Blessing of Animals

Bishop Malone will bless your animal friend on his front lawn on Saturday

Bishop Richard J. Malone, bishop of Buffalo, is calling all creatures great and small for a blessing of animals on his front lawn. The blessing will take place at 77 Oakland Place at 9 am on Saturday, September 30th, to mark the upcoming Feast of St. Francis of Assisi.

“At this time of year, let’s thank God for Creation,” said Bishop Malone. “Let’s work to maintain its integrity through our concern for the environment. Let’s care for our animal friends. They’re such reminders to us of God’s gentleness and love.”

The Catechism of the Catholic Church reminds us that animals are God’s creatures, as we are. It goes on to say that animals give Glory to God just by their very being. The blessing of animals has become an annual custom in the Church, as a way to remember the love that St. Francis of Assisi had for Creation.

FREE Community Events

The Independent Health Foundation is continuing its successful program, Good for the Neighborhood® with four free community events in October. This program brings health screenings, educational information and a free farmers market to under served neighborhoods in our community. You do not need to be an Independent Health member to attend.

The first event of the the event will also feature a free farmers market with fresh fruits and vegetables. Healthy recipes and a voucher to use at the farmers market will be available, and participants are encouraged to talk to the many local health experts in attendance to learn more about living a healthy lifestyle. Fun, engaging activities will also be available for children.

Additionally, partic-

New Regime, New Captain

Brian Gionta had been captain of the Buffalo Sabres for the past three seasons. With Gionta no longer in the Sabres organization, there is some speculation as to who might serve as the new captain. Several players stand out as having the qualities essential to take on this leadership role.

As the teams best player, Jack Eichel is naturally the focus of a tremendous amount of media attention. Dealing with the media in the locker room after games is a major area of responsibility for the captain. To his credit Eichel has acknowledged in training camp that he must be better at that. As the face of the franchise he will always be in the spotlight. But at age 20 it's probably best to not put the added responsibility of the captaincy on his shoulders and allow him to focus on developing as a player.

Since his arrival in Buffalo in 2015 Ryan O'Reilly has been seen as the heir apparent to the captaincy. He routinely stands in the room after a loss and addresses the media after many teammates retreat to the inner sanctum off limits to reporters. As one of the teams best players, O'Reilly carries the high profile often associated with the captaincy.

The return of Jason Pominville has looked good on the ice so far with the smooth skating veteran looking good at right wing on the top line with Eichel and Evander Kane. Pominville of course was the captain here in 2011-12 and 2012-13. While he wasn't exactly the fiery captain in the Mark Messier style who as captain of the New York Rangers reportedly once threatened to beat up Peter Nedved in the locker room if he didn't pick up his play, Pominville was the go to guy for the media and spokesman for the team and was a natural in that role. His return has brought an expectation of a new veteran leadership group on the Sabres.

Then there is Kyle Okposo who quietly goes about his job in an unspectacular fashion. He was the teams best player early in the season last year while Jack Eichel was injured and out of the lineup. He is fully recovered from his health problem and that's good news for him and his family and the Sabres family as well. Okposo is a throwback of sorts who patrols his wing and is so strong on his skates that he absorbs and rolls off bodychecks so well that the hitter usually ends up worse off for the attempt. He lacks high end speed but is highly skilled and reliably produces 20+ goals and 55+ points. At age 29 he is substantially older than the teams young players, is married and exudes a stable presence in and around the locker room.

With Okposo as captain along with Pominville and O'Reilly as alternates, the Sabres leadership team would be in good hands to contend for a playoff spot.

Shoshone Football Lives On

It's a new season for Sports in Western New York and North Buffalo is no exception. A baseball or softball in the air has been replaced by a "pig-skin," thrown and caught and carried. Football is the name of the game and, surprisingly, Shoshone Park is still at the center of it all.

You've heard the expression: "The apple doesn't fall far from the tree?" Well, that couldn't be any more appropriate for Williamsville East senior Jake Falzone, in the Class A North Division in High School Football. This past Friday night, the Flames played their first home game on a brand new field, taking on the undefeated Sweet Home Panthers. Both teams featured brand new coaches along the sidelines this year and despite the fact the Panthers got off to a great start, Falzone and new head coach Mike Torrillo weren't going to let a division rival come in and ruin their opener.

With a new coach comes a new opportunity and Falzone, the senior running back was up for the challenge. After a scoreless first quarter, the Flames scored first when Falzone caught a screen pass from QB Colson Skorka and raced 80 yards for a touchdown. A 7-0 lead at halftime propelled East to keep the Panthers off the scoreboard until the fourth quarter and the 21-7 final.

"He is more 'North Buffalo' than Williamsville," said his father Chris in a phone interview Monday night. "He takes after my Uncle Larry and his Uncle Larry and a cousin, Luke, who used to play for Williamsville South. He's got the athleticism, the heart, the attitude and toughness that my family has possessed while playing football."

Falzone himself is no stranger to the football field. As a boy growing up in the Amherst/Parkside neighborhood, he and his two brothers, Larry and Michael, played in Shoshone Park in the late 1970's and early 1980's while their father, Mike Sr. was a league commissioner for the Shoshone Junior Football League for over 20 years.

"We were the Shoshone Warriors, the Shoshone Savages and the Shoshone Redskins when I played and my Dad coached me and my brothers on the 80 yard football field they measured out for us each season," he said proudly. "If North Buffalo still had a youth football league like I had, Jake would have been playing there before high school. It was a great time."

His father Mike spent countless hours in the Park, watching over four young football teams playing on Saturdays in the fall. He and two other men, Bob Ryan and Frank Fusco and quite possibly Sam Chianta, took hold of young boys from the community and taught them how to block, tackle and throw a football just blocks away from St. Rose of Lima Church on Parkside.

