Playing Catch With Friends!

By Bill Snyder

The chance to play baseball again for eight year old Lev Schneiderman this summer almost didn't happen. Just before he and his teammates were ready to open their season on the Braves team in the Hertel North Park Youth Baseball League in early May, Schneiderman suddenly became very ill after attending a family function.

According to his father, Kurt, he said his son contracted a debilitating virus that left him weak and bed-ridden for weeks. "My wife and I, we rushed him to Women and Children's Hospital and they ran some tests. We were really scared because he had been in perfect health up to this point in his young life. Neither of us could imagine what caused this condition.

A student at the Elmwood Village Charter School, Schneiderman needed to be home-schooled for the remainder of the year while also receiving physical therapy from the West Side Hospital known for its care of thousands of Western New Yorkers.

A third year player in the North Buffalo League, Schneiderman fell in love with baseball after watching it on TV with his Dad as a toddler. The two would play catch with each other while the games were on. Surprisingly, this bond would later help in the rehabilitation of his young sons life.

Sabres Hockey
SPORTS
by George Kuhn

Eichel's Ascendancy And Contract

When Jack Eichel was drafted 2nd overall behind Connor McDavid in the NHL's 2015 entry draft, he was expected to form a rivalry as two generational players much like Sydney Crosby and Alex Ovechkin did early in their careers. But the rivalry hasn't exactly developed as planned.

While McDavid has been acknowledged as the leagues best player with the Hart trophy as MVP, the Ted Lindsay Trophy as the league's best player and the Art Ross trophy as scoring champion, Eichel is still waiting to crack the 60 point mark. Last season he missed 21 games with injury and put up 57 points in 61 games to finish 12th overall in points per game at 0.93 PPG.

Big things are expected from Eichel in 2017-18 and 85 points or 1.04 PPG is not unrealistic. Eichel is heading into the last year of his entry level contract but he and the Sabres are presently not agreeable on a contract extension. While the team would be wise to lock up their franchise player for eight more years, the salary appears to be the sticking point.

With his present production Eichel probably warrants an $8.5 million dollar salary, comparable to Leon Draisitl's deal with Edmonton where the 77 point scorer earns $68 million over eight years, an average of $8.5 million per season. This is considerably less than Connor McDavid's $100 million eight year deal which averages $12.5 million per

“Lev would literally have to crawl around on the floor in the beginning to get anywhere,” he recalled. “I ended up having to carry him around to most places. We got him a wheelchair then and were also using a wagon. The doctors at the hospital were just as perplexed as we were, trying to diagnose his condition.”

Schneiderman also received support from the coaches and teammates on his Son’s teams. Not only was Lev a part of the Second Minor Braves team in Shoshone Park, he was also on the 8U Blaze Travel team. A number of boys played together on both teams including Henry Rittling, Easton Buchholz, Charlie Stewart, Gavin DiGuseppe and Milo Armstrong. The elder Schneiderman contends that his son would not have returned to the diamond as fast as he did without their friendship and concern.

“It’s a beautiful thing watching teammates develop a friendship afterward. These boys helped my son as did their parents with their care and concern. I can’t thank them enough.”

By mid July, when North Buffalo hosted the 8U Babe Ruth Tournament, Schneiderman had returned to the Park, feeling much better.

The Blaze were scheduled to face a Lou Gehrig Team and coaches were suddenly in need of a pitcher midway through the game. Leading at the time, Schneiderman went in and threw two scoreless inning, striking out five. It turned out to be a victory for North Buffalo but more importantly, a victory for the Schneiderman family this Summer. “This network of support from a community is impressive,” said Schneiderman. “I was never any good at sports when I was Lev’s age. But baseball brings us all together and it’s a beautiful moment.”

Lev is thrilled to be hanging out with his friends in the park, especially to be back in uniform and playing the game he loves.

Stream & Lake Map of New York

The STREAM & LAKE MAP OF NEW YORK resembles another map--known to Pennsylvania anglers as the "Lost Stream Map."

It was completed in 1965 after a 30 year effort by Howard Higbee, a former Penn State Professor.

Professor Higbee painstakingly plotted by hand, the location of 45,000 miles of streams onto the map. It sold extremely well - until the printer declared bankruptcy and hauled Higbee's work to the landfill.

But reprints were impossible because the maps were printed in non-photographic blue. Higbee was even offered $400 for one of his last maps. And state agencies were forced to keep their copies under lock and key.

Then, at the age of 91, Howard Higbee's dream came true. Computers made it possible to reprint the map.

Then the STREAM & LAKE MAP OF NEW YORK was created.

Why every angler and boater needs this map

Professor Higbee's Stream & Lake Map of New York is the first and only highly detailed map of its kind. The 3.5-foot-by-4.5-foot New York map shows 65,000 miles of streams plus lakes.

RAVE REVIEWS

"It is in showing where to find out-of-the-way trout streams that makes the map such a treasure to the fisherman."
—Joe Gordon, TRIBUNE-DEMOCRAT, Johnstown, PA

"I have one of the original Higbee's Stream Map of Pennsylvania on my wall behind my desk. It's the best thing available as far as streams are concerned. I use it all the time for reference. PRAYER TO ST. JUDE

Most holy apostle St. Jude Thaddeus faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the name of the traitor who delivered your beloved Master in to the hands of the enemies has caused you to be forgotten by many, but the Church honors and invokes you universally as the patron of hopeless cases and of things despaired of. Pray for me who am so needy; make use, I implore you of that particular privilege accorded to you to bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolations and succor of heaven in all my necessities, tribulations and sufferings particularly (here mention your petition) ... and that I may bless God with you and all the elect throughout eternity. I promise you, O blessed Jude to be ever mindful of this great favor, and I will never cease to honor you as my special and powerful patron and to do all in my power to encourage devotion to you. Amen.

green space initiative at Shoshone Park.

The initiative has been dubbed FROGS or Friends of Green Spaces.

The collaborative group of volunteers representing the community organizations kicked off the pilot project at the Shoshone Park gardens facing Hertel Avenue today.

Under the auspices of Andy Raab, Deputy Commissioner for Parks and Recreation for the City of Buffalo, the volunteers weeded and prepared the soil in the gardens which are bordered by large boulders. Mickey Vertino from the University Heights Collaborative had done some preliminary work previously with a group of college students.

The partnership's goal is to get all of the gardens ready for spring planting.

To top off the efforts, Joe Dash donated mums from his Hertel store which were planted in the gardens already prepared.
