Memorable Sabres Moments

With the NHL season on hiatus but now planning a 24 team playoff without the Buffalo Sabres, the teams season is now officially over. We have been running a series of stories on famous games in Sabres history. Today we feature one of the most disappointing games.

On May 27th 1975, the Philadelphia Flyers defeated the Sabres 2-0 in game six of the Stanley Cup Finals to win their second straight Stanley Cup championship.

The game was scoreless through two periods until Bob Kelly broke the tie just 11 seconds into the third period assisted by Reggie Leach and Jimmy Watson. Or-est Kindrachul set up an insurance goal by Bill Clement at 17:11 (Or O Kindrachuk as the Flyers play by play announcer would call him).

Roger Crozier was strong in the nets for Buffalo with 29 saves on 31 shots but Bernie Parent was even stronger stopping all 32 shots that he faced. Both teams were scoreless on six power play chances.

Bernie Parent recorded the shutout and was awarded the Conn Smythe Trophy as play-off MVP for the second consecutive season. Parent and Mario Lemieux (1991,1992), are the only players to win that award in back to back seasons.

Jim Schoenfeld, Buffalo Sabres and Ross Lonsberry, Philadelphia Flyers.

PRAYER TO ST. JUDE

Most holy apostle St. Jude Thaddeus faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the name of the traitor who delivered your beloved Master in to the hands of the enemies has caused you to be forgotten by many, but the Church honors and invokes you universally as the patron of hopeless cases and of things despaired of. Pray for me who am so needy; make use, I implore you of that particular privilege accorded to you to bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolations and succor of heaven in all my necessities, tribulations and sufferings particularly (here mention your petition) ... and that I may bless God with you and all the elect throughout eternity. I promise you, O blessed Jude to be ever mindful of this great favor, and I will never cease to honor you as my special and powerful patron and to do all in my power to encourage devotion to you. Amen.

Just Buffalo Literary Center has announced the 2020 Just Buffalo Writing Center Youth Fellowship, a six-week summer fellowship opportunity for a WNY-based young writer to develop their craft and explore professional avenues within the literary arts.

Open to youth in WNY between the ages of 15-18, the selected young writer will work with a mentor, be encouraged to develop their unique voice as a creative writer and thinker, and present a creative writing project to be completed over the course of the summer fellowship. The fellow will be offered a $1,200 stipend. The 2020 Youth Fellowship will be conducted entirely online.

More information, as well as the application, can be found at justbuffalo.org/youth-fellowship. The application deadline is June 30, and the chosen fellow will be announced in early July.

In addition to the Youth Fellowship, Just Buffalo Writing Center (JBWC) continues to offer free weekly creative writing workshops for young writers ages 12-18. All JBWC programming is currently virtual, and is accessible with or without video and audio. To learn more, visit justbuffalo.org/writing-center.

2020 East Side Garden Walk will continue our mission of sharing our gardens, and because of Covid-19, this year's East Side Garden Walk is more important than ever. Nutrition and lifestyle are risk factors for Covid-19, and studies of Buffalo's East Side in zip code 14215, among others, show residents there suffer a disproportionate risk of contracting the disease. The East Side Garden Walk helps to address those risk factors.

East Side gardener Cheryl Harris, who has collaborated with Cornell Cooperative Extension using her own extensive vegetable gardens, says studies show how being in nature and growing our own food helps to tackle those risk factors. She points to a study at St. Louis University that showed both adults and children eat more fruits and vegetables when they grow them. Studies also show that the simple act of connecting with nature, be it looking at trees, walking barefoot on the earth, or watching plants grow, produces physical, mental and emotional benefit. Cheryl Harris is available for an interview.

In light of the current pandemic, the health and safety of our participants and visitors are our top priority. As a result, we'll conduct the 3rd Annual East Side Garden Walk online and in person with activities that are appropriate for social distancing. The East Side Garden Walk will feature content on social media, on our website, EastSideGardenWalk.com. The East Side Garden Walk will also contribute to Buffalo Garden Views: Sharing in July, along with Garden Walk Buffalo, to create a "virtual garden month".

Special Olympics New York announced a "bonus week" of virtual training for its athletes and community provided by Capital District YMCA. Training videos will be free to access on the Special Olympics New York YouTube channel beginning this weekend.

Bonus Week training by Capital District YMCA will be comprised of workouts for the entire body, ranging from 5 to 30 minutes in length, including "Hold it at Home," "Med Ball' Core Challenge," "Body Weight Soul Control," "No Floor Core" and "Monster HIIT."

Ask Rusty- Are Social Security and Medicare Running Out of Money?

Dear Rusty: I have been hearing reports that Social Security and Medicare will run out of money by 2035 and will only pay approximately 75% of benefits. First, is that true about Social Security? And second, will they reduce benefits to people who are already on it or just the new people signing up? Signed: Worried about the Future

Dear Worried: The financial difficulties facing both Social Security and Medicare are well known by those of us who work with these programs every day, and Congress is equally and acutely aware of the issues. But Social Security and Medicare are two entirely separate programs which require two entirely separate answers.

Let's discuss Social Security (SS) first. The SS Trust Fund now has about $2.9 trillion dollars in assets. These are reserves accumulated from past revenues which exceeded the cost of providing past benefits to recipients of Social Security. That seems like a lot of money but starting this year (2020) Social Security will need to use some of those reserves to pay full benefits. That's because benefits paid out to recipients in 2020 will be more than the money coming in (this was expected even before the pandemic exacerbated the problem). And that trend will continue, and worsen, as we go forward in time. Without Congressional action, the SS Trust Fund reserves will be exhausted in 2035. And unless Congress acts before then to increase SS revenue and/or reduce SS expenses, when the Trust Fund is dry an across-the-board cut in benefits will affect everyone. That's because with the Trust Fund empty, Social Security can only pay out as much money as it receives in revenue and it's currently estimated that, in 2035, that will result in a cut of 21% for everyone. Sadly, the actions needed to correct Social Security's financial issues are well known; what's missing is bipartisan cooperation in Congress to implement the changes needed.

There is no doubt that Social Security needs reform to be able to sustain full benefits for future generations and, hopefully, Congress will step forward soon to make those changes. Historically, any changes made to Social Security do not affect those who are already collecting benefits (it would be political suicide to do that), but rather will apply to future beneficiaries (much more palatable politically). Of course, that cannot be guaranteed but, if history is our guide, changes will eventually be made which shore up Social Security's finances, and those changes will affect only those who are not yet eligible to collect benefits.

As for Medicare, part of the FICA payroll taxes paid by every American worker includes an amount (1.45%) to pay for Medicare Part A (hospitalization) coverage for Medicare beneficiaries. Any excess collected goes into an "HI Trust Fund" reserved for paying Medicare Part A expenses. According to latest reports the HI Trust Fund is projected to run dry in about 2026 at which point, theoretically, only hospital expenses equal to revenue could be paid.

Medicare Part B coverage (for doctors and other outpatient services) is paid for from two sources – one source is the monthly premiums which are paid by every Part B beneficiary, and the other source is the Government's General Treasury (which picks up the difference between what is collected in Part B premiums and what is needed to pay healthcare expenses). Similarly, it's expected that the Government will shore up Medicare Part A as needed when the time comes (which it has in the past). So, while Medicare is clearly under a lot of financial stress from the ever-increasing cost of healthcare, it's highly doubtful that the program is in any danger going away. More probably, Congress will look to cut the program's expense structure, which would affect medical service providers more than individuals.
