Jurassic Quest Drive Thru

More than 70 photorealistic dinosaurs are ready to return from extinction to delight families and dino fans everywhere, as Jurassic Quest Drive Thru, the nation's largest and most realistic dinosaur experience, migrates to the Buffalo region July 16-25.

After welcoming millions of guests to sold-out events across the country, Jurassic Quest Drive Thru will transform the parking lot of Highmark Stadium into a fun-filled drive-thru experience complete with life-like dinosaurs, baby dino and trainer meet and greets, photo opportunities, a choose-your-own-audio-adventure tour, and memories of epic proportions.

Jurassic Quest's herd of animatronic dinos – from the largest predators to playful baby dinos – are displayed in realistic scenes that allow guests to experience them roaring and moving as they drive through the tour. Jurassic Quest worked in collaboration with leading paleontologists to ensure each dinosaur was painstakingly replicated in every detail, from coloration to teeth size, to textured skin, fur or feathers, drawing on the latest research about how we understand dinosaurs and ancient giants of the sea looked and moved. Although the drive-thru experience means visitors will stay safe inside their vehicles, they'll still need to avoid the swinging tail of the 50-foot Spinosaurus and the gigantic grinning Megalodon!

Tickets for Jurassic Quest start at just $49 per vehicle (8 people or less) and are available only at www.jurassicquest.com. An audio tour comes standard with every purchase (choose from two; special accommodations can be made for the hearing impaired) as well as a safari-style digital souvenir photo of your vehicle and family transported back in time via a Jurassic setting.

Mayor visits Shoshone Park

Mayor Byron Brown with League President of Hertel North Park Youth Baseball Don Morris.

By Bill Snyder

Buffalo Mayor Byron W. Brown visited Shoshone Park this past Saturday morning and announced a $8.5 million dollar commitment from his office towards the building of an indoor practice facility that the 64 year old Hertel North Park Youth Baseball League has wished for over the past several years.

Mayor visits Shoshone Park

"This is, in my opinion, the best little league for baseball, not just in the City of Buffalo, but in the entire region, in New York State," he spoke over a microphone to a small gathering of League officials, including president Don Morris. "I wish to publicly thank Don Morris and his board of officers, all the coaches, the parents and all the families that are playing in this League."

"This has to be one of the greatest days in the history of Shoshone Park and this League," said Morris. "I can't thank you enough Mayor Brown. You've just changed our history for the better."

Then he quickly turned the brief ceremony over to the playing of our National Anthem. Everyone in the Park, at all six diamonds stood in awe of what just transpired and the words to our Anthem took on new meaning for those on hand. The new year round practice facility would be built on the patch of land that used to be the Shoshone pool, which was removed back in 2018, because of its deplorable conditions.

Blue Collar Working Cats Protect Barns, Warehouses, Nurseries, Wineries, Garages, and More

They're a little too temperamental to be considered perfect, in-home, companion cats. Some are even feral. What's to be done about these categories of cats when agencies like the SPCA Serving Erie County receive them as surrendered animals, or as part of an animal hoarding situation or other type of animal rescue or cruelty case?

For more than a decade, East Aurora-based Feral Cat FOCUS, Inc. (FCF) has provided an answer for this agency and other cat welfare organizations in the state. Historically called various names such as Adopt-A-Barn-Cat program, Adopt-A-Working-Cat program, and more, the FCF Blue Collar Working Cats program encompasses more of the establishments that have taken advantage of the loyal presence of these hard-working cats!

One of the founders of FCF, Edie Offhaus, says, "These are cats of various temperaments. In some cases, they are not exactly feral, but they're unsocial. This program is a beautiful adoption alternative for these types of cats who have nowhere else to go."

According to Offhaus, Blue Collar Working Cats have been placed in various New York State establishments including wineries, warehouses, nurseries and greenhouses, barns and stables, garages, and more. "We place cats in all parts of Western New York, and assist agencies all over New York State, even some in the New York City area," Offhaus states, adding that they do not accept privately-owned cat surrenders but are willing to help pet owners set up a Blue Collar Working Cats environment outside of their residences.

To date, more than 600 establishments house a minimum of two Blue Collar Working Cats. The purpose? "Rodent control, plain and simple," Offhaus says. "Sometimes the mere presence of Blue Collar Working Cats is enough to keep rodents away from perceived food sources or food and beverage storage areas."

The SPCA Serving Erie County is honored to be one of the organizations with which FCF works in its Blue Collar Working Cats program. Several hundred cats who were not viable adoption candidates found new lives through FCF and this program, and the SPCA is indebted and eternally grateful to the team at FCF for dedicating so many of their resources to these special cats with high work ethics.

