

Dyngus Day Parade

The Annual Buffalo Dyngus Day Parade arrives April 18th, set to travel throughout the historic Polonia District.

Get your squirt guns and pussy willows ready. Buffalo's Dyngus Day parade is back for 2022.

The springtime march through Buffalo's historic Polonia district will take place the day after Easter, Monday, April 18 at 5 p.m.

After taking two years off due to the pandemic, the parade route will change this year to accommodate the event's growing popularity. Organizers say it will allow much more room for some of the more elaborate floats in addition to ensuring the safety of everyone involved.

Dyngus Day is an ancient Polish tradition marking the end of Lenten restrictions and sacrifices.

Besides the parade, several 'official festival' venues will offer traditional live entertainment, Polish food, and plenty of polka dancing. Those taking part include Corpus Christi Church, Polish Cadets, Potts Banquet Hall, and Pubski Pub.

"Remember the whole meaning behind Dyngus Day, after all, is one of Resurrection and starting over" according to festival founder Eddy Dobosiewicz "It appears that the spirit of Dyngus will soon be sweeping the entire world as we take back our God-given freedoms and get on with our lives. We look forward to a celebration that will clearly demonstrate the persevering spirit of Polonia and our entire community with the true meaning of Dyngus. It's why the people of Western New York know that Dyngus is more than just a day, it's a state of mind".

Buffalo History Museum Unveils Colorized Exposition Renderings

The Buffalo History Museum debuted a new exhibit, "To Rescue the Color: Salvaged Renderings of the Rainbow City," which features more than a half-dozen colorized renderings of the 1901 Pan-American Exposition.

The renderings – located in the museum's state court – reveal an important feature of the exposition that black-and-white photos and film footage never could: the dazzling color scheme at the fair designed by artist and illustrator C.Y. Turner, the director of color for the Pan-Am. Turner created a series of intricate, hand-rendered composite studies of Pan-Am buildings prior to their construction using a carefully orchestrated palette that visually represented the "fierce struggle of man to overcome the elements" and the "triumph and superiority of Western civilization."

The renderings were originally not intended to last and were nearly discarded in the fall of 1901. Artist Carl Hirschberg – a colleague of Turner's – salvaged them, recognized their historic importance as one of the few indicators of the exposition's noted color scheme, and donated them to the Buffalo Historical Society to ensure their care. Hirschberg noted in a November 1901 letter to Society President Andrew Langdon that the paintings "will soon represent the only record of a great artistic success."

The Buffalo History Museum invested more than $50,000 over a seven-year span to conserve and frame the renderings, which depict the exposition's horticultural, graphic arts and forestry buildings.

ADOPT A PET

Sponsored By The Buffalo Rocket

This Week's Featured Friend: ANDREA

Andrea has a life of the party personality and good looks to go with it. She seems like she is a high energy girl that would love an owner that's going to include her to give her the physical, mental and emotional bond she craves. She has done wonderfully in playgroups with other fun loving dogs. It also appears she knows how to "out" with toys so having fun time in the yard will be great for her.

Because of the COVID19 situation, the shelter is closed to the general public. If you would like to meet any of the adoptable dogs, please fill out an application online (if you are not already pre-approved), call the shelter, and leave a message with your name and phone number and the dog you're interested in. Have patience, and they will call you back when they can. From there, a time will be scheduled for you to come and meet the dog. Please be patient, and remember they are very short staffed at the moment. Applications can be found at <https://friendsofcbas.org/adopt>

Your Child Owns Shoshone Park

Big things are happening in Shoshone Park this season.

The tiny Park on Hertel near Main Street will not only be the place to watch exciting games this Summer. It'll also be a place that makes you feel proud to be a part of this League.

Not since 2019 when the League last had a successful season has there been much anticipation for this 2022 year. With over 1,000 registered last year, the highest in the League's history. by the time the games begin on Saturday, May 7th, Hertel North Park worked hard to make improvements to what tends to be a long summer.

For the first time in many years, the teams that your son or daughter may play on, whether in baseball or softball, will be sponsored by an individual or business printed on the backs of their new jerseys this year. This is a feeling that people are beginning to pay attention to a community of volunteers, working hard to ensure a child's safety through sports.

