

St. Patrick's Day Parade

The traditional parade route begins at the McKinley Monument and proceeds north on Delaware.

The United Irish American Association has elected Madonna Bugman Verrastro to be Grand Marshal of the 2018 Saint Patrick's Day Parade on Sunday March 18th at 2 pm on Delaware Avenue.

The day will start with Mass concelebrated by Bishop Richard J. Malone and chaplain Fr. David Richards at Saint Joseph's Cathedral at 10:30 am. Parade participants will line up near the McKinley Monument and proceed north on Delaware Avenue to North Street.

The 2018 Parade is dedicated to the memory of John J. McCormick. His involvement in the Saint Patrick's Day Parade spanned decades. He first was involved in building floats for the Parade that honored local charities. Later, he volunteered as a division marshal and recruited friends and relatives to help line up the fifth division of the Parade.

Spring Forward

On Sunday, March 11th, most Americans will set their clocks forward an hour, as daylight saving time (sometimes erroneously called daylight savings time) begins and most of the United States can bask in an extra hour of daylight. These spring and fall clock changes continue a long tradition started by Benjamin Franklin to conserve energy.

Rhinehart, Sabres Exceed Expectations Without Eichel

When Jack Eichel went down with a high ankle sprain against the Boston Bruins on February 10th a sense of impending doom enveloped the team. It seemed as if the horrible season would get even worse for the NHL's second worst team. Surprisingly, the teams record without Eichel has improved to .500 at 5-5-1. Leading the way has been Sam Reinhart who has turned his season around and seized the title of the teams best player in Eichel's absence.

The season began inauspiciously for Rhinehart going without a point in the first six games including a minus five rating in the second game during a 6-3 loss to the New York Islanders on October 7th. His season stats totaled only 10 points on five goals and five assists through the first 25 games. And then things got even worse.

Over a 25 game stretch from November 24th through January 11th, Rhinehart tallied only three points. This was a period of time when coach Phil Housley had been using him primarily at center which was the position he had been drafted for. Rhinehart's best success with Buffalo has been at right wing. Skating speed is not his strength. He is a below average NHL skater but this deficiency is not as profound on the wing where he does not need to carry the puck up ice as much as the center or come back as deep into the defensive zone. So coach Housley returned Rhinehart to the wing on Jack Eichel's line.

Rhinehart responded with some very impressive player as shown by scoring 23 points in his last 22 games. Rhinehart's offensive instincts are on display in the attacking zone when he positions himself in front of the opponents goalie and also when he distributes the puck with his passing skills.

When Eichel was injured, the Sabres responded by finishing the game with a surprising 4-2 win against Boston, then the leagues hottest team. They followed up a disappointing 5-4 loss to Colorado where the Sabres surrendered a two on none break just 20 seconds into the game with an impressive 5-3 win against the league leading Tampa Bay Lightning.

Then on Saturday February 17th the Los Angeles Kings treated the Kids day crowd at Keybank Center with 19 shots in the first 19 minutes enroute to an easy 4-2 win. During the game GM Jason Botterill slammed the door in the press box in disgust. Even Coach Housley lost his cool, and reacted by putting the team through a grueling practice the next day. The Sabres responded with four wins in their next six games including impressive victories against Boston and Tampa Bay again and Toronto, all top teams. And it all starts with defense. As Evan Rodriguez stated during the streak, all players are responsible on the defensive side of the puck with no one cheating offensively.

The question is if the team can subtract their top two players, Jack Eichel and Evander Kane, why are they competing for the top draft choice rather than a playoff spot? More on this later.

Sam Reinhart.

Spring Forward

Daylight saving begins at 2 am for many good reasons, such as most people are at home in bed. Few people will likely wake up exactly at 2:00 am local time to move the clock hand, or dial, forward an hour. But that's when daylight saving time officially begins on the second Sunday in March. It ends on the first Sunday in November, when clocks are turned back at 2:00 am local time to read 1:00 am.

Why two o'clock? The thinking goes it's late enough that most people would be at home. In addition, it prevented the date from switching to yesterday; it would be confusing if, say, we changed the clocks at midnight back to 11 pm. The time is also early enough that the clock-hand change occurs before early shift workers and early churchgoers might be impacted.

ADOPT A PET Sponsored By The Buffalo Rocket

This Week's Featured Friend:

JON SNOW

Jon Snow is a great big gorgeous white boy. This very handsome 5 year old is really laid back. He loves to explore his surroundings and enjoys the company of humans and furry friends as well. He even puts up with other felines whose manners are not as refined as his are. Jon would be an absolutely marvelous companion - come to visit him at Pine Woods Animal Hospital on East Robinson Road in North Tonawanda. The adoption fee includes age-appropriate vaccinations, spay/neuter surgery, a microchip, a free bag of food, and a certificate for a first free vet visit to the vet of your choice.
