

Parkside Contractors Fair Set For March 9th

The Parkside Contractors Fair will help you find the right team to start your springtime home improvement projects.

The Parkside Community Association is having a Contractor's Fair on Saturday, March 9th from 10 am - 2 pm in Jewett Hall at the Church of the Good Shepherd, 96 Jewett Parkway. Treat yourself to thoughts of the impending spring, and all the home improvement projects you can finally start.

From long deferred maintenance, weatherization, or finally getting that bathroom you've dreamed of, you'll want to make sure you choose the right team. There will be plumbers, electricians, carpenters and masons available to speak to. There will be lenders, non-profits, and architects on hand to walk you through your ideas. The event is free and open to the public, and will include how to make a home more energy efficient, and other related topics.

For more information visit the PCA on the web at www.parksidebuffalo.org.

Cost for registration is $36 and includes uniform, insurance, photo, league yearbook and a trophy to be awarded at the annual banquet.

If you are interested call Tovie Asarese, League Director at 885-7692 or visit him at 351 Grant Street near Potomac to register. Or you can visit us online at: www.westsideplayarea.com.

Springtime Home Improvement Tips

Home improvements are on the minds of many North Buffalo homeowners as spring approaches.

Quickly-emerging Springtime weather means it's time to evaluate your home's exterior. Owning a home means giving constant attention to the building products that go into protecting the structure of your house. While we'd like to believe items like our roof, siding and windows will last forever, that's not the case.

The first thing any homeowner needs to understand is that every element of your home's exterior, from the top of the roof down to the front entry door, will eventually need to be replaced. The key is to know when the time is right to invest in new products for your home. This means an ongoing evaluation of your home's current products, researching new product options and contacting professionals for support.

Tips for Evaluating Your Roof:

Using either a ladder or binoculars from across the street, look for problem arreas, such as missing or broken shingles, along with roofing tiles that may be "flapping" in the wind. These are all indications that a new roof may be in your future.

Check the sides of your roof. The southern exposure weathers significantly faster than the other sides of the roof, so make sure to carefully examine this area. Also, shallower pitches weather faster than steeper pitches. So

The Adventures of...

Rocket Man

by Doug Smith

‘Planet Oscar’

Rocket Man had not visited Planet Oscar since the year its inhabitants awarded “American Beauty” their yearly best-of-show prize, deciding then that if a plurality of Oscarites cherished this vile vat of vomica, he wanted no part of their world.

From time to time he and the First Mate will view the likes of “Blame It on Winn-Dixie” or, in 2012, “Life of Pi,” or, recently, “Quartet” at the Eastern Hills (it seemed better suited for the North Park.) For the most part, though, they watch movie ads in the radio room, look at each other and sigh, “looks like another one we’re gonna’ miss.”

But when their grandson’s final Cub Scout ceremony fell on the same weekend as Planet Oscar’s fly-by, and the Costly Daughter pleaded to stage a mini party, they found her gravity impossible to resist. Some observations from the flight deck:

For a world of people in the entertainment business, they sure have “dull” down to a science. Grumpy old William Shatner’s futuristic revelations to “host” Seth McFarlane seemed like tedium at the time, but the worst was yet to come...

Only on planet Oscar would they deem a song about insufficiently clad women uplifting, then unveil it well before bedtime, prompting the Costly Daughter to predict that the recent Cub Scout honoree would soon be Googling a four-letter palindrome. (From elsewhere in the wardroom: “Surely he knows.”)

How can any roll call of stars who died in the past year not include Andy Griffith? While Mayberry existed almost solely on TV, the sheriff had a fine film career including the outstandingly rebellious “A Face in the Crowd.”

While it seemed like some technical achievement to have the orchestra orbit several blocks away, this no doubt influence the dreadful sound balance in which even the likes of Adele Adkins could barely be heard over the music.

Shirley Bassey still belting out “Goldfinger” at 76 puts a new spin on “Golden Ager,” although Rocket Man couldn’t recall her British Isle intonation when first he heard it in 1964.

It seemed, in retrospect, a privilege to have seen “Life of Pi,” which won more statues than any other nominee.

Quentin Tarantino’s personal presentations projects a complete lack of respect for his clientele, and the feeling here is mutual.

Sorry she fell up the stairs, but by that hour SOMETHING had to happen.

Michele Obama announces the Best Picture winner? Why not? For decades, White Houses on both sides of the political aisle have welcomed championship athletes. It’s not about politics, it’s about the office.

Rocket Man has to wonder if and when he’ll ever land on Planet Oscar again, but in the family living room, he enjoyed the company much better than the show.

again, if your roof has a shallow pitch --- like a shed dormer --- make certain you can clearly see it to get a true indication of the condition of your roof.

Tips for Assessing Your Windows:

Evaluate the functionality of your current windows. If you have condensation between glass panes, the windows are hard to open or close, your energy bills are soaring, or if there are drafts coming in around the window units, then it's time to seriously consider replacement windows.

