

NBCDC Rejects Plans for New Center

NBCDC has made some major renovations recently to the interior of the building, painting, new gym floor, child day care area and updated offices.

The Board of Directors of the North Buffalo Community Development Corporation (N.B.C.D.C.) rejecting plans made by The City of Buffalo and The McGuire Development Corporation to build a new facility on the site of the existing North Buffalo Community Center at 203 Sanders Road in North Buffalo. The plans are to demolish the current facility and build a three-story low-income senior apartment building with a community center on the first floor. As reported in last week's Buffalo Rocket the redevelopment effort will consist of a revamped 11,000 sq. ft. community center and 43 senior apartments above and around it. Silvestri Architects designed the $11 million dollar project.

The N.B.C.D.C. has expressed an interest to purchase the property from the City of Buffalo to continue to run the center and its programs. The center has made some major renovations recently to the interior of the building, painting, new gym floor, child day care area and updated offices including a state-of-the-art conference/meeting room.

North Buffalo's only community center, which serves hundreds of low income children, families and seniors yearly (and for more than 40 years) with

Albright-Knox Northland's New Exhibition

On Saturday, September 26, Albright-Knox Northland will open a new exhibition titled Seven Contemplations, by Caledonia Curry (American, born 1977), who works under the name Swoon. Curry is a New York City-based artist who has achieved international acclaim for her immersive installations, community-based projects, and intricate portraits wheat-pasted on city streets. Her work is widely recognized for advancing the conceptual and formal limits of public artwork, following her vision for art as a catalyst for social transformation and healing. The exhibition will be on view through January 10, 2021.

Swoon's site-specific installation at Albright-Knox Northland builds on 20 years of works created in response to the architecture, scale, and spontaneous interactions of the urban landscape. Seven Contemplations is a monumental exhibition that reimagines every surface of the cavernous 8,000-square-foot space with block-print portraits, paper-cut patterns, and sculptural forms that echo

Walk Off Hunger

As FeedMore WNY continues to respond to the increased need for food assistance in the community as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, the FeedMore WNY Foundation encourages Western New Yorkers to support their neighbors in need by participating in Walk Off Hunger from October 3 through October 10, 2020. Presented by M&T Bank, Walk Off Week is a hybrid of the traditional Walk Off Hunger event and offers a variety of ways to participate, including attending meet-up events that adhere to social distancing guidelines, downloading a DIY walk route to follow or simply choosing your own favorite trail.

Registration is $25 per person or $20 per person for groups of four or more participants. Registration is free for youth ages 15 and younger. Participants will receive a reusable tote bag, a mask, hand sanitizer, bottled water and more. Walk Off Hunger participants also will have the chance to participate in an online auction. To register or for more information, visit www.feedmorewny.org.

"While hunger has long been a problem in Western New York, the need for food assistance has dramatically increased because of the pandemic. Sadly, as many as one in six individuals may be at risk of hunger in FeedMore WNY's service area. Events like Walk Off Hunger make it possible for FeedMore WNY to continue to provide nutritious food to children, families, veterans and older adults struggling with hunger," Kristen Hanson, Walk Off Hunger co-chair and vice president of Center Store, Our Brands and Pharmacy for Tops Friendly Markets, said. Hanson also serves on FeedMore WNY's Board of

Sabres Land Veteran Center Erik Staal In Trade

Sabres new General Manager Kevyn Adams earned kudos for his first transaction in his new role when he acquired veteran center Eric Staal from the Minnesota Wild. Staal scored 19 goals and 47 points for Minnesota in the pandemic shortened 2019-20 season. That projects to 22 goals and 56 points over a full season.

The acquisition gives Buffalo what they have needed for two seasons since the disaster that was the trade of Ryan O'Reilly, a solid second line center behind Jack Eichel. The Sabres are a team sorely lacking in top flight talent and Staal gives them another talented scoring forward.

Adams and Staal were teammates on Carolina's Stanley Cup winner in 2005-06, the year they eliminated the Sabres in the eastern Conference finals. In fact Staal and Adams were sat next to each other in the Canes dressing room.

