

Getting Ready For

HALLOWEEN

It's been said that Halloween has increased in popularity so much that it falls second to only Christmas in terms of decorating. North Buffalo is no exception with houses like this on Commonwealth Avenue.

You see them around the neighborhoods at this time every fall: The house that goes overboard for Halloween.

A strand of orange lights and a creepy spider aren't enough for some people. Motorized skeletons, creepy music and homemade headstones hit the spot during Halloween season.

Do you go overboard decorating your house for October 31st, or have you seen a ghastly display nearby? We want to see and share them too.

Send your pictures of your favorite Halloween decorated house and details about the best parts of the display.

Email your photos to editor.buffalorocket@gmail.com.

Parkside Community Association Holding Annual Halloween Party

The Parkside Community Association's Children's Halloween Party offers a safe alternative to trick-or-treating for kids 12 and younger.

Come all ye goblins, ghosts and ghouls to the Annual Parkside Community Association's Children's Halloween Party on Saturday, October 31st from 5:30 pm to 7:00 pm at the Church of the Good Shepherd, 96 Jewett Pkwy, at the corner of Jewett Parkway and Summit Avenue in Buffalo.

The Halloween party offers a safe alternative to "Trick or Treating" for youngsters, twelve and younger, throughout the city. This wildly popular event is free and open to the public. Come enjoy a series of games, crafts, music and treats to start off your night of trick-or-treating.

For further information, contact the Parkside Community Association at 838-1240 or visit the PCA on the web at www.parksidebuffalo.org.

Elmwood Village to Host Safe Trick-or-Treat Event

On Sunday, October 25th from 1:00 pm to 3:00 pm, small businesses on Elmwood Avenue will participate in the Elmwood Village Association's 'Safe Trick-or-Treat' event.

Parents, bring your little monsters who are 10 years of age and under, in costume, to Elmwood Avenue to collect candy from local businesses. Participating businesses will display Safe Trick-Or-Treat posters advertising 'Get Your Treats Here' in their windows.

Happy Halloween!

Participating businesses along Elmwood Avenue will hand out treats to kids in costume this Sunday.

These Are the People in Your Neighborhood...

Fire Fighter Dan Milovich has been with the Buffalo Fire Department for 19-1/2 years. He is based in Riverside at Engine 26 on Tonawanda St. and Progressive Ave.

Fire fighter Milovich would like to remind everyone of the importance of being diligent. Remember that assume that if a candle is in a jar that it is self-contained and safe. It can be knocked over and ignite anything in its path.

Electric blankets and electric heaters need to be replaced periodically. They need to be checked for any fraying in the coils or wiring at the beginning of the season and re-checked often throughout the season. A quick check prior to use is best.

Fire fighter Milovich is attending lieutenant school as of this writing. We at the Buffalo Rocket wish him the best of luck!

The Adventures of...

Rocket Man

by Doug Smith

Maddie's Last Meow

It really wasn't supposed to happen this way. After farewelling three four-footers in a year, Rocket Man and First Mate's systems needed relief from maintenance and grief.

But a neighbor who had endured much other sadness, caught them in orbit and told them this: She had two reasonably civilized cats, young but well past kittenhood. They were, her physician had told her, making her ill. They could not stay in her house. We had a reputation of partiality to animals and could we, would we?

After much deliberation and an overnighter – they quickly adjusted to the quarter-hour threat of our chiming mantel clock – we took them in, Casey, a bright dusky activist who we swear was part border collie, and Maddie, a bulky, sullen calico. Excuse the profile, but calicos are weird.

While Casey – gone 3 ½ years now – was the livelier of the two, it was Maddie who first made her presence physically known. We returned home from a baseball game to find all the throw rugs overturned and her glaring out from a little hideout she had sculpted from one, as if to say, "OK, you've been gone four hours, would you like to try for a day?"

It was the summer of 2002, Rocket Man has it in his log. Maddie's timing was other-worldly. Shortly before we embarked on a long vacation, we found this sliver on the floor. It turned out to be one of her teeth. She needed dentistry, immediately, a mass extraction. It was the first time we ever asked the Internet a question: "How many teeth does a cat have?" (Thirty.)

Despite many health issues, Maddie persevered and will be missed by Rocket Man and First Mate.

While none of this quelled her appetite (one vet reproached us for her weight, as unfit to care for her), other medical issues arose – vision, digestive, herpes, blood pressure, diabetes. She persevered – it was wondrous to see her gingerly approach the living-room runner, aware that the slight change in elevation now required a 30-degree turn toward the litter box.

In time she was being tended to nine times a day. Frequently we'd see her sprawled on her back, toes skyward. What now? "That means," a vet told us, "That she's content."

Although never affectionate, she would find the will to launch herself onto the bed most nights.

Could she parse how much it would hurt to jump back to the floor? And up to this past week, we realized we hadn't seen her on her back for a long, long time. She made her last trip to the hospital, where a senior vet said he had never seen a cat survive so long on insulin (13 years), nor one whose body had so resisted the comforting final dose. She'd have been 17 today.

What do we miss most about Maddie? How much she needed us, that's what.

ADOPT A PET Sponsored By The Buffalo Rocket

This Week's Featured Friend:

JULIET

Do you know someone who recently lost a beloved companion? Juliet is such a sweet girl and at 10 years young would make a great "Senior for a Senior" friend ... for cuddling on the cold winter nights ahead!! She is sweet and affectionate, declawed, and neat as a pin. She can tolerate other laid back cats and just digs dogs!! She would just prefer to be in a house without a dominant cat challenging her space since, without claws, she cannot defend herself. She is available for adoption from the City of Buffalo Animal Shelter. Please email her foster mom at KViz@aol.com for more information about how to meet and adopt Juliet. Pet ID: 29467748
