

Meet Your Merchant: Hot Mama's Canteen

Hot Mama's Canteen, located at 12 Military Road, features a unique bar menu, live entertainment, and an emphasis on excellent service.

In 2010, Valerie Meli started a hot sauce company, HeadStone Heat. With the success of this, along with over 26 years in the service industry, opening a restaurant highlighting the hot sauces seemed to be the next natural move.

That decision made, her and her partner, Glen Plato set out to find the perfect location. That's when then came across the location at 12 Military Road. After painstaking attention to detail went into refurbishing the building, Hot Mama's Canteen opened on June 21st, 2014. Next week marks their 8 month anniversary. Hot Mama's offers a unique bar menu, pub food with a twist, excellent service. Continued on page 5

The Adventures of...

Rocket Man

by Doug Smith

"Beau Jest"

It's like seder theater, this "Beau Jest" at the Jewish Community Center, a comedy in the style of "Curb Your Enthusiasm" except for its impeccable manners, barely a wink, a word and a surgical procedure beyond a "G" rating.

In playwright Jim Sherman's wildly-contrived plot, kindergarten teacher Sarah (Mother Miriam insists she's smart enough to teach older grades) hires escort Bob in an effort to convince her parents she has a boyfriend as Jewish as they. This plays poorly with her actual squeeze Chris, who hovers like a Blackhawk. Their scenes are hysterically tense, pauses more pregnant than an elephant with triplets.

She's neglected to alert Bob that she's described him as a doctor, and further thinks he's Jewish. ("I'm taken for Jewish all the time," he says in his best Aryan.) Inventive and charming in ways reminiscent of the movie "Dave," his resume including "Fiddler" and "Cabaret," he pulls it off. Well. Too well. As they say in the garment district, business is so good, it's bad.

He finds the Jewish rituals new and exciting, a discovery tour, while all the "natives" take it for granted, however devoutly. For Brian Mysliwy, the region's finest comedic actor for 15-plus years, this conventional role stretches his rap sheet of wild improvisations and accents. The nice subtlety results no doubt from his high energy, several decibels above the others. It might be his choice, or that of director Steve Vaughan, a master of stage combat.

Matt Snyder portrays Chris with extreme snark; watch him present his lady love with what looks like jewelry but is actually the latest (in 1990) dialing device. Adam Yellen oozes skepticism as the brother of the house. Mother Darlene Pickering Hummert is the six-pointed star of the show, her finest moments when she low-level flirts with the actor. Coo coo cachoo, Mrs. Robin-stein.

The real-life parent-child duo of Saul Elkin and Rebecca Elkin-Young bring their own personal magic. Elkin and Pickering Hummert close the show with what seems like the last scene of "Sunshine Boys." Elkin-Young fully invests her Sarah with just the right ratio of disdain and respect for her parents.

A seatmate asked, "Do you find her convincing." Her, yes. The play, not so much. But...

A dossier of elsewhere reviews speaks almost as one voice – familiar material elevated by superb performance. Consistently, "Beau Jest" brings out the best in casts coast to coast. This can not be a coincidence. It continues through March 1 in the Seller Theatre, 2640 North Forest Rd., Getzville, and Thursday night patrons have the option of sensational supper at the center's Tel Aviv Café. Bon appetit – "Jest" deserves desserts.

Doug Smith has reviewed theater on the Niagara Frontier since 1968.

Gronkowski

Many of us watched the last Super Bowl and some are happy and some are not so happy with the results. Before the game the afternoon was filled with pre-game hype and information. The one that hit home with me was the skit that was done on the Gronkowski family. For those not so into the game, Ron Gronkowski is one of the super star players for the New England Patriots and a major contributor to the success of the team. He is from this area and went to Williamsville High School before going off to Arizona for College.

The skit was about his family life in Amherst as he was one of five boys. Imagine five boys that size as he is 6'6 and 265 lbs. His brothers are not quite that big but good size boys. I can relate to the story as I also had five good size sons. All over six feet and none were fat but not thin. In the skit they told about growing up and how the five brothers would sometimes got into heated discussions. It is inevitable that the testosterone among males flares and the only way to settle it is to win a physical battle. A fight would break out. Yes that happened with my boys at times. Usually just between two of them and almost always in the house. The mother of the Gronkowski family was quoted as saying "that's why we can't have anything nice in this house!" What I would do was to tell my boys to go out on the lawn and have it out. I would referee to make sure no one got hurt. Never once did they do that and the fight was quickly settled.

There are nice things to remember about having that many boys. Only one played organized football but the rest had other interest, some in sports and some in music. Just that it had been a long time since I had recollections of the boys when they were young and this stirred the memory. I do recall one thing that to me is now very touching.

Years ago there was a movie called "The Sullivans". It was also about five brothers growing up back in the "good old days". All five joined the Navy in World War II and were assigned to the same ship. Tragically the ship was torpedoed and all five died together. Since then, family members can no longer serve in the same area. The ship in our Naval Park "The Sullivan" is named after them. In the movie, like I stated, it was about them as young boys and the trial and tribulations of five brothers. It was also fitting as I had four brothers, so there were five boys in our family.

