Reinhart Benching Draws Attention

by George Kuhn

Sam Reinhart was glued to the bench for the entire game in Tuesday night 3-1 loss to the Columbus Blue Jackets. Ostensibly for missing a team meeting, the benching appears to be a public manifestation of the conflict brewing internally between coach Dan Bylsma and some of his young players including Jack Eichel.

"Sam Reinhart violated a team policy and the discipline was not playing in tonight's game. We're going to move forward from here. It's disappointing, but it happened, we dealt with it and we're going to move on from here. We're part of a team. We do things as a team. That's hopefully the lesson," coach Bylsma commented after the game.

As is typical of young talented forwards in their first few NHL seasons, the attention paid to defensive responsibilities is secondary to their offensive game. After all these players made it to the big leagues because of their offensive skills, not because they box out well in the defensive zone. But NHL coaches know that defense wins games so they seek to create a balance in their young stars game.

When he coached in Pittsburgh, Bylsma was known to harp on the defensive deficiencies of his star players Sydney Crosby and Evgeni Malkin. After six seasons the players got tired of listening to the criticisms and Bylsma was dismissed following a few disappointing play-off performances. Similar conflicts with his young stars are reportedly developing here.

This is reminiscent of the conflict between Vincent Lecavalier and coach John Tortorella in Tampa Bay. Lecavalier was the number one overall draft pick in 1998, Tampa Bays version of Jack Eichel. Torts was very hard on his young players and Lecavalier at one point demanded a trade. But management backed up their coach and told their young star to get with the program. Eventually Lecavalier made a commitment to play better defense and play more physically and Tampa won a Stanley Cup in 1994.

Lets hope the story ends the same way here.

Sam Rhinehart had a front seat for Tuesday's game in Columbus.

MIMI

Meet Mimi, a fun loving girl who has been waiting patiently for her forever home. She is approximately 3 years old and well past the wild child stage. She delights in meeting new people. She's game for new and fun adventures as long as she can be with her human friends. She enjoys taking long walks and playing in the yard. This snuggly girl is well-mannered and already knows some basic commands. But, like all dogs, she wouldn't mind attending a refresher class to be in tip-top form. Mimi relishes her meals and doesn't always like to share, for this reason we recommend a home without small children. Mimi is looking for a home where she can be the one and only cherished pet. She wants to spend her days lavishing you with her affection and adoration without the distraction of canine or feline siblings.

Buffalo Zoo Gears Up For Busy Camp Season

Zoo Camp provides unique animal experiences that foster a love for animals.

The Buffalo Zoo is preparing to host hundreds of Western New York children for their annual spring and summer Zoo Camps.

For more than 30 years the Buffalo Zoo has been offering children in-depth animal adventures at their Zoo Camps. Guided by the Zoo's educational staff, Zoo camp has, over the years, offered thousands of Western New York children the opportunity to experience the Zoo in a fun and educational way.

By far the largest education program offered by the Buffalo Zoo, Zoo Camp provides unique animal experiences that foster a love for animals with the additional goal to instill a sense of wildlife conservation awareness at the same time.

"Our Zoo Camps are such a great way for young children to have fun exploring the Zoo while we sneak in a bit of learning about nature and conservation," said Tiffany Vanderwerf, the Zoo's Curator of Education. "The success of the camps and the number of repeat campers we see is a testament to the outstanding work our Education Department does to develop top-notch camper experiences."

Each day of each week-long session of Zoo Camp includes themed workshops, arts and crafts, guided tours to exhibits specific to the day's theme, live animal presentations, and loads of group games and activities.

Spring Camp will be held from April 10-14 and runs from 9:00 a.m. – 3:30 p.m. each day. Summer Camp runs from July 10 through August 25, Monday – Friday 9:00 a.m. – 3:30 p.m.

For more information about Zoo Camp please call (716)-995-6128 or visit buffalozoo.org

Dr. Donna Fernandes Honored as Citizen of the Month

and leadership of the Buffalo Zoo to make it one of the best zoos in the country under her guidance.

"It is my great honor and privilege to recognize and thank Donna Fernandes for her many years of service at the Buffalo Zoo. Donna has not only been the zoo's leader and public figure, but the engine that has made it go, helping to make the Buffalo Zoo one of the premier zoos in the nation and a true local treasure," said Legislator Savage.

Dr. Fernandes joined the Buffalo Zoo in 2000 to become the first female President in its entire 142 year history, and her leadership was vital in the Zoo earning accreditation from the prestigious Association of Zoos and Aquariums, being one of only 232 institutions worldwide that meet the Association's standards.

"I would like to express my gratitude to Legislator Peter Savage and the entire Erie County Legislature for honoring me in this way. I am also grateful for the incredible financial support that the County has provided to the Buffalo Zoo during my tenure," stated Dr. Fernandes.

Dr. Fernandes' tenure is distinguished by the Buffalo Zoo's undertaking of rebuilding its urban facility to create and renovate exhibits coupled with adding conservation education for visitors. Over the last decade under Dr. Fernandes' leadership, the Zoo was able to raise and secure $50 million in capital funds for zoo revitalization projects, including the opening of several major exhibits including Vanishing Animals, EcoStation, Otter Creek, Sea Lion Cove, M&T Bank Rainforest Falls, the Delta Sonic Heritage Farm, Arctic Edge, and a new entry complex.

Dr. Fernandes has also set the stage for expansion plans to continue in the future, with the next phase of the Zoo's revitalization being a multi-million renovation of its historic Amphibian and Reptile House with state-of-the-art exhibits. Dr. Fernandes is retiring from her role as President and CEO of the Buffalo Zoo after serving for 17 years.

Stream & Lake Map of New York

The STREAM & LAKE MAP OF NEW YORK resembles another map--known to Pennsylvania anglers as the "Lost Stream Map."

It was completed in 1965 after a 30 year effort by Howard Higbee, a former Penn State Professor.

Professor Higbee painstakingly plotted by hand, the location of 45,000 miles of streams onto the map. It sold extremely well - until the printer declared bankruptcy and hauled Higbee's work to the landfill.

But reprints were impossible because the maps were printed in non-photographic blue. Higbee was even offered $400 for one of his last maps. And state agencies were forced to keep their copies under lock and key.

Then, at the age of 91, Howard Higbee's dream came true.

Computers made it possible to reprint the map.

Then the STREAM & LAKE MAP OF NEW YORK was created.

Why every angler and boater needs this map

RAVE REVIEWS

"It is in showing where to find out-of-the-way trout streams that makes the map such a treasure to the fisherman."
—Joe Gordon, TRIBUNE-DEMOCRAT, Johnstown, PA

"I have one of the original Higbee's Stream Map of Pennsylvania on my wall behind my desk. It's the best thing available as far as streams are concerned. I use it all the time for reference. I don't know of anything more extensive and it is the most accurate map out there as far as streams are concerned."
—Dave Wolf, PA Fish and Boat Commission
