city this route changes to route 20. At what North/South route does that happen?
5. Route 33 – What is the current posted speed limit for this artery?
6. Route 354 – What village is the eastern end of this route?
7. Route 266 – What Buffalo landmark is at the southern end?
8. Route 119 - What county are you in at the northern end of this route?
9. Route 62 – This is a very long route, but as Bailey Avenue, in what northern suburb does it begin?
10. Route 198 – What two routes does this connect?

waste on the curb. Yard waste and bagged leaves may be picked up on a different day than the garbage day. City residents should not be concerned if they are left behind after garbage removal.

As an alternative to the curbside bagged leaves and yard waste collection, the city opened a drop-off location at Shoshone Park, in the parking lot, at the foot of Beard Avenue, where residents can bring their unwanted leaves and yard waste.

Drop off hours at the park locations are from 8:00 am to 3:00 pm, Monday through Saturday until December 1st.

North Buffalo Resident Wins Tops Shopping Spree

Tops shopper Cindi Wilson (on left) holds the final receipt paper with her shopping spree companion and long time friend Mary (on right).

Tops Friendly Market announced today that Cindi Wilson of Buffalo, NY was the winner of a three minute shopping spree that took place at the Buffalo Tops Friendly Markets on Elmwood Ave. Customers who contributed to Tops' United Way front end campaign were automatically entered to win the three-minute Tops Markets shopping spree, and Cindi's name was drawn as the winner.

Customers and Tops

associates cheered Wilson on as she raced up and down the aisles of the store, located at 2101 Elmwood Avenue, adding items like crab legs, olive oil, and specialty cheeses to her cart. In addition to grocery items, Wilson grabbed items with larger price tags like pots and pans and even a Keurig® coffee maker.

"We made a list and practiced our shopping route prior to the shopping spree," said Cindi whose order totaled $1,114.86.

"Cindi did a great job and was very enthusiastic about the shopping spree, making the day enjoyable for all," said Tim Tripi, Store Manager of the Tops Markets on Elmwood.

This year, customers who shopped at Tops helped raise nearly $70,000 through the company's United Way front-end campaign that benefited the United Way of Buffalo and Erie County, as well as the United Way of Niagara County. This is the second year that Tops has run the campaign in its Erie and Niagara County stores.

Keep Pets Safe on Halloween

cause diarrhea, vomiting, abdominal pain or worse. Purchase Halloween treats made specifically for pets and keep the “people” treats away from where pets can reach them. The SPCA’s Petique, located at the 205 Ensminger Road, Tonawanda shelter, has a variety of unique goodies in many flavors. To learn what’s available, call the store at 629-3508.

Pets as victims: Halloween is traditionally known for trick-or-treaters...and pranksters. Keep all pets inside on Halloween night, and the nights immediately preceding and following October 31st. This will prevent them from being stolen, teased, kicked, blinded by flashlights or abused in other ways.

Nervous/territorial pets: Constant door-knocking or doorbell-ringing may cause an extremely nervous pet to shake or tremble uncontrollably, or have an “accident” in the house. Territorial pets may become aggressive at the sound of unfamiliar visitors. Keep nervous or territorial pets distracted in another room with the door closed, and ensure they are wearing proper identification in case they bolt out of open doors.

Curious pets: Keep pets away from costume-making areas, where sequins or buttons can be swallowed. Scissors used for cutting patterns, or knives used for carving jack o’lanterns, can harm your pet. Also remember to keep pets away from a candle-illuminated jack o’lantern.

Halloween has become a popular season for decorations as well. Keep decorations out of your pet’s reach, or securely attached in place to prevent your pet from pulling the decorations down. Swallowing a decorative object may cause intestinal problems and present a potential emergency. For more information, visit www.your-sPCA.org or call 875-7360.

This week's featured friend:

MISSY

Missy is sweet, affectionate and cuddly. She loves to sit by a window and look out at the world. Missy must have come from a very calm and quiet home as many noises frighten her and cause her to run and hide. She also was well trained in the proper use of her claws. She only uses them on the scratching box, never on people or furniture. She likes to be brushed.

Missy makes the best trilling noises and she will greet you with this sound to let you know how happy she is to see you. She'd be the perfect companion for someone who enjoys spending their evenings reading or watching TV. She'll be a very devoted pet. You can meet this marvelous girl at the Cat Adoption Center at Petsmart on Elmwood between Hertel and Kenmore. Pet ID:23533181
