Buffalo Sabres Playoff Potential

The new regime at One Seymour Knox Plaza brings a pedigree of playoff success. GM Jason Botterill enjoyed back to back Stanley Cup championships with the Pittsburgh Penguins in 2016 and 2017 while new coach Phil Housley is fresh off last seasons finals appearance against Botterill's Pen's as an assistant coach with the Nashville Predators. But the success off the Buffalo Sabres in 2017-18 will largely depend on the players on the ice.

The defense needed a major upgrade after allowing the most shots on goal of any team in the NHL last season. New D-Men Marco Scandella, Nathan Beaulieu, and Victor Antipin represent a significant upgrade over last seasons regulars like Cody Franson, Justin Falk and Taylor Fedun. The influx of talent has been significant enough to assign the organization's young prodigy Brendan Guhle to the development team in Rochester where he will no doubt receive a great deal of playing time to prepare him for promotion to the NHL.

The question is how much will the team improve with these new players in the lineup. The acquisition of Scandella is seen as a significant move. Scandella was the number five D-Man with the Minnesota Wild but is slotted in on the number one pair in Buffalo with Rasmus Ristolainen.

Minnesota is a good team that has made the playoffs for five consecutive seasons from 2013-2017. They won one round each in 2014 and 2015 and were eliminated in the opening round in 2013, 2016 and 2017. They are a good team that doesn't make any noise in the post season. Scandella is a good player but has been unable to break into the top four on a defense corps that is pretty good. After two consecutive first round exits, the Wild has determined that they can move forward without him. The move is a way to clear some salary cap space so the Wild can re sign pending restricted free agents Nino Niederreiter and Mikael Granlund. Scandella had four goals and nine assist for 13 points last season in a mostly defensive role.

Nathan Beaulieu was paired with Shea Weber on the first unit for Montreal when the 2016-17 season opened. But his season was full of ups and downs and ended on a downer when he was a healthy scratch for Montreal's last play-off game. Montreal traded Beaulieu because they didn't want to lose him to the Vegas Golden Knights in the expansion draft. They traded him to Buffalo to get something in return, although the third-round draft pick was a reflection of the former first round picks falling value. He had four goals and 24 assists in 74 regular season games and should provide depth for the power play which was ranked number one in the NHL last season.

Victor Antipin comes over from Russia KHL where he scored 6 goals and 18 assists for 24 points last season. His smooth skating style should help the Sabres with retrievals in their defensive zone which was a major weakness last year. But he has had his struggles in the preseason adjusting to the speed of the North American game.

As a rule NHL teams do not trade away competent defensemen. Scandella and Beaulieu are no exception to that rule, they are a couple of decent players who were deemed expendable by their clubs. They will make the Sabres a better team but not enough to propel them into the playoffs.

RAVE REVIEWS

"It is in showing where to find out-of-the-way trout streams that makes the map such a treasure to the fisherman."

—Joe Gordon, TRIBUNE-DEMOCRAT, Johnstown, PA

"I have one of the original Higbee's Stream Map of Pennsylvania on my wall behind my desk. It's the best thing available as far as streams are concerned. I use it all the time for reference. I don't know of anything more extensive and it is the most accurate map out there as far as streams are concerned."

—Dave Wolf, PA Fish and Boat Commission

The STREAM & LAKE MAP OF NEW YORK resembles another map--known to Pennsylvania anglers as the "Lost Stream Map."

It was completed in 1965 after a 30 year effort by Howard Higbee, a former Penn State Professor.

Professor Higbee painstakingly plotted by hand, the location of 45,000 miles of streams onto the map. It sold extremely well - until the printer declared bankruptcy and hauled Higbee's work to the landfill.

But reprints were impossible because the maps were printed in non-photographic blue. Higbee was even offered $400 for one of his last maps. And state agencies were forced to keep their copies under lock and key.

Then, at the age of 91, Howard Higbee's dream came true. Computers made it possible to reprint the map.

Then the STREAM & LAKE MAP OF NEW YORK was created.

