

Shoshone Gets A Facelift

Artist's rendering of the future multi-sports complex at Shoshone Park scheduled to begin construction in 2019.

New York State Senator Chris Jacobs joined with Buffalo Mayor Byron W. Brown and Common Council members Joel Feroletto and Rasheed Wyatt to announce that he has secured $1,000,000 in state funding to support the construction of a brand new multi-purpose indoor athletic complex at Shoshone Park.

The 75,000 square foot facility would have the ability to be converted for use as baseball, soccer and lacrosse fields, as well as a host of community and civic-related events.

The parking related components of the project will also relieve parking stress that has existed for decades on nearby residential streets.

"When you think about baseball and North Buffalo, you think about Shoshone Park," said Senator Jacobs. "This new indoor facility will allow Shoshone to be active year round, hosting not only youth baseball, but soccer, lacrosse and many other recreational activities for all ages. My hope is this $1 million dollar grant creates the momentum to make this project a reality very soon."

City residents will now have an option to bring their children to a local

FUMI

Meet Fumi! This beautiful lady is Fumi, an approximately 6 year old Akita who is patiently waiting for her forever home. Fumi has some great manners and knows how to sit, give paw, down, and also appears to be housebroken. She enjoys going for car rides and likes to go on leisurely walks to check out all that is happening in the world around her. Fumi does request to be an only dog in her home as she has a bit of that typical picky Akita nature and would rather relish in the company of her human family. She is a very smart gal and also, very sweet and happy. If you are a fan of this breed, or know someone who is, please come on down and meet this wonderful girl so she can settle into a new happy home.

Sabres Open Season With Victories

The season opened with great promise with number one pick Rasmus Dahlin, new scoring wingers Connor Shearey and Jeff Skinner and goaltender Carter Hutton. With a four game home stand the Sabres had a great opportunity to open the season on a hot streak.

In their opening game October 4th the Boston Bruins throttled the Sabres with a suffocating defense and cruised to a 4-0 victory. The much despised Brad Marchand led the way with four assists while ex-Sabres Jaroslav Halak stopped 32 shots while Hutton blocked 22 of 25 shots with one empty net goal. Sabres star Jack Eichel was largely invisible playing head to head against Bruins star center Patrice Bergeron.

Coach Phil Housley was critical of his forwards for not pushing the puck past Boston's wall of defensive players forcing them to turn and chase while the Sabres pursued the gritty physical style of hockey needed to win in the defensive oriented NHL. But one could ask Housley why did he continue to march Eichel against Bergeron, the leagues premier two-way center where Eichel clearly was over matched? In short this looked just like last years Sabres, the leagues worst team.

The New York Rangers visited on October 9th and the Sabres dominated the game in a 3-1 victory in spite of being out shot 44-29. Carter Hutton was the star of the game stopping 43 shots. Connor Sheary made all the right moves in his first game scoring two goals while Jack Eichel had an assist and an empty netter. The Sabres power play was sharp on four opportunities with both of Sheary's Goaltender Carter Hutton goals coming with the man advantage.

On Monday October 8th, the Stanley Cup finalist Las Vegas Golden Knights visited for a 3 pm matinee game. The Sabres took a 2-0 lead on a pair of Eichel goals including a sizzling one timer from the off wing on the power play and a dazzling deke on Vegas goalie Marc-Andre Fleury. Buffalo was on the wrong end of the stats such as being out shot 37-17, losing 65% of the faceoffs and being outshot 29-17 but won 4-2. Hutton was strong with 35 saves and the offense was opportunistic with Marco Scandella and Jason Pominville adding singles.

Carter Hutton has been the standout so far with a 2.06 GAA and a dazzling .943 save percentage. Eichel with 3-1-4 and Sheary 2-1-3 are the leading scorer and also lead the team with a -3 through three games. This does not come as a surprise since Eichel was 775th out of 802 players in plus minus last season with a -25 and is already trending in that direction. This is not a good sign for a team that wants to improve it's even strength play. By comparison, Auston Matthews leads the NHL with ten points and seven goals for Toronto in four games with an even plus minus. Old friend Robin Lehner leads with a 0.00 GAA after earning a shutout in his first game with the New York Islanders.

Attendance for the much anticipated home opener was 19,070. Following the disappointing loss which saw the fans boo the home team repeatedly, attendance fell to 16,824 and 16,004 although the last game was a daytime matinee.

Avenue Soda Bar

If you lived in North Buffalo in the early eighties you more than likely visited the Avenue Soda Bar.

One of the area's favorite spots for serving exotic Ice Cream concoctions. Pigs dinner served in a wooden pig trough, four different scoops and different topping. The most famous was the "monster", thirteen different flavors with thirteen different toppings served in a huge flower vase. The proprietor always wore a white tee shirt and was a staple at the restaurant. Talked to everyone and knew all his regular customers. It was a sad day when he passed away. The Avenue was in danger of closing. The son did keep it open but did not have a great interest in the Ice Cream business. He decided to see if it would sell. Along comes an interested buyer, me.

It was in the building I owned that had three store fronts. My printing business had one and the Buffalo Rocket had the other. It seemed like a good business venture, so I bought it. The only thing I knew about Ice Cream was eating it. However, I was under the impression that I did know how to run a business. The woman who worked there and ran the shop was willing to stay on, so it was a done deal.

It came with two Ice

Cream making machine and a huge wooden blast freezer that took up the whole back wall. They made the Ice Cream right there at the location. 13 different flavors made fresh and great tasting. Came out soft, placed into 5-gallon containers and into a blast freezer to turn into hard ice cream. Vanilla, chocolate, strawberry, even pistachio. Seemed like something that I could make into a successful diverse business. At first it was an investor's dream. It was summer, a couple of my kids were on summer vacation from college and were able to work there. The homemade Ice Cream that had been put into pints and quarts was selling like hot cakes. It was so popular, people were waiting in line outside to get in. When I saw this size crowd I panicked and went and hid. We never had to serve that many people at once in our print shop. The girl who came with the shop was able to handle it without a problem. Lots of Ice Cream was devoured that day. Gave me the impression this was going to be a good deal.

Then Labor Day hit. Summer was over and so was the desire to go out for Ice Cream. The crowds became one or two couples. Not realizing this would happen I kept it open for the winter.

Big mistake. There were many days in the winter that no one came in. Had to keep someone there and the heat and lights on. The profits of the summer were not enough to cover the expenses of the winter. Did not want to lose the person who knew how to make the Ice Cream and run the place, so had to come up with an alternative. Tried breakfast with nothing hot except coffee. Like donuts and pastries, no good. Added waffles but that did not help. Without offering something hot during the winter, it was a no go. Buffalo people do not like anything cold in a Buffalo winter.

Eventually I bought out a card shop and converted the soda bar into Dorothy's, named after my wife. It sold cards, gift and collectibles. Many may remember that as it was there for 12 years. I did enjoy the years I owned the soda bar. Like the soft Ice Cream right out of the Ice Cream making machine. Being able to mix with the customers. The challenge of trying to make something out of it even though it failed. It was fun to own a Soda Bar, I have the extra weight to prove it. To be able to have a banana split, a hot fudge sundae, root beer float or a strawberry soda whenever you want. Who wouldn't like that? Maybe an Eskimo.

Memories inside of the soda bar.

The inside of the restaurant was Art Deco with a large soda bar with stools, red and blue booths and of course the red and white heart shaped ice cream chairs and tables.

facility, and sports teams that previously did not compete anywhere in the North Buffalo area will now have the potential to call Shoshone Park home.

The total cost of the new athletic complex is estimated at $4 million dollars. In addition to Senator Jacobs' support, the City of Buffalo is expected to designate bond funds, which were previously earmarked for restoration of the Shoshone outdoor pool, to the proposed multi-sport facility. Supporters of the project have been engaged in raising funds from a variety of public and private sources to close any gaps. "The construction of a state of the art indoor sports facility in North Buffalo is a game changer for the youth of our community," said County Legislator Peter Savage.

The Hertel North Park Youth Baseball & Softball League has been playing at Shoshone Park since 1957. Long time league President Don Morris expressed the excitement that he and his organization are experiencing as they look forward to playing in the Shoshone Park Athletic Complex. "By building this athletic facility, athletes from across the City of Buffalo and Erie County will be provided a unique opportunity to play year round and be better equipped to compete at a higher level in their respective sport," said Morris.

Council Members Feroletto and Wyatt hope to have full funding in place by Spring of 2019 with site preparation beginning next summer.

2018-19 Flu Season

Drug stores have had signs heralding the 2018-19 Flu Season for weeks. Meanwhile, if you’ve visited your doctor recently, he or she has most likely reminded you to get your flu shots in a timely fashion this year.

However, there continues to be widespread reluctance, based on indifference and fear, among Americans to be immunized against the flu. Most years only about half of those who should seek protection get a flu shot. As a result, too many at risk individuals, including elderly Americans, succumb to influenza and too many of them die.

Last year’s flu season was exceptionally long. It lasted from October 1st, 2017 and continued until nearly the end of April 2018 and caused some 30,453 laboratory-confirmed hospitalizations of flu victims, most of whom were 65 years old or older, according to the Centers for Disease Control [CDC].

So, why don’t more of us embrace the flu vaccine as an established preventive measure?

Perhaps the most senseless misconception people might have is that they need not be vaccinated every year to be protected. The most important reason for getting a shot every year is the simple fact that in the course of a year the vaccine loses its effectiveness. In addition, the makeup of the flu virus, itself, changes each year so a new vaccine needs to be produced annually. And, that is why the CDC strongly recommends that, ideally, everyone, six months old and older should be immunized at the onset of flu season.

Association of Mature American Citizens is particularly focused on encouraging America’s seniors to get a flu shot pointing out that 58% of all those who had to be hospitalized due to influenza last year were over 65 years of age. In fact, the CDC even underscores the need for older Americans to be vaccinated because they are at higher risk of developing serious complications from flu. There’s even a special version of the vaccine especially designed for seniors. It’s a high-dose vaccine that contains four times the amount of antigen contained in a regular shot.

Most physicians will tell you that if you are among the skeptics when it comes to flu shots, you need to focus on the facts, not the myths. And, if the truth about the flu be told, it will be told by the Centers for Disease Control, which says get a flu shot as early as you can in the season.
