Tickets Now Available for Polar Bites

Tickets are now available for Polar Bites 2015, a fundraising event benefiting the Buffalo Zoo's animal residents.

The popular wintertime event, presented by the Pro Zoo Board, will take place on Thursday, February 19th from 6:00 to 9:00 pm at the Buffalo Niagara Convention Center. Polar Bites will feature food and beverages from some of Western New York's finest establishments, as well as a basket auction, silent auction, and visits with some of the Zoo's animals. There will also be live entertainment from The

Steve Balesteri Band.

Proceeds from Polar Bites benefit the Zoo's annual operating fund, which keeps the Zoo running year-round. Though the Zoo is open during winter months, attendance is much lower than during the warm season. The Zoo relies on the operating fund to keep the animals warm, well-fed, and happy during this time.

A New Way to Plan for Buffalo Niagara

After nearly three years of research, community engagement, partnership building and planning by over 5,000 citizens and more than 700 local organizations, One Region Forward will be releasing its Regional Plan for Sustainable Development entitled "A New Way to Plan for Buffalo Niagara." The plan provides the Buffalo Niagara region with a practical roadmap for growth and development over the next forty years by identifying the trends of the past and then defining the values our community aspires to for a more sustainable future.

The plan and its implementation process are designed to empower and assist stakeholders from across the region - citizens, the business community, and more - to work together and support locally and organizationally appropriate ways that get our region moving toward the performance that matches what our region values.

"The power of A New Way to Plan for Buffalo Niagara is that no one organization or entity owns the plan, we all do," stated Bob Shibley, Dean of UB's School of Architecture and Planning. The open house-style event will be held on Thursday, February 12th from 5:30 pm to 7:00 pm at the Central Library in Downtown Buffalo, 1 Lafayette Square. The event is free and open to the public and will include hors d'oeuvres.

Learn more about One Region Forward and register to attend the upcoming Community Congress by visiting www.oneregionforward.org.

For those that are unable to attend the Community Congress, posters and plan summaries will be on display at the Central Library through the end of February.

Hertel Harry's Media Day

Monday morning, hundreds of reporters besieged overgrown gophers in Punxsutawney, Dunkirk and elsewhere, Media Day for groundhogs, the supposed midway point in the winter in which the furry sleeper is hauled from hibernation, sees or does not see its shadow, and does or does not pull the covers back over 'til mid-March.

What if he said, "I'm only here so I don't get fined?"

Better yet, what if HE got to ask the questions, after three months out of touch?

And still better, what if we had one in our own backyard?

Hertel Harry: "OK, OK, settle down, I haven't had my coffee yet, too long a line at Tim Horton's. I hate to think about how much gas they're wasting with the prices so high."

Reporter: "Actually, gas has gone down about a dollar a gallon since you turned in."

Hertel Harry: "You're pullin' my paw. Well, that's what happens when the House and Senate are split?"

Reporter: "Actually, the Republicans did very well; they're in charge in both chambers."

Hertel Harry: "So that means Mark Grisanti still represents my digs, right?"

Reporter: "Uh, no. He was defeated."

Hertel Harry: "Gee, the Democrats turned him out, eh?"

Reporter: "Well, sort of, but first the Republicans beat him."

Hertel Harry: "So, another guy for Sheldon Silver to boss around."

Reporter: "Actually, Silver's name is mud."

Hertel Harry: "Phew! I'm beginning to be sorry I woke up. I was having a nice dream about how well the Bills were doing with this new quarterback Orton and how they didn't have much chance against Green Bay or New England, but oughta roll all over poor Oakland."

Reporter: "They beat the Packers, lost to the Raiders, beat New England, and Orton retired."

Hertel Harry: "So that means Marrone has to find another quarterback."

Reporter: "He quit too."

Hertel Harry: "New coach, huh? Gonna hire somebody they couldn't beat?"

Reporter: "Actually, they hired the coach of the Jets."

Hertel Harry: "Holy Hedhogs! Didn't they pound them on the road just before I turned in?"

Reporter: Yes, and they beat him even worse while you were underground."

Hertel Harry: "Well, they'd have the home-field advantage in Orchard Park."

Reporter: "Actually, the game was in Detroit. We had a little snow, some of us."

Hertel Harry: "Wait a minute, wait a minute. I nod off for three months and in that time gasoline prices get lower than I am, Republicans win, Silver sours, the Bills have a revolution and play home games in Michigan? Ah, well, we'll always have Orchard Park."

Reporter: "Well, about that..."

Hertel Harry: "Hey, where's the gal from the Tonawanda News? She's worth wakin' up for."

Reporter: "Well, about that, too..."

Hertel Harry: "Never mind. I'm settin' my alarm for April. This press conference is over. Zzzzzzz."

North Park Theatre to Show World Premiere of "Buffalo Chicken Wigs"

The North Park Theatre will screen a world premiere Sunday afternoon. "Buffalo Chicken Wigs," a 15-minute comedy starring an exclusively local cast, will begin at 2 pm. No admission will be charged.

"Chicken Wigs" was filmed a year ago, using Buffalo's Ukrainian Center as a backdrop. With a cast including Mike Randall, Joey Giambra, and Doug "Rocket Man" Smith as chief judge, the movie was produced by Buffalonian Harry Lipsitz and directed by his college classmate, Owen Miller.

It's a parable of modern life, as a national monopoly attempts to discredit and take over the wig-making business of an old Buffalo couple. About 75 people were involved in its creation, including North Buffalonian and master caster Darlene Pickering-Hummert.

"Buffalo Chicken Wigs" features an all-local cast including our own Doug "Rocket Man" Smith.
