Jeff Skinners Second Act

After scoring a career high 40 goals last season while playing on Jack Eichels line, it was expected that pairing would continueto find success. But new coach Ralph Krueger had other ideas. Skinner started the season on the second line with Casey Mittlestadt while rookie Victor Olafsson flanked Eichel on the right wing with his perennial running mate Sam Rhinehart on the left.

Krueger has steadfastly refused to reunite Skinner and Eichel citing a number of reasons. First that Skinner was a nine year NHL veteran who has scored goals with a wide variety of linemates who doesn't need Eichel to be successful. Second that Skinners' game requires additional defensive responsibilities from Eichel and he doesn't want his top center to change the balance in his game.

"We do not make decisions for individuals. We make decisions for the betterment of the team. It's all about the team and that's how we're going to continue to make decisions here," said Krueger. Under his new coach Eichel has become a solid two way player with a plus 15 and the top line is one of the leagues very best. So why change?

Another factor is the emergence of Olafsson as a legitimate NHL goal scorer. It's a sound theory that as a rookie, Olafsson benefits more from playing with veteran skilled players than a veteran like Skinner who in playing his 10th season in the league. Olafsson had 16 goals and 35 points in 42 games and a -one before being injured. At the same time Skinner was also injured after 49 games with eight goals and 19 points with a -18.

Clearly Skinner is less effective playing away from Eichel. Skinnner is a finisher who was successful on 14.9% of his shots during his 40 goal season as Eichel set him up continuously for short range scoring chances. This season he has scored on only 7.5% of his shots and the quality of those shots doesn't match the high quality of setups from Jack Eichel.

But this slump goes back to last season when staring February 17th Skinner had only four goals in his last 24 games. So the Eichel – Skinner chemistry had faded. And there is no guarentae it would magically reappear if they were reunited tomorrow.

While Skinner was a successful goal scorer for eight seasons with Carolina, the Sabres do not have the quality linemates to pair him with like he had with the Hurricanes, other than Eichel. Finding one should be an off season priority for GM Jason Botterill. Even with the anticipated arrival of Dylan Cozins at age 19, he cannot be expected to be the setup guy for Skinner. Skinner can't be expected to score 40 goals every year but he should be a 25-30 goal asset just waiting for a complimentary player to help unleash that scoring.

Jeff Skinner of the Buffalo Sabres celebrates.

How do they get so rich?

Last week we had family come down and visit us here in Southwest Florida. On one of the days it was decided that we would rent a boat and either do a little fishing or just cruise around. Now these are pontoon boats and have very little speed. They are made with a larger flat deck that sits on two pontoons. Constructed more as a slower family water vehicle for safety and can hold lots of people safely. At this boat rental, you have the option of renting for one to eight hours. Usually we choose four but it was a bit windy so we felt two would be enough.

As we boarded we were given instructions on how to run the boat and all the safety tips given to un-knowlegeable boat people. We did not fit into that category as we were boat people and knew what we were doing on the waterways. However, Lake Erie is a little different than the waterways down here. The bay that we usually go out in is shallow and one time we even got grounded and needed help to proceed. We were told to follow the markers and stay between them and we would be okay. It was also suggested, because of the wind, instead of going out into the choppy bay we travel up the Estero River. This I had never done before. To be honest the bay is quite boring, unless you have a destination like a particular beach. So I was happy with the decision.

As we made the turn into the river, I was in awe at the homes on the shores. Not cottages like we see on Lake Erie or the Niagara River, these were huge mansions located right on the water. Not one, not a dozen, but mile after mile and hundreds if not thousands of these breathtaking homes. Every one constructed different, offering original architecture, color and landscaping. One had a swimming pool on both the upper and lower floors with a waterfall going from one to the other. Another had an atrium on the back the size of a ballroom. How does anyone get that rich? We traveled mile after mile seeing these gorgeous homes. Even with lower taxes in Florida, my yearly salary would not be enough to pay for one year.

Most of the homes on the shores, had their own boats parked behind them, but there must be some that are a bit inland as we came upon a huge marina. You can imagine the size of the boats contained in this large water parking lot. I would have liked to own just one of the boats! How much money do you need to have to live this lifestyle? What a trip this turned out to be. It was good that it was windy and we did not spend the two hours looking at trees and birds.

I recalled one day a few years back traveling down one of the roads that leads to one of the Gulf beaches, seeing these humongous homes. The one side faced the road, the other, the beach and the Gulf. They sit up high and the bottom floors are the garages, as in the event of a hurricane, the wave surge could reach the level of that whole first floor. We found out later that most do not live there during hurricane season. We passed a sign for an open house on one of these homes. Why not check it out. So we did.