"I am pleased that this funding will enable the library system to continue to promote the values of cooperation and sharing, and I look forward to seeing the impact these funds will have in individual branches," the Senator concluded.let's thank God for Creation," said Bishop Malone. "Let's work to maintain its integrity through our concern for the environment. Let's care for our animal friends. They're such reminders to us of God's gentleness and love." The Catechism of the Catholic Church reminds us that animals are God's creatures, as we are. It goes on to say that animals give Glory to God just by their very being. The blessing of animals has become an annual custom in the Church, as a way to remember the love that St. Francis of Assisi had for Creation.

PRAYER TO ST. JUDE

Most holy apostle St. Jude Thaddeus faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the name of the traitor who delivered your beloved Master in to the hands of the enemies has caused you to be forgotten by many, but the Church honors and invokes you universally as the patron of hopeless cases and of things despaired of. Pray for me who am so needy; make use, I implore you of that particular privilege accorded to you to bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolations and succor of heaven in all my necessities, tribulations and sufferings particularly (here mention your petition) ... and that I may bless God with you and all the elect throughout eternity. I promise you, O blessed Jude to be ever mindful of this great favor, and I will never cease to honor you as my special and powerful patron and to do all in my power to encourage devotion to you. Amen.

'A Musical Feast' Opens New Season

On Friday, October 20th at 8 pm, 'A Musical Feast', the cutting-edge presenter of traditional classical and contemporary classical music in Western New York will open its season in the group's home in the Tower Auditorium of the Burchfield Penny Art Center, located on Elmwood Avenue, on the Buffalo State Campus.

Ann Colley, a recently retired Distinguished Teaching professor of English at Buffalo State College debuts her multi-media work, A Cantata for Coleridge, based on her recent research on Samuel Taylor Coleridge's descriptions of landscape. Colley says "As a young man, this eminent early nineteenth-century British writer took rough, difficult walks, sometimes traveling more than thirty miles a day. Oppressed by personal problems as well as his addiction to opium, Coleridge found sustenance in the topography of rivers, meadows, mountains, and the skies. Often, he also hurriedly sketched line drawings to capture the contours of the landscape. My Cantata for Coleridge celebrates Coleridge's beautiful way with words as well as his sensitivity to the nuances of light and movement in the natural world. Using passages from Coleridge's notebooks, the piece combines a narrator (Anthony Chase) and a singer (Tiffany DuMouchelle) who will voice passages from the notebooks. Images of Coleridge's line drawings will be projected on a screen behind the performers".

Tiffany will also sing Edgar Varese's early work, Un grand sommeil noir, with a text by Paul Verlaine, accompanied by Ann Kissel, piano. She will also offer her interpretation of Zahra Partovi's translation of the poem Seek Water, by the 13th century mystic Rumi. Zahra Partovi also collaborated with Chris Villars to produce the short but very rare film Feldman Sings, featuring the only known example of the composer Morton Feldman, who was perhaps in some ways the touchstone of the Creative Associates, caught in the act of singing fragments from the score of his opera Neither, to illustrate points he was making.

Violinist Hannah Hurwitz will offer selections from the long-running, episodic composition Signs, Games and Messages, by the leading contemporary Hungarian composer György Kurtág. Varying widely in character, many of these miniatures have been inspired by, or dedicated to an individual, and they are often in turn thoughtful or joyful, melancholic or sad, but never outstaying their welcome.

The more traditional part of the program will feature Natasha Farny, the internationally touring virtuoso cellist who is an Associate Professor of Cello performance at the Fredonia School of Music, in transcriptions, arranged by her, of selections both from Schumann's radiant song cycle Frauenliebe und Leben, op. 42, and of Schubert's lied 'Hark, hark the Lark' from Ständchen D 889, accompanied by her Fredonia colleague, pianist Anne Kissel.

Tickets: General: $20; Burchfield Penny members: $10; students: $5. Call: 878-6011, or visit: <https://www.burchfieldpenney.org>
