Mardi Gras 2022 will fall on Tuesday, March 1. Following two years of cancelled events due to the COVID-19 pandemic, celebrations are scheduled to proceed in 2022.

Mardi Gras is a Christian holiday and popular cultural phenomenon that dates back thousands of years to Pagan spring and fertility rites. Also known as Carnival or Carnaval, it's celebrated in many countries around the world—mainly those with large Roman Catholic populations—on the day before the religious season of Lent begins. Brazil, Venice and New Orleans play host to some of the holiday's most famous public festivities, drawing thousands of tourists and revelers every year. Mardi Gras is traditionally celebrated on "Fat Tuesday," the Tuesday before Ash Wednesday and the start of Lent. In many areas, however,

Mardi Gras has evolved into a week-long festival. Mardi Gras is a tradition that dates back thousands of years to pagan celebrations of spring and fertility, including the raucous Roman festivals of Saturnalia and Lupercalia. Along with Christianity, Mardi Gras spread

Ask Rusty – About Survivor Benefits For Minor Children

Dear Rusty: My nephew died suddenly at 50 years of age and left 2 children, ages 17 and 14. He was divorced, but they were married for more than 10 years, and his ex-wife works as a nurse. My nephew worked for more than 10 years during his lifetime. I want to know if the children are eligible for survivor benefits and the amount of benefits they will receive, and if their mother's income will affect their eligibility.

Also, will my nephew's ex-wife be eligible for survivor's benefit as she is taking care of a child younger than 16 years old? She did not remarry. Will her income affect her survivor's benefit?
Signed: Helpful Relative

Dear Helpful Relative: Our condolences on your nephew's sudden and untimely passing. From what you've shared in your email, your nephew's minor children are eligible for Social Security benefits based on his earnings record (assuming he worked in a job where he paid SS FICA taxes on his earnings). However, because they are divorced, his ex-wife is not eligible for early "child-in-care" spousal benefits. Child-in-care spousal benefits are not available to divorced spouses under age 62.

Your nephew's minor children are eligible for benefits and their mother's income won't affect their survivor benefit from their father. Both minor children currently qualify for a survivor benefit from their father, and the benefit for each could be as much as 75% of the benefit their father had earned up to the month he died. They will remain eligible for this benefit until they reach 18 years of age (or 19 if still in high school). It's possible that Social Security's "Family Maximum" may slightly reduce each child's survivor benefit to a bit less than 75%, but any such reduction for the 14 year old will disappear when the 17 year old turns 18 and becomes ineligible for child survivor benefits).

The children's mother should contact Social Security as soon as possible (at her local SS office or at the national service center number – 1.800.772.1213) to apply for survivor benefits for her children. She may need to provide their father's death certificate (although SS may have already received that from the funeral director) as well as the children's birth certificates.

If your nephew's ex-wife doesn't remarry before age 60, at that time she will become eligible to collect a survivor benefit from her deceased ex-husband. But claimed at age 60 that survivor benefit will be reduced by 28.5% from what it would be if she waits until her full retirement age (FRA) to claim it (a survivor benefit reaches maximum at the survivor's FRA but is reduced if claimed earlier). If she claims her survivor benefit prior to reaching her FRA and she is working, Social Security will impose an earnings limit which, if exceeded, could result in the loss of some of her survivor benefits. Earnings limits for future years aren't yet known, but the 2022 earnings limit is $19,560. The earnings limit will no longer affect her Social Security benefits after she reaches her full retirement age.

Put Me In Coach, I'm Ready

Hello everybody and welcome to the official countdown of the Hertel North Park Youth Baseball season for 2022. Say "Good-bye" to February now if you love baseball or softball because as of March 1, there's just 68 days left until opening day, Saturday May 7 in Shoshone Park.

At a recent meeting of coaches and League officials, last season's success after returning to Shoshone from the Pandemic year in 2020 is evident in the numbers that have already registered for this season. It's true. Never before has the League recorded close to 600 boys and girls registered to play already this early in the calendar year. As of this past Monday evening, 588 children have signed up to play. It encompasses eleven different divisions, from t-ball at age four and five all the way up to Senior divisions, for 13 to 16 year olds.

There's a lock-out going on in Major League Baseball between the players and the owners but you wouldn't know it just by watching the activity on the HNPYBL website and the smooth transactions being made for a child's Spring and Summer months spent in this North Buffalo Park off of Hertel Avenue, near Main Street.

"The weather hasn't broken yet and already, we have to make sure all these kids will be able to get into their scheduled games," said one board member the other night. But this is a good problem for all the coaches who decide to volunteer their time to manage a boys or girls team from May until almost late July. Every child must play on the diamond and have a turn at bat. No boy or girl will sit on a dug out bench for an entire game. That's a League rule.

Last year, there were 63 teams that played in the Park in nine very competitive divisions.

There were never more than 15 players on a team in any division as coaches juggled their rosters so everyone could play. But with the numbers being huge (588) already, thoughts are to add new teams to a division and keep the manager's roster comfortably at 12 or 13.

Every effort is made to get the games in when scheduled. The North Buffalo League has worked wonders on the eight diamonds in the Park, especially after an evening rainfall, to get the field ready for the next day. In most divisions, teams play as many as 12 to 14 times during their regular season and playoff positions are based on a team's won/loss record.

Presently, the League is looking for North Buffalo businesses who might be interested in sponsoring one of the many teams in the Park. For as little as $175.00, the name of your Company can be emblemized on a child's jersey while they are Yankees or Blue Jays, playing nightly and on Saturdays. If you can help in this regard, go to www.hnpybl.com and learn how a Community bands together through baseball or softball during the summer months since 1957. It's almost time to Play Ball.

Mardi Gras 2022

from Rome to other European countries, including France, Germany, Spain and England.

When Christianity arrived in Rome, religious leaders decided to incorporate these popular local traditions into the new faith, an easier task than abolishing them altogether. As a result, the excess and debauchery of the Mardi Gras season became a prelude to Lent, the 40 days of fasting and penance between Ash Wednesday and Easter Sunday.

After two years of cancelled events due to the COVID-19 pandemic, celebrations in Buffalo are scheduled to proceed. Here are some of those following events:
