

Lessons and Carols

The Choir of St. Louis Church.

The Choir of St. Louis Church, under the direction of organist/choir-master Frank Scinta, will present a Festival Service of Lessons and Carols on Sunday, December 17th at 4:00 pm in St. Louis Church, 35 Edward Street at Main, Buffalo.

Featured will be carols and anthems of Mendelssohn, Ord, Posten, Willcocks, Wood and others. The service of Lessons and Carols traces, in scripture and song, the Nativity story as foretold by the Old Testament prophets and narrated by the Gospel writers. Begun in King's College Chapel, Cambridge University, nearly a century ago, the service of Lessons and Carols is repeated in churches of nearly every denomination worldwide.

The Choir of St. Louis Church is an all-volunteer ensemble of singers. The choir rehearses each Thursday evening and leads the musical worship at 11:00 am each Sunday. Its repertoire covers nine centuries of sacred music and nearly every style of western composition. In past years, members of the choir have performed with the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra, Ars Nova Chamber Musicians, Camerata di Sant' Antonio, Greater Buffalo Opera Company and Opera Sacra.

Salvation Army Food Drive

The Salvation Army is currently conducting Food Drives throughout our community to help feed families in need this holiday season. Last year they distributed holiday gifts to over 1,100 families, that included over 4,200 individuals.

Ideally, they would like to have enough food in their food pantry to provide each of those families with a holiday meal as well. A bag of groceries and a turkey or ham is the goal for each family.

Food drives in the community help to provide that food. Groups, companies, and schools can request that a Salvation Army red barrels be dropped off, and picked up at the end of a drive, or when full. There are several red barrels throughout the area, for a location near you or how you can contribute visit buffalo.salvationarmy.org

Sabres Hockey SPORTS
by George Kuhn

Five Thoughts About The Sabres

1. Well the broom is out and Sabres GM has set about to clean his new house. Reports state the Sabres have sent word to the league that every player other than Jack Eichel is available. Shortly thereafter the team waived Matt Moulson who was assigned to the American Hockey League's Ontario Reign a farm team of the Los Angeles Kings who play in Ontario, California. He was not assigned to the Sabres farm team in Rochester because the Sabres want to develop their young players there and didn't want to use a roster spot on a veteran player.

2. The team has also set the bar high for the inevitable upcoming trade of Evander Kane. Looking at past deadline deals of Alan Ladd and Martin Hanzal, the Sabres have let it be known they consider Kane to be a better player than either example and thus expect a bigger return.

Ladd was a deadline trade in 2016 acquired by Chicago from Winnipeg along with Jay Harrison (a 3rd pair defenseman now out of hockey) and Matt Fraser (a marginal player now playing in Europe) for prospect Markko Dano, a 1st round pick and a conditional 3rd rounder.

Hanzal was a deadline deal last season going from Arizona to Minnesota in a package including Ryan White (a marginal minor league player) and a 4th rounder for a prospect, a 1st and 2nd rounder and a conditional 4th round pick.

So the Sabres will expect a 1st round pick plus additional assets for Kane such as a prospect and/or a 2nd or 3rd rounder. Other players could be involved in a package deal.

3. Botterill then acquired Scott Wilson from the Detroit Red Wings for a fifth round draft pick. Like Botterill, Wilson is an alumnus of the Pittsburgh Penguins 2017 Stanley Cup championship team. While he is scoreless with no points this season, he contributed three goals and six points in 20 play-off games for last year's champs.

His real value to the team is that he has the fresh face of a champion inserted into a locker room of a team with three wins in it's last 16 games. Along with the recently promoted Hudson Fasching and Evan Rodriguez back from injury, this is a 17% turnover in skaters on a team that needs to find a new direction. Many more changes are needed but these are steps in the right direction.