Determine how many panes of glass are in your windows. Single-paned windows are the least energy efficient. You can replace them with double- or triple-paned ENERGY STAR compliant windows to enhance energy efficiency and make your home more comfortable during all seasons.

Look at the frames of your windows. If they're made of a product that needs constant maintenance like wood, you're probably spending a good deal of time scraping paint and repainting every year or so. An investment in vinyl-framed windows would be smart since these low-maintenance frames eliminate maintenance hassles.

Tips for Knowing When to Replace a Front Door:

If you can see light around your main entry door from the inside, the door is hard to close or lock, or the door itself is warped, it's time to consider a new door.

Even if you can't see light, air may be moving through gaps in the weather stripping at a surprising rate. On a very cold or hot day, hold the back of your hand an inch or so away from the bottom and perimeter of your door. If you can feel air moving or a significant cold spot, that's a signal your existing door could benefit from better sealing.

Think about the weather conditions your home's door faces along with your energy bills. If either run to the extreme, consider replacing your entry door with a high-performance fiberglass door (which can have four times more insulation than wood doors). Look for a door with enhanced weatherstripping, corner seal pad, door bottom sweep and profiled sill that all work together to provide strength and stability in your entry door.

Tips for Evaluating Trim Features of the Home:

Take a top-down look at your home. Most houses have louvers placed high above the attic or garage space to allow ventilation in those areas. And, most houses have wooden louvers that can rot with time. Replacing louvers with insect-resistant and rot-resistant synthetic louvers can improve the home's appearance and functionality.

If you have the opportunity to replace your entry door or windows, make sure to finish off the job with stylish window and door trim. Lightweight and easy to install, weather-resistant synthetic mouldings, shutters and entryway surrounds made of durable urethane or PVC are a definite do-it-yourself project for any homeowner.

Lovely Sassy caught a cold at the shelter, and is now recuperating in foster care, where her true personality has revealed itself: she is a happy, friendly cat who gets along with the resident cats and dogs in her foster home. She would fit well into any household looking for a lovable, affectionate slightly older female cat. She could use a touch more weight on her, so if you have a knack for fattening kitties up, Sassy is your girl! We think that she is about 3-4 years old. LOST STREAM MAP

The STREAM & LAKE MAP OF NEW YORK resembles another map—known to Pennsylvania anglers as the "Lost Stream Map." The "Stream Map of Pennsylvania" was completed in 1965 after a thirty-year effort by Howard Higbee, a former Penn State Professor. Professor Higbee succeeded in creating a map of the highest detail possible—a map that shows every stream and lake. He painstakingly plotted by hand, the location of 45,000 miles of streams onto a 3 by 5 foot map.

The map sold extremely well—until it was lost several years after it first appeared in print. Incredibly, the printer entrusted with the original drawing and printing plates, declared bankruptcy, then carelessly hauled Higbee's 30 years of work to a landfill.

The few remaining dog-eared copies became a prized fisherman's possession. Professor Higbee was offered $400 for one of his last maps. And state agencies were forced to keep their copies under lock and key.

Experts told Professor Higbee that reprints were impossible, because the maps were printed in non-photographic blue. Then, in 1991, at the age of 91, Howard Higbee's dream came true. Computers made it possible to reprint the map. Holding an updated map, Howard said, "I never thought I'd live to see this day."

Then, by combining Professor Higbee's knowledge with computer technology—the STREAM & LAKE MAP OF NEW YORK was created.

RAVE REVIEWS

"It is in showing where to find out-of-the-way trout streams that makes the map such a treasure to the fisherman."

—Joe Gordon, TRIBUNE-DEMOCRAT, Johnstown, PA

"I have one of the original Higbee's Stream Map of Pennsylvania on my wall behind my desk. It's the best thing available as far as streams are concerned. I use it all the time for reference. E-Scrap for Camp Drive Benefiting Camp Good Days Starts in April

The 3rd annual E-Scrap for Camp drive benefiting Camp Good Days is beginning in the month of April 2013.

E-Scrap for Camp is sponsored by Sunnking Electronics Recycling who makes a monetary donation to Camp Good Days for every pound of old and unwanted electronics collected from registered drop-off sites at Buffalo and Rochester area businesses.

Since the first E-Scrap for Camp drive in 2011, $18,000 have been raised through 569,562 pounds of recycled technology.

The Western New York-based Camp Good Days is a not-for-profit organization founded over 30 years ago by a father trying to help his daughter. Camp Good Days offers support, happiness, and hope to the children and families who have been affected by cancer.

Camp Good Days relies on donations and fundraising events like E-Scrap for Camp to offer its programs and services free of charge.

Starting in April, VoIP Supply is encouraging employees, friends, and neighbors to drop off some old junk and help a great cause.

We have been very fortunate to have such outstanding support from Sunnking," said Lisa Donato Booz, Regional Director of Camp Good Days.

"Their funds have helped us continue to provide fun and laughter for many children dealing with cancer, which we are beyond grateful for. It is always so inspiring to see businesses and individuals come together to support our kids. Not to mention, we are safely recycling old electronics for free. It really is a great opportunity for both the Buffalo and Rochester community!"