While Staal is 35 and turning 36 soon on October 28th, a rather advanced age for in the increasingly youth driven NHL, he has aged rather well. After an 11 goals rookie season in 2003-04, he exploded with 45 goals and 100 points as a sophomore earning the second team all star honors behind Joe Thornton. After scoring 322 goals and 775 points in 909 games with the Hurricanes, he was traded to the Wild. Stall scored 28 goals in 2006-07 for Minnesota and surprised those who thought he was on the downward slide in his career by scoring 42 goals the next season. In four seasons with the Wild he played 311 games, scoring 111 goals and 240 points.

With Staal on the second line the Sabres will have the luxury of easing incoming 19 year old prospect Dylan Cozens into a third or fourth line role. While Cozens has been a scoring star in junior hockey the jump to the NHL is a big step up in competition. The Sabres can avoid the mistake they made with Casey Mittelstadt who was their top pick drafted 8th overall in 2017. Mittelstadt was thrust into a second line role in 2018-19 at age 19 just one year out of high school and was overwhelmed as evidenced by his 17 goals in 114 NHL games. He spent the last season developing his game in Rochester where he can be expected to remain as Buffalo center ice roster spots are now filled with established players Eichel, Staal, Larsson and the highly regarded prospect Cozens.

The Sabres traded Marcus Johanson straight up for Staal, getting a more productive player and saving $1.25 million on their tight salary cap. He could also help Jeff Skinner find his scoring touch, Staal and Skinner played together for Carolina where thy had productive seasons. Staal is also a good asset for a deadline deal in case the Sabres season goes poorly.

Of utmost importance is Staal providing veteran leadership for a team lacking veterans. He can take some of that role off the shoulders of Eichel who at age 23 is a young player himself and being the go to guy with the media, star player and mentor to his teammates is just too much t expect. Next up for Adams and the Sabres is the NHL Entry Draft where they hold the eighth overall pick. The organization needs a good selection to build the prospect pool. A player drafted in that spot can't be expected to make an impact in the league for as long as five years. Staal gets them maybe two years of good production when he turns 38. The team can't afford more unproductive first round selection like Alex Nylander (2016) and Mittelstadt (2017).

Northwest Buffalo Beat

by Joe Bartz

A Little History on the North Buffalo Community Center

Forty years ago, the question in North Buffalo was does the area really need a community center? Other neighborhoods had already had an identity to serve the residents of their immediate area. A place that would be a center that they can call their own. Riverside had at least one. West side had a couple, East side had many, South Buffalo had one. I do recall the argument that North Buffalo being the most affluent neighborhood, did not need this type of facility. The city, to silence those who felt it was essential to have such a facility, opened a store front on the corner of Hertel and Fairchild with a small staff. If I recall correctly, Tony Masiello was the North District Councilman.

It soon became apparent that this stop gag site was nowhere near adequate to do the things that needed to be done to properly address the problems that arise daily in any area. Finally, money was allotted to North Buffalo to seek a site to either build or convert an existing building into a much more functional identity to better serve the community. A site committee was formed, and I happened to be on it. Looking back some of the sites were none you would have even considered. There was an abandoned bicycle factory where K-Mart is now located. That whole area was a field. Another was the large area left by the discontinuing of the railroad that ran across Delaware, Colvin and Starin. It is now the Target plaza. The final place selected was an unused annex to 81, school 88 on Sanders Road.

Much had to be done to make this a place for area residents to go to for information, meetings, and social events. Over the years under the guidance of people like Bob Ryan and Phylliss Rodgers the North Buffalo Community Center became the hub of community activity. A gym was added and did so much to fill the needs of area youths as far as a place to go for after school. Our Kiwanis Club used this gym for fund raisers like a basketball tournament, we played the Silver Wheels in football, (physically challenged group in wheelchairs). Used the meeting rooms for many meetings, and functions. Not to mention all the programs for senior citizens. I have dozens of pictures of former Councilman Al Cappola mixing with seniors at this center. Wonder how he feels about this proposal to tear it down.

Little bit of history about a place that has been a major part of North Buffalo for the last forty some years. I just happened to have been there and seen it. Seen it grow over the years. Met and worked with so many dedicated men and women working for the good of the residents of their area. Whatever happens it has achieved its goal of serving this area with services that are necessary, for many years.

