O'Reilly's Comments Raise Eyebrows

Locker clean out day in professional sports is usually a predictable series of conversations with players the day after their final game. The players typically utter bland comments that are about as exciting as a bowl of unflavored oatmeal. That is until Ryan O'Reilly spoke to the assembled media on Monday.

O'Reilly has provided a steady supply of post game commentary all season long about how he needs to play better. Which has made this observer wonder If he wants to play better why doesn't he just so? With the Sabres last place season mercifully at an end, he provided a big clue to the source of his shortcomings. "I've lost my love for hockey," O'Reilly confided to the media.

O'Reilly expressed that the losing has been hard on himself and his teammates, "I feel throughout the year I've lost my love for the game multiple times...it's just eating myself up...and eats the other guys too... there's times when I've found my game and just enjoy it and it's fun, but when you lose consistently like this it's tough...that's how I kind of fell out of love with it, and I miss that."

O'Reilly was then asked directly if he felt that it was time to move on. An extended pause before responding could only hint at his true feelings, "I really want to be part of the solution here. I love this city. I love it here. I call it home... there's some big changes I need to make mentally.... if something happens and I'm moved then obviously that's a change they (Sabres GM Jason Botterill) decided to make. But I want to be here. I want to win here because I feel it would be special. It's a great city and they deserve a winning team."

These comments have created controversy. Some ex-players have spoken up saying that O'Reilly should have kept his feelings private or shared them only with the players and team management. Fans have tweeted that they are pleased to see a player speak honestly instead of spouting tired cliches. But the cat's out of the bag now and the consequences are the subject of speculation.

O'Reilly came to Buffalo because he wanted more responsibility, the ice time and the money that comes from being a number one center. In Colorado he was slotted as the number two center behind Matt Duchesne. And young Nathan McKinnon was rising up the depth chart to become a strong MVP candidate this season. The Colorado Avalanche responded to O'Reilly's demands by trading him to Buffalo.

The Sabres made him the highest paid player in franchise history with a $7.5 million annual salary and handed him the veteran leadership role on a young rebuilding team. Three years into the contract O'Reilly has produced three 20 goal seasons but the team and the franchise wallow at the bottom of the league. Perhaps now it becomes clear why the Avalanche made their decision, that they saw O'Reilly as being near his ceiling.

O'Reilly is a good hockey player who would draw interest from most of the leagues teams in a trade. The big story this summer will be the destination of Islanders free agent star John Tavares. There will be one team winning the Tavares sweepstakes and 20 disappointed GM's who would see O'Reilly as a desirable consolation prize.

The Sabres are in such a deep hole and need to add talent to become a playoff caliber team. Trading players like O'Reilly and Rasmus Ristolainen for draft picks and prospects would bring an infusion of young talent into the organization.

The New York State Department of Taxation and Finance today reminded all taxpayers that they have two extra days to file their federal and state income tax returns this year. The deadline to file and pay any tax due is Tuesday, April 17, 2018, rather than the traditional April 15 date.

That's because April 15 falls on a Sunday this year, and Emancipation Day—a legal holiday in Washington, D.C.—will be observed the next day, which pushes the nation's filing deadline to April 17th. Under the tax law, legal holidays in the District of Columbia affect the filing deadline across the nation.

Come join your friends and neighbors at the North Buffalo Community Center's 16th Annual Chinese Auction on Saturday, April 21st from 6:00 pm to 10:00 pm. Auction items include many theme baskets, gift cards, restaurant gift certificates, and much more. Pizza, pop, beer, and wine will be available for purchase. All proceeds to benefit youth and senior programs. For more information, call 874-6133, Ext. 11, 12, or 18.

Victorian Tea, Saturday April 21st from 2:00 pm - 4:00 pm. $30 per person at the Herschell

Carrousel Factory Museum, 180 Thompson Street, North Tonawanda. Reservations are required and seating is limited. To make a reservation, call 693-1885.

Ten Lives Club Cat Rescue and Adoption Group is now offering Low Cost Spay and Neuters to the public to help ensure personal pets are receiving essential basic medical care. Spots are limited so call today!

Friends of Reinstein Woods, 93 Honorine Dr., Depew, is sponsoring a free paper shredding and recycling event on Saturday, April 21st, from 9 am until noon in honor of Earth Day. Instead of throwing out or burning old bills and paper records, people can bring them to Reinstein Woods Nature Preserve to be professionally shredded and recycled by Lincoln Archives. For further information, call Reinstein Woods at 683-5959.

The Junior League of Buffalo will host a Derby Day event on Saturday, May 5th, from 5 – 8 pm, at The Barrel Factory, a historic event space in Buffalo's Old First Ward neighborhood. The Barrel Factory is located at 65 Vandalia Street, Buffalo. Tickets are available online at www.jlbuffalo.org/derbyday or through the Junior League of Buffalo Headquarters at 884-8865.