There was one scene in the movie and was one of the highlights to me as I had a similar occurrence. The Sullivan father was a railroad man and when his train would pass the local water tower, the five boys would climb up and wave to him as he went by. In the last scene it shows Mr. Sullivan saluting the empty water tower as his train passed it.

What my boys would do was wait at the corner of our street for me to come home from work. We lived on 15th street on the West Side, a one way street. It ended at Hampshire so you could only turn right from the direction I came from. I worked on Niagara street and not that far from home. As I turned the corner onto Hampshire I could see my kids standing on this corner in anticipation of seeing my station wagon come into sight. As soon as they spotted the maroon family car they would immediately start jumping up and down in delight. Not just the boys but the girls also (I have three daughters). When I made the turn onto my street it was a race to our house which was located about two thirds of the way down the street. I would always go slow in the beginning and the race was equal. But the nasty streak in me would gun the car so I never lost.

I recall those times with emotion and when I pass that corner I still can envision my children standing there dancing and waiting for me. I was always under the impression they were happy to see me. Found out later it was because they were hungry and could not eat until I came home. I still think it was the former and even if it wasn't, I could pretend.

Hot Mama's Offers its Patrons Unique Food and Entertainment

vice and most of all, FUN. It is their specialty. Val takes pride in catering to the working class people of WNY. "I'd like people who work hard to have a place to go, be able to have some cocktails and a bite to eat, see some quality entertainment and get the best service. All at an affordable price" says Meli.

Valerie is also proud that Hot Mama's offers live entertainment, most of it for free, no cover charge (check out their event calendar at hotmamacanteen.com or their facebook page for updates and happenings).

"I can offer quality entertainment with no cover because the fabulous musicians that play here agree to my unique rate of pay. I cannot afford to 'guarantee' a band a rate of pay because it is too much of a gamble. The gracious performers who agree to my pay scale are true artists. They get paid a percentage of what is rung in the drawer while they are performing. If a customer likes what they hear, we encourage them to tip the entertainment. It's a win-win situation for everyone involved," she explains.

To go along with great music is great service. Customer service has always been the #1 top priority for Valerie, and that unique outlook is shared by all at Hot Mama's Canteen.

Meli brags, "I have put together an incredible staff that have the same passion and logic. Our service is surpassed by none. The best thing about it, it's real – not stiff. It's natural – not forced. I have an extraordinary staff – I am blessed."

Stop by during the Lenten season and try one of their fabulous fish fries made the way you like it.

ADOPT A PET
 This week's featured friend:
DUNCAN

Duncan would love to be your valentine. This big handsome four year old orange tabby boy has been declawed, but he doesn't let it bother him. This guy is very friendly and has a lot to say to visitors - especially if he thinks they'll let him out of his cage. Duncan enjoys the occasional sniff of catnip and loves head scratches. He is super sweet with people: has a smoker's rasp of a meow. Other cats seem to unnerve him and he is afraid of dogs. He doesn't like being caged at the shelter, but Duncan would be a big love bug in a home of his own with a kind and loving human! Duncan is at the SPCA Cat Adoption Center at Walden Galleria, just waiting to meet you. Stop by and say hello – you might just fall in love.

Tired of Buffalo Winters??

Why suffer through another Buffalo winter?

Need a place to go and live in Paradise during the cold and snowy months of the north? Become a snow bird, like me. I just happen to have a house available to buy for my friends who are sick of shoveling snow. It is a three bedroom, two bath home located in the friendly community of the Villages of Country Creek in Estero, Florida. Estero is in southwest Florida, the gulf side and much quieter and less congested than the east coast.

The house is on the market for $209,000 which is on the low side for single family homes in the area. That is based on the fact that the house next door, same model, but with a pool, sold for $265,000 last month. The price is firm until the first of March, at which time some upgrading is scheduled and will be added to the selling price. The home has been recently painted in and out and is clean. The kitchen is original, but needs to be upgraded, although it is still fully functional. It is rented and the lease expires on the first of March.

Over 1,400 square feet of space, with air conditioning and electric heat if needed. Tile floor in the living room, kitchen and dining area. Walk-in shower and closet in master bedroom.

The Villages of Country Creek is a well maintained, semi-gated community with an executive golf course, five tennis courts and five heated pools. We have a bocce league with five bocce courts and an active Wii bowling league. Wii bowling is well accepted and has 54 four member teams. Country Creek also has its own restaurant and bar with a club house for live entertainment and dinner theatre. Plenty to do and one has the option to be active or sit back in the sun and quietly read books.

The airport and beaches are fifteen minutes away. Three large shopping centers all containing the large retailers within five miles. All the major restaurant chains, family restaurants and grocery store chains within five miles. A large recreational park and indoor facility with three basketball courts within walking distance. Wonderful county library within walking distance offering books, movies, and assistance in all areas with free computers and internet access.

Sound like a bit of Paradise? It is and it is affordable with this house. If you are not ready to make the move, It could be rented for the season or annually for enough to cover the mortgage until you are ready.

(Never known to fail)
Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. There are none that can withstand your power. Oh, show me herein you are my mother. Oh Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3X). Holy Mother, I place this cause in your hands (3X). Holy Spirit, you who solve all problems, light all roads so that I can attain my goal. Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine.
The person must say this prayer 3 consecutive days. After 3 days, the request will be granted. This prayer must then be published after the favor is granted. C.J.D.