"We made a ton of friends over those years," said Falzone. "There was Michael Mazzara, Peter Paccillo, Jack Tracy, and Joe Tomasello... and that's just a few. I could go on and on about all these guys."

With three more games left in the Flames season, Falzone has no idea how his son's team will finish in the eight team division but one thing is for sure. "I'm proud of my son for sticking it out through his four years in this school. We're not as big as Williamsville North or South, but Torrillo reminds me of the coaches I had when I was Chris' age and that alone speaks loud for anything that can happen."

Next up is North Tonawanda, September 28th before a game against Kenmore West, October 7th at 2 pm. Other area high school games this weekend include Kenmore East at Sweet Home, Canisius at Cardinal O'Hara, St. Joe's plays at home to Cardinal Mooney of Ohio, Bennett and Hutch-Tech play home games to Clarence and West Seneca East. McKinley travels to Hamburg and South Park plays Iroquois.

South Park is undefeated at 3-0 in Class A South league play and 4-0 overall. Canisius is undefeated in Monsignor Martin at 2-0 but 3-1 overall. Their only loss has been to Bishop McDevitt (PA) in a non-league game by just seven points. Bennett, Burgard and Hutch-Tech are 2-2 overall after four weeks.

Jake Falzone carries the football for Williamsville East in a 27-24 win over rival Williamsville South in a game played Friday September 15th at Williamsville South. James Manna, of South is in on the stop. It was the Flames first win of the season after two losses.

As those who have read this column in the past know I have a home in Florida. It is located in a little town called Estero located between Naples and Ft. Myers. Most never heard of either of those cities until Hurricane Irma passed over both of them on a path of major destruction. I personally was not there but some of my friends and neighbors who survived were and told me of the horrors they endured.

I called my closest neighbor, who lives directly across the street from my house, before the storm hit. He being an active 89 year old and his 86 year old wife live there in a big house by themselves. In spite of their age they seem to live a full life. My concern was their safety and what options were available. He said a shelter was out as his wife uses a walker and they decided to ride out the storm in the house with hurricane shutters and a stock of food and water. Considering that two Hurricanes had hit that area before, Wilma and Charlie, he was a hurricane veteran and knew the agenda. Little did he know what was in store for him and his wife.

He called me the night of the storm when the eye of the storm had just passed over. The storm was so intense it sounded like a train was passing through his living room. Then suddenly it was quiet and calm. Only to once again have the tail end pass over. Eventually the storm passed and Irma was over, but the misery was just starting for my friends in that area. Those who stayed at home and some who chose to go to a shelter.

First the electric was gone. No air conditioning in 90 degree heat for days. No refrigeration so your food spoiled. No ability to cook as there is no natural gas. If you had propane it did not last long. The flood water was up to the doorstep and four feet deep in the street so leaving was out of the question. The toilet did not flush. My friend had reached the desperate stage, so another neighbor got a golf cart and was able to reach his house from the golf course behind his house. Took him to a 7/11 in the area as it was the only thing open. He was able to get enough supplies to carry him until the water went down and the electric was restored. Never again, as it was a totally nightmare. On one of our calls he said it was just good to talk to someone else other than his wife. He is well and good now but is not ready for another storm.

Now we had another friend who chose to go to a shelter. This was another disaster. It was mostly a local hockey arena and not equipped to hold 6,000 people for three days. Our friends had to spend the three days in a seat. Having to eat, sleep and live in a seat built to hold a spectator for a few hours. Food, water and sleep was not plentiful and again the toilets did not flush. Who would think that there would come a time when you cheer and are happy to see a toilet flush.

They survived also but both people said never again. It was much too horrible an experience. Florida is a beautiful place to be in the winter and I enjoy the warm weather. Being a "snowbird" we are not there during the hurricane season so we have not experienced what the year round residents have. Not sure how long they can last through this. By the way, my house is still there but has sustained substantial damage. Will have to go down to take care of it, hope there is no more Irma in the future.

Senator on Your Street

New York State Senator Chris Jacobs announced today regular community hours at satellite locations across the 60th Senate District for the month of October. Jacobs is calling the initiative the “Senator on Your Street” program and said its purpose is to provide another vehicle for residents to interact with their state government.

“The 60th State Senate District stretches from the City of Tonawanda in the north down to the Town of Brant in the southern tier,” said Jacobs. “In a district with this large a geography, community hours in satellite locations will enable my staff to work directly in the communities we serve, while creating another avenue for residents who are seeking assistance to communicate with my office.”

Representatives from Jacobs’ staff will be available between the hours of 9:30 am – 11:30 am, and the days and locations are as follows:

Wednesday, October 11th – Tonawanda City Hall, 200 Niagara Street, Tonawanda.

Thursday, October 12th – Municipal Building, 2919 Delaware Avenue, Kenmore.

Thursday, October 12th – North West Buffalo Community Center, 155 Lawn Avenue, Buffalo .

Pumpkin Pancakes

INGREDIENTS 5 (2 pancakes) Servings

1 egg
1 2/3 cups milk
1/2 cup canned pumpkin
2 tablespoons melted butter
1 teaspoon McCormick® Pure Vanilla Extract
2 cups flour
2 tablespoons packed brown sugar
1 tablespoon McCormick® Pumpkin Pie Spice
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt

DIRECTIONS Beat egg in medium bowl. Add milk, pumpkin, butter and vanilla; mix well. Mix remaining ingredients in large bowl until well blended. Add pumpkin mixture; stir just until blended. Let stand 5 minutes.

Pour 1/4 cup of batter per pancake onto preheated lightly greased griddle or skillet. Cook 1 to 2 minutes per side or until golden brown, turning when pancakes begin to bubble.