Further details about the Blue Collar Working Cats program are available at YourSPCA.org/BlueCollarWorkingCats, or at FeralCatFocus.org. Call FCF at 1-888-902-9717 to learn more about adopting a working cat team.

This cat is Special with a Capital S. Found on the streets trying so hard to stay alive with a local feral colony that wanted no part of him, Metallic, or Mel as his good friends call him, has had a very bullied life and yet he loves people. Visit Mel at Daisy's Doghouse most days. He is becoming acclimated to respectful dogs and now appears to be looking for companionship with other loving cats. Metallic is FIV+ but don't let that scare you. He is all cleaned up and waiting for an equally special owner who will showering him in treats and love.

Because of the COVID19 situation, the shelter is closed to the general public. If you would like to meet any of the adoptable dogs, please fill out an application online (if you are not already pre-approved), call the shelter, and leave a message with your name and phone number and the dog you're interested in. Have patience, and they will call you back when they can. From there, a time will be scheduled for you to come and meet the dog. Please be patient, and remember they are very short staffed at the moment. Applications can be found at <https://friendsofcbas.org/adopt>

Can I Get a Higher Benefit Now Because I'm Older? – Ask Rusty

Dear Rusty: I started getting Social Security at age 62 and I am now 77. Can I get a higher benefit now that I'm older? Signed: Needy Senior

Dear Needy Senior: Probably not. When you first start collecting your Social Security retirement benefits (e.g., at age 62 or any other age) your SS benefit amount is permanently established and will change thereafter only if:

- A Cost of Living Adjustment (COLA) is granted (which is usually done annually, starting with your payment in January of each year). There have only been 3 years in the last four decades that a COLA increase didn't automatically occur. This year's COLA increase was 1.3%.
- You later became eligible for a higher spousal benefit because your husband started collecting benefits after you first claimed, and your benefit amount at your full retirement age (FRA) was less than 50% of your husband's FRA benefit amount.
- You later became eligible for a higher survivor benefit because your husband passed away and his Social Security benefit was more than you were receiving (you would need to apply separately for your survivor benefit).

- You had later earnings which were higher than any of the 35 years over your lifetime used to originally compute your benefit when you first applied. Past years earnings are adjusted for inflation, so original earnings amounts in prior years are increased to today's dollar value to see if your recent earnings are higher.

If you are working, Social Security monitors your earnings (and your contributions through payroll taxes) every year to see if you are due a benefit increase and, if appropriate, it is automatically given. COLA increases are also automatically given effective with each December's benefit (paid in January) if such an increase is appropriate due to inflation as measured by the national Consumer Price Index. So, the only other possible way your current benefit could be increased now is if 1) you didn't claim a spousal benefit when you were eligible and you are still eligible because your husband is still living, or, 2) your husband is now deceased, and you didn't apply for a higher survivor benefit you were entitled to when he died. If either of those are true, then you should contact Social Security to request your higher benefit.

You do not, however, get a benefit increase simply because you are now older than you were when you first claimed Social Security. COLA will slightly increase your benefit automatically most years, but unless one or more of the other conditions above apply, your benefits won't change further as you age.

Northwest Buffalo Beat

by Joe Bortz

In the good old Summertime.

A Rainbow Bridge over the Horseshoe Falls.

Last Sunday we experienced the Summer Solstice, the first day of summer. My late brother Eddie, who was an eight-grade science teacher before he retired, used to treat his friends on social media with an explanation of why the seasons change. Most know it is the positioning of the sun on this planet and depending on where you live, how it affects you. We know what happened here. It is Summertime. Longer days and shorter nights. Outdoor living and all that you can get of fresh air and warmth for at least the three months when old sol hits the Tropic of Cancer. (Why it is summer here.)

are the best in the country. As far as I know it has never hit 100 degrees yet in the Queen city on the Lake. It does get hot and humid but not that unbearable heat I have experienced in Florida. This year out west it went as high as 124 degrees. I grew up without air conditioning except for an open window and a water hose, but other than that we just lived with it and most time, loved it. As a kid the public pools were open from Memorial Day, May 30th, till Labor Day, September 4th so we always had a place to swim. My youth was spent at the Centennial Pool located at the foot of Porter.

Here in Western New York, we have the luxury of the many beaches along Lake Erie, both on the American side and the Canadian side. Hopefully, the northern border will be open soon so we can again enjoy Canada and our Canadian brethren. Due to the Pandemic, we were denied access to the many things that our friends to the north have to offer. It will be nice to just be able to cross over the bridge which we did so often without any restrictions for as long as I can remember. Imagine not being able to not just go over the Rainbow Bridge to see the Horseshoe Falls? If you have been around here all your life as I have, it was just part of your life. If not a fish fry on Friday night, it was over the Peace Bridge to Canada for Chinese. Going to Canada was just so common it was taken for granted. That is till it was not allowed, for the last year and a half due to Covid-19.