4. With seven wins and 24 losses in a season already in shambles lets enjoy a rare victory like Tuesday nights 4-2 win against the Colorado Avalanche. It took 28 games but Jake McCabe's second goal was the first goal by a Buffalo defenseman this season. The play was the result of some good old fashioned hustle by Buffalo's Benoit Pouliot and Hudson Fasching who were still in the zone when a clearing pass in the neutral zone was tapped back across the blue line by Johan Larsson. Both players skated hard to clear the zone and curled at the blue line just before Larsson crossed the line in pursuit of his intercepted pass. Even the slightest delay by either player would have resulted in an off sides call. Larsson gained possession in the zone resulting in McCabes goal. Hustle is a word not often associated with this year's Sabres. Was it just me or did there seem to be a noticeable increase in the effort from many players? Maybe those new players are bringing a new energy and spirit and it's infecting their teammates.

5. Jack Eichel had one goal and an assist for two points. Even though his goal was into an empty net, Eichel did play well offensively and was denied on a dramatic rush through three players to the goalmouth. It's encouraging to see him contribute offensively and his two point outing lifted him from 73rd to 57th in NHL scoring, an improvement but not exactly rarefied air for the so called generational player. Perhaps the new energy has infected him too.

This Week's Featured Friend:

RIVER

This handsome brindle boy is River and he is most certainly a zesty happy fun loving guy. River loves being in the yard and give him a toy, well, he is super engaged and excited. He will play with his toy and amuse himself with it. River has a prance and bounce in his step and will flash a smile letting you know he is having a great time. River has been working on his leash manners with volunteers and he is eager to learn following the lead of the handler. He is a sweet dog that enjoys hanging with his human and would probably love to do hikes, long walks, or catching games with a ball. We are still leaning about how he interacts with other dogs, but he seems pretty interested in getting to know another canine that is around him. We do require a meet and greet with any other dog residing in a home. How can you resist that adorable face and beautiful cooling?! Make sure you take time to meet River when looking for a new addition to your life.

December - Peace and Good Will

By Dr. Glenn Mollette

December is here and for many Americans that often means craziness. There is so much to do!

Decorating - Do you put lights outside your house? Outside decorating can mean most anything from a wreath on the door to lights hanging from the gutters, covering the bushes and adorning all your outside trees. If you've watched Christmas Vacation and most people have then you know outside decorating can become intense.

Grocery Shopping - Cooking Americans know the workload involved in preparing for a Christmas meal but also the other days of the month. Family coming in early or stopping by normally invokes the call for extra cookies and snacks around the house. How many trips can any good soul make to the store in a month? The aisles of the stores and checkout lines can be tedious this time of year. Beware and don't wreck your grocery cart while hurrying to get through the check out!

Buying gifts - Obviously America's stores count on Christmas holidays to financially see them through the year. Christmas spending is a big chunk of your local mall's budget each year. Most Americans enjoy giving but commonsense should always be employed. Don't overdo it. Don't break the bank giving stuff to people who may not need what you are buying. Even if they may need it you should only give what you can afford. Don't buy on a credit card that might take you a year to repay the debt.

Go For Quality - Quality time seems to have vanished in the modern age. We have more communication's technology before and less communication. We can email, text message, face time, Skype, email, post on social media and then of course there are cell phones and old fashioned mail and landline phones still exist. Yet, people are talking less and visiting less than ever it seems. There is only so much of you to go around but try to find some meaningful moments with the real people in your life. Real talking one on one and doing something together with family or close friends are Christmas moments usually remembered.

Charitable Giving - You have plenty of places to give your money. Your church, Salvation Army and many other places appreciate your gifts. Try to remember giving to those people who are all around you that are working to serve you. Give something to the person who carries your groceries to the car. Give a little extra to the kind restaurant waiter. Give something extra to the person who styles or cuts your hair. There are people who may serve you in various ways throughout the year and are struggling to make a living. Remember these people. We give often to needs and crisis that are across the ocean or are in another town and we should help others. Help those who are right under your nose, trying so hard to just survive.

Celebrate the meaning of Christmas. The world has defined Christmas a lot of different ways. Regardless, it's still the day billions on the planet celebrate the birth of Jesus. During this season of the year please find time to take a closer look at the baby in the manger that Christians around the globe celebrate. The world is desperate for some real peace on earth. We need calm on the planet and in the hearts of the people. With so much war, terrorism, poverty, violence in every American town, broken homes and broken lives could we not all benefit from the message of the Biblical story? Upon the birth of Christ the heavenly host declared, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men." Peace and good will....now there is something we can all give and use.