My hope is that they do the right thing. People are living longer, and it seems that more and more senior citizens apartments are needed and going up in record numbers. Is this one needed enough to take away what is at this point in time a well-run community center. As I read it, this will be the demise of the NBCDC as we know it. Even though there is promise of a center in the new building, the time needed to construct a new facility is too long for our present

There is probably more to this than I know. I am just speaking from what I do know and what I have experienced over the many years. Again, I hope they do the right thing with North Buffalo residents in mind. This is your neighborhood, investigate it and voice your opinion. Once they tear it down, it will be gone forever.

Ask Rusty- No Dumb Questions About Social Security

Dear Rusty: I have some questions about Social Security, but I've never been old before so these may be dumb questions.

1. My 66th birthday is in October 2021; do I put in for Social Security in January 2022? Or when?

2. I am a 30-year military retiree. Do I need to bring my DD-214 to the SSA Office when I apply?

3. My wife has not held a job outside the home, but she has worked as hard if not harder than me running and taking care of our home and affairs when I was away a lot of the time. She turns 66 in September 2022. Can she apply for Social Security and, if so, does she get a percentage of what I get?

Thank you for any help you can give me. Signed: Retired Military

Dear Retired Military: There are no "dumb

questions," especially when it comes to Social Security which has over 2,700 different rules sure to perplex even the most learned among us. I'll answer your questions in the order you posed them:

1. Your full retirement age (or "FRA") is 66 years and 2 months. Your FRA is when you get 100% of the benefit you've earned from a lifetime of working. Claiming earlier will mean a reduced benefit; waiting longer can mean a larger benefit. If you wish to claim benefits at your full retirement age in December 2021, you should apply for those benefits in September 2021 (SS suggests you apply 3 months before you wish benefits to begin). Just be sure to specify your benefit start month as December to get your full benefit.

2. You do not need your

DD-214 when you apply for Social Security. Your earnings during your military career are already known to Social Security and will, along with any non-military earnings, form the basis for your Social Security benefit. Your SS benefit will be based upon the highest-earning 35-years of your lifetime earnings career (adjusted for inflation). You do not need to go to the SS office to apply; you can apply over the phone (call to make an appointment first) or online at www.ssa.gov/retire. Applying online is by far the easiest way to claim your benefits.

3. Even though your wife is not eligible for SS benefits on her own work record, she can still collect a spousal benefit from you. If she waits until she reaches her FRA before she claims, she'll get 50% of the benefit you are entitled to at your full retirement age. Your wife's FRA is 66 years and 4 months and, although she can claim the spouse benefit before that, if she does it will be actuarially reduced according to the number of months before her FRA that she claims. FYI, your wife cannot collect her spousal benefit until you have started to collect your benefits.

Finally, thank you for your many years of service to our country. Your pay while serving will be part of the 35 highest-earning years over your lifetime used to compute your Social Security benefit.

day care, after school care, sports programs, senior transportation, health services and meeting space is slated to be torn down via a City of Buffalo and McGuire Development Corporation-Impacto Consulting Associates, LLC redevelopment project.

The N.B.C.D.C. leases 12,000 square feet of space from the City of Buffalo to run the Center for Excellence. After more than a year of discussions between the N.B.C.D.C. and City officials, including Council Member Joel Feroletto, no other building or space will be offered to the N.B.C.D.C. to use during construction of the new building – and a building cannot accept grant, corporate or individual funding because there would be no way to provide services or programming.

Dr. Smith laments, "It's the damndest thing – as the Captain of this organization, I can see the iceberg clearly, but I cannot avoid it - the City of Buffalo has tied the helm."