Now we look at the bright side. This is a new summer and should be filled with a lot of the things we had become accustomed to. Picnics, Bar-B-Ques, Camping, boating, traveling, vacations and all the good stuff we can cram into the longer days. We are allowed to have family gatherings again outside without fear. Some of the annual outdoor festivities are being rescheduled. Not the Italian Festival unfortunately for those who loved that event. Some of the local favorites are going to happen. The Erie County Fair is going to be open this year. It is going to be a great summer as we missed the last one.

Summer is my favorite season of all, and I wait all year for it to happen. Sadly, the day after Summer begins the days start becoming shorter. I can live with the longer days and all that sunshine. I remember when visiting Ireland, it got dark at eleven at night and daylight at five A.M. Not good if you need darkness to sleep but just think of the benefits of the extended days. You can go golfing at 8 P.M.!

Since I spend the Winters in Florida, I miss a little bit of Spring and the tail end of fall but what I do see is pleasant and acceptable. Some enjoy the winter here in Buffalo and when I was younger it did not bother me. Winter is a part of living here and if you do not like it, you move. The snow, cold and ice is not agreeable as you grow older. A bad slip on the ice can end it for me, so I planned on avoiding that by spending my winters south. I do like the three seasons as I have seen them all my life. Little different when you see Christmas decorations on a palm tree and no snow. Temperature in the 80's and maybe going to the beach in the afternoon. If I miss the snow, I can see it on the news on television. That is as close as I want it to be for me.

Do you have a birthday greeting you would like to see here? Birthdays, anniversaries, interesting pictures, short stories or even a 500 word column of interest to your neighbors. Send them to me and I will see what I can do. Nothing political or controversial. Send to Jbortze@aol.com

More than 70 photorealistic dinosaurs are ready to return from extinction to delight families and dino fans everywhere, as Jurassic Quest Drive Thru, the nation's largest and most realistic dinosaur experience, migrates to the Buffalo region July 16-25.

After welcoming millions of guests to sold-out events across the country, Jurassic Quest Drive Thru will transform the parking lot of Highmark Stadium into a fun-filled drive-thru experience complete with life-like dinosaurs, baby dino and trainer meet and greets, photo opportunities, a choose-your-own- audio-adventure tour, and memories of epic proportions.

Jurassic Quest's herd of animatronic dinos – from the largest predators to playful baby dinos – are displayed in realistic scenes that allow guests to experience them roaring and moving as they drive through the tour. Jurassic

Quest worked in collaboration with leading paleontologists to ensure each dinosaur was painstakingly replicated in every detail, from coloration to teeth size, to textured skin, fur or feathers, drawing on the latest research about how we understand dinosaurs and ancient giants of the sea looked and moved. Although the drive-thru experience means visitors will stay safe inside their vehicles, they'll still need to avoid the swinging tail of the 50-foot Spinosaurus and the gigantic grinning Megalodon!

Tickets for Jurassic Quest start at just $49 per vehicle (8 people or less) and are available only at www.jurassicquest.com. An audio tour comes standard with every purchase (choose from two; special accommodations can be made for the hearing impaired) as well as a safari-style digital souvenir photo of your vehicle and family transported back in time via a Jurassic setting.

Jurassic Quest Drive Thru adventurers will need to buy tickets in advance online at www.jurassicquest.com. Guests must travel through the drive-thru in the comfort of their own vehicle – no rentals or golf carts will be provided, and walkers are not allowed. To ensure participant safety, all guests must ride inside their vehicles (yes, pets inside vehicles are allowed), no riders in truck beds, however. Trailers are also not allowed. Oversized vehicles and vehicles with 9 or more riders are permitted but must contact Customer Service, customerservice@jurassicquest.com, for pricing and scheduling. A full list of Frequently Asked Questions can be found online at <https://www.jurassicquest.com/drive-thru-faqs>.

the footprint of Garden Walk Buffalo, you're welcome to participate.

There are no fancy garden criteria–no site visits, no judging, no entry fees, nothin'– all you have to do is be proud of your little spot of earth. It does not need to be giant. It does not need to be professionally landscaped. Gardens range from large to a few square feet – register your front, back, or side garden; your upper porch (seen from the street); or your business storefront dolled up with plantings! It is the diversity that makes the event a success.

Garden Walk Buffalo, the largest garden tour in the North America, is an event produced by Gardens Buffalo Niagara, its mission is to create more vibrant and beautiful communities by sharing our gardens with events like the East Side Garden Walk, Tours of Open Gardens on Thursdays and Fridays in July, and The Buffalo Style Garden Art Sale.