Gentrification is a growing challenge across the country. But solutions appropriate for mega-cities may not be right for mid-size communities like Buffalo. What might work here?

The League of Women Voters of Buffalo/Niagara will advance discussion of this important issue with a presentation and panel titled Gentrification: Exploring Solutions. The free program will take place from 5:30 to 7:30 pm on Wednesday, April 25th, in the auditorium of the Buffalo & Erie County Central Library, 1 Lafayette Square, Buffalo. Attendees should use the Clinton Street entrance.

Letter to the Editor

Proposed Erie County Apprenticeship Law

It is inconceivable and a breach of trust with the taxpayers for the County government to pass legislation that is not only patently unfair to nonunion trade workers, who are the majority in WNY, but also will raise the cost of construction directly to the county and indirectly to it by way of rents.

This is the way Democrats have historically paid off the unions for their political support. It is a sick breach of responsibility.

How The Buffalo Rocket Began: Part Five

This is the fifth and final in a series of articles on how the Buffalo Rocket came into existence almost 50 years ago. What began as a single sheet flyer in 1969 became a strong weekly in North Buffalo and expanded into the West Side and Riverside. Previous articles could be found on our Buffalo Rocket website.

If you have been following these articles about the very beginning of the Buffalo Rocket you are aware of the sudden impact on our staff. We started as a single page flyer and over the years grew to a legitimate weekly tabloid. Ours being a free publication as opposed to paid subscriptions. Still with a circulation of 25,000 being a voice to be considered. The advertisers pay the bill, so it was important that we had readership to bolster sales for our customers. We added columnist of who I mentioned in last weeks contribution. We had a professional photographer. We had an editor and a full-time salesperson. We were as legitimate as we can be. With it came the perks of the media. Had no idea what comes with the territory. Back then television advertising was too expensive, so advertisers had to rely on radio and newsprint. So being an inexpensive way to reach the public our little publication continued to grow through the eighties. So did the free perks. The media is spoiled so it is understandable for them to become arrogant. So many doors are opened to so many things. The best thing I can remember was free hotel in Toronto with free show passes for my wife and I. One time it was the family.

The rise to fame was so unexpected and happened so quickly it took some doing to handle it. We concluded that we had reason to investigate getting our own web printing press. Most people do not know what a web press is. There must have been a movie where you saw a newspaper coming off a speedy large press. That is a web press used to print newspapers exclusively. So, we went out and bought one in Fredonia. We now were able to print our own newspapers and other publications. So, we started a new newspaper into Riverside. Giving us a total circulation of 35,000. At our peak we were printing 30 newspapers a month on our press.

This was at the peak. It continues for some years but as we all know, television has made the newspaper industry suffer a great loss. Even the dailies and radio are finding it difficult to compete. It is a different era. There is still a need for the print media but on much of a lesser scale. It was a great ride to the top. Had such good people work for me. Some continued to be good friends. Many are friends on Facebook. We are still here. It is a struggle but if there is some need, we will continue to serve.

Do you have a birthday greeting you would like to see here? Birthdays, anniversaries, interesting pictures, short stories or even a 500 word column of interest to your neighbors. Send them to me and I will see what I can do. Nothing political or controversial. Send to Jbortze@aol.com.

Decisions Day

April 16th has been designated as National Healthcare Decisions Day – a day to focus on educating the community about the importance of advance care planning. DecideWNY is a newly-formed coalition of more than 50 Western New York healthcare organizations joining forces with the national movement to raise awareness about this critical topic, including Population Health Collaborative, Erie County Medical Center, Hospice Buffalo, the Center for Elder Law and Justice, Roswell Park Comprehensive Cancer Center, BlueCross BlueShield of WNY, Independent Health, and Univera Healthcare, to name a few. National Healthcare Decisions Day is a collaborative effort of community organizations committed to ensuring that all adults with decision-making capacity have the information and resources to communicate and document their future healthcare decisions. Advance care planning involves making future healthcare decisions that include much more than deciding what care you would or would not want; it starts with expressing care preferences, clarifying values and beliefs and selecting an agent (healthcare proxy) to voice healthcare decisions if you are unable to do so. Advance care planning starts with talking with your loved ones and your healthcare providers. These conversations will relieve loved ones and healthcare professionals of the need to guess what you would want if faced with a medical crisis. Participating organizations will be providing information and tools for the public to talk about their wishes with family, friends and healthcare providers, and execute written advance directives (Healthcare Proxy) in accordance with New York State laws. Resources are available online at NHDD.org.

Magan is an adorable low rider type pit bull mix. She has been sick with a cold so we are still learning about her, but so far her play style with other dogs is pretty intense so we will work with her on being more appropriate. She loves to cuddle with people, likes to be close and touching you if possible. She has been a little nervous, so we have her marked as no small children for now. She's a big lover and thinks she's a lap dog. She does well when walked on leash. Magan's sad face is not an indication of her true personality and we suggest you meet this girl in person!