The price tag was eleven million for this home. That is $11 million. I did not think I could afford it but just being in it and seeing how rich people live was exciting. The back room had large windows looking out over the beach and the Gulf. The owner had the ability to watch the sunset, where the sun appears to sink into the water. Having your own beach to stroll onto and go out and enjoy on hot days. Of course it had its own swimming pool and garden. I asked the realtor why they were selling and she said he is downsizing, he has three other houses in other counties. How do they get so rich? Can you imagine the commission this realtor got when it sold? Close to a million just on this sale.

There was a home in Naples that took up a whole block and was located on the beach. It was in the paper that it sold for $30 million dollars. The buyer tore it down and rebuilt another to his liking. How do they get so rich?

I checked on the internet, and there are almost 19 million millionaires in the United States. More live here than in any other country in the world. I just saw a little piece of that wealth here in Florida. Imagine California, Texas, the rest of the country with these huge homes. It is mind boggling. How do they get so rich? If money talks, we are not on speaking terms. They say it takes money to make money, what happens if you have none to start with?

Senior TRIVIA

Lyrics

Everyone knows these famous lyrics of classic songs, but do you know the next line?

Not as easy as you may think, but give it a try.

- 1) And now the end is near, and so I face the final curtain...
- 2) I was waltzing with my darling...
- 3) Dashing through the snow...
- 4) Oh my love, my darling, I've hungered for your touch...
- 5) Oh the shark babe, has such teeth, dear...
- 6) Oh, how we danced on the night we were wed...
- 7) I see trees of green red roses too...
- 8) I got sunshine on a cloudy day...
- 9) Love is a burning thing and it makes a fiery ring...
- 10) When you're down and out, when you're on the street...
- 11) Hello darkness my old friend I've come to talk to you again...
- 12) Some say love, it is a river that drowns the tender reed...
- 13) Oh yeah, I'll tell you something I think you'll understand...
- 14) Wise men say only fools rush in...
- 15) Well it's one for the money, two for the show...

Ask Rusty - Why Did My Social Security Payment Go Down?

Dear Rusty: Upon reading a magazine article about the 2020 COLA increase, I thought I'd share the following: Like others, I received the 1.6% raise in my Social Security benefit. However, after their manipulations with Medicare, the net result was a reduction of $124 in my Social Security payment. I can't afford their "raise." I now pay double for Medicare! Signed: Disgusted

Dear Disgusted: Actually, Social Security and Medicare are two totally separate and financially independent programs, but the Social Security Administration handles enrollment and premium payments on behalf of CMS (the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services). For 2020, your gross Social Security benefit went up by 1.6% as a result of the Cost of Living Adjustment (COLA), but at the same time the standard Medicare Part B premium went up by $9.10 to $144.60 per month. Most Medicare beneficiaries pay the standard premium amount.

If your Medicare Part B premium is deducted from your Social Security benefit you would normally be protected by a provision known as "Hold Harmless," which prevents your Social Security payment from decreasing as a result of an increase in the standard Medicare Part B premium. But if you have any change (other than a COLA increase) to your Social Security benefit amount, or if you pay an "IRMAA" surcharge on your Medicare Part B premium, the "hold harmless" provision doesn't apply to you. In either of those cases your net Social Security payment could go down as a result of an increase in your Medicare Part B premium.

"IRMAA" is Medicare's "Income Related Medicare Adjustment Amount" which is a surcharge assessed on Medicare Part B (and Part D) premiums for those with higher incomes (the surcharge varies depending upon your IRS filing status and income level). I suspect that you are suddenly subject to IRMAA because of a sudden increase in your income and the 1.6% COLA increase to your Social Security was applied to your new Medicare premium. That, however, fell short of covering your entire IRMAA Medicare premium increase and, since you're not protected by the Hold Harmless provision, the remainder was taken from your Social Security benefit.

Most Medicare enrollees pay the standard Part B premium ($144.60 for 2020) and are protected by the hold harmless provision from a decrease in their Social Security payment. But higher earning Medicare beneficiaries are affected by IR-

MAA, and I believe that is what happened in your case, especially because you say you suddenly "pay double" for Medicare. This might typically happen if you took a large one-time distribution from a tax-advantage investment, or received some other form of significant, but temporary, income. The good news is that if your premium doubled because you had a temporary increase in your income in one year, the Medicare premium increase will also be temporary, and you will automatically revert back to the lower premium the following year.

HARRY

See the video on our Facebook page!

I'm just wild about Harry! Actually we all are. Our big, stately boy is just wonderfully sweet. He is three years old and "macho" looking, but really friendly and laid back. He has stolen the hearts of our volunteers and we are sure that he will steal yours as well, if you just come down to the shelter to meet him.