This City of Buffalo-Mc-

Guire Development-Impacto Consulting Associates, LLC project stems from a desire by the City of Buffalo to reduce its financial burden and to off-load one of its buildings to a for-profit developer. McGuire Development-Impacto Consulting is doing its due diligence leading up to the purchase of the building. Project signs have been posted on the property of the Center. On April 16, 2019, the City of Buffalo Common Council approved a Designated Developer Agreement (DDA) with the McGuire Development and Impacto Consulting Associates, LLC. whereby, "A condition of the transaction would be allowing the North Buffalo Community Center to continue operations out of the facility" (DDA, 2019, Paragraph D, Page 2). The three-story project is to have an expanded footprint from the current Center with a first-floor community center and second- and third-floor low-income senior housing. Contrary to the Common Council-approved DDA agreement, the City of Buffalo informed the N.B.C.D.C. on August 11, 2020, that the N.B.C.D.C. is not guaranteed a spot within the new building, but rather the City would review proposals from all qualified organizations and then pick an organization to run the new Center.

During a public comment session hosted by McGuire and Impacto at the Center on February 26, 2020, the majority of senior citizens who will be displaced by the project and the Center's neighbors were against the project. Ron Deschenes, the President of the N.B.C.D.C. Board of Directors, warns that, "neighbors will be as mad as hell when they look out of their windows and see a mountain of a building instead of the one-story Center as it is now. Residents better tell their Council Member, Joel Feroletto, to dump this project before it is too late!"

Despite the N.B.C.D.C. strong financial status under the leadership of Dr. Smith, with surpluses for the first time in a decade, despite new programming that has caught the attention of local foundations, despite thousands of dollars spent by the N.B.C.D.C. in remodeling projects – the City of Buffalo, Common Council Member Joel Feroletto, McGuire Development and Impacto Consulting, despite more than a year of talks with the N.B.C.D.C. Board, have not offered any way that the N.B.C.D.C. can continue operations via another building or space in the City. Without being able to do programming, the N.B.C.D.C. cannot accept funds – resulting in the permanent closure of the North Buffalo Community Center after 40 years.

N.B.C.D.C. is an education, fitness and civic-engagement organization, which has provided more than four decades of exemplary service to all of Western New York. The N.B.C.D.C. operates within its main campus, known as the Center for Excellence, the Center for Innovative Education (youth after school care), the Center for Vitality (seniors program), the Center for Fitness (youth fitness), the Center for Maritime Training (youth program) the Center for Entrepreneurship and the Center for Transportation. The Center for Excellence is home to Holy Cross' all-day Head Start Program.

Historically (except for this craziness with COVID-19), the N.B.C.D.C. serves yearly and conservatively, 500 unduplicated children (and their families and friends as eager spectators, which equals thousands) with gym and after-school programming, 60 unduplicated seniors with our seniors' program and hundreds of additional residents via special events (rabies vaccinations, help with STAR, HEAP and other applications), parties, etc. Holy Cross serves (COVID-19 notwithstanding) between 37 and 40 children yearly with a rare all-day Pre-K program, which is a life saver to struggling families. The Center runs at capacity at least 5 days per week (except, again, during this COVID-19 craziness). Furthermore, the Center will not be able to serve an additional 62 residents, or however many residents there will be in the new development without disenfranchising their current folks. For more information on their world-class programs, please visit their website at www.northbuffalocc.org.

ADOPT A PET

This Week's Featured Friend: MARIA

Maria is an approximately 1.5-2 year old bully breed mix who came to the shelter as a stray. She was heavily pregnant, and was quickly moved to a foster home to safely birth her children. Now she is ready to find a home of her own! Maria is a low key girl with a quiet and loving personality. She did fine with the other dogs in her foster home, but had no problem telling someone off in they got too in her face. She will need a cat free home, however. She is a little shy with new people, but warms up quickly and is a shadow to her human pals. Her foster mom reported she loved to cuddle on the couch and had good manners in the house. Maria is a medium sized gal in the 40-50 lb range and fairly easy to walk on a leash. She is sure to make the right family very happy! Pet ID 44971114

Because of the COVID19 situation, the shelter is closed to the general public. If you would like to meet any of the adoptable dogs, please fill out an application online (if you are not already pre-approved) , call the shelter, and leave a message with your name and phone number and the dog you're interested in. Have patience, and they will call you back when they can. From there, a time will be scheduled for you to come and meet the dog. Please be patient, and remember they are very short staffed at the moment. Applications can be found at <https://friendsofcbas.org/adopt>