Next you'll discover just how important the League's rules are to everyone in the Park. Game Day Rules have been issued to all League Managers and coaches before their first games on the schedule and it is their responsibility to know them before a game starts to avoid discussions on the diamond.

The Cleanliness of the Park will consistently be checked and maintained for litter and trash not in nearby totes or garbage cans, The restroom facilities are under the care of a private contractor and all supplies will be available. You will find the restrooms open during all of your child's games.

Lastly and most importantly, your game day experience will be changed completely and forever for two reasons. One is the new appearance of two brand new scoreboards that will be replacing the ones that have served diamond #1 and diamond #2 over the years but had not been working in a very long time.

And two, diamond #1 and diamond #2 are both receiving improvements to the four lightning towers that are situated at each corner of their diamonds.

These are just a few of the many plans that the League has begun to carry out to keep the organization strong and growing in the foreseeable future. They welcome us all back to the Park for another Summer and hope for a great season.

Ask Rusty – Will My Wife Get a Spouse Benefit When I Claim at 70?

Dear Rusty: My wife started receiving her social security at 65 (her full retirement age), and she will be 69 years old this July. I was able to receive half of her social security under an older law. This April, I will turn 70 and will start to receive my own Social Security. I know I will no longer be receiving a spousal benefit at that time, but what I don't understand is will my wife be able to claim a spousal benefit and collect 50% of my Social Security. She presently is receiving about $930 but 50% of my social security could be around $1800. Can you provide any insight on this? Signed: Turning 70

Dear Turning: You are correct that you are now collecting your spouse's benefit under an "old law," which was changed by the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2015 and is no longer available to anyone born after January 1, 1954. You are also correct that since you are now receiving a spousal benefit from your wife on a "restricted application for spouse benefits only," you can claim your personal SS retirement benefit to start at age 70, at which time your spousal benefit from your wife will stop. You can apply for your age 70 benefit now, prior to April, but just be sure to specify on your application that you want your SS retirement benefit to begin in April (to avoid a reduction). FYI, you can do this online at www.ssa.gov – there is a question on the application which asks if you are now collecting benefits from anyone else, to which you should answer "yes" and provide your wife's Social Security number. To apply online, you'll need to first create your personal "my Social Security" account, which is easy to do at www.ssa.gov/myaccount. Of course, you can also apply by phone at your local SS office or by calling 1.800.772.1213 but applying online is by far the most efficient method.

After you have submitted your application for your own SS retirement benefit, your wife can apply for a spousal benefit from you, but her spousal benefit amount may not be precisely as you believe. First, your wife's spousal benefit will be based on the benefit amount you were entitled to at your full retirement age (FRA) of 66, not your age 70 benefit amount. Second, your wife was born in 1953, so her full retirement age is 66 (not 65). If your wife claimed her own SS benefit at age 65, she actually claimed a year early, so it was slightly reduced from her full benefit amount. That isn't a bad thing because it allowed you to collect your spouse's benefit a year earlier, but it will slightly affect her spousal benefit from you and make it a bit less than 50% of your FRA benefit amount.

When a spouse takes their own benefit early, their spousal amount will be less than 50% because of the way spouse benefits are calculated. Your wife's new benefit as your spouse will consist of two parts – her own benefit and a "spousal boost" to bring her payment to her spousal entitlement. Her "spousal boost" – which is the difference between her FRA benefit and half of your FRA benefit – will be added to her slightly reduced age 65 benefit, and the total becomes her spousal payment, but it will be a bit less than 50% of your FRA benefit amount. Nevertheless, you were smart to take advantage of an "old law" which permitted you to get a spouse benefit from your wife while your own benefit grew to the maximum.

HELP FOR HOMEOWNERS IN FORECLOSURE; New York State law requires that we send you this notice about the foreclosure process. Please read it carefully. SUMMONS AND COMPLAINT You are in danger of losing your home. If you fail to respond to the Summons and Complaint in this Foreclosure Action, you may lose your home. Please read the Summons and Complaint carefully. You should immediately contact an attorney of your local legal aid office to obtain advice on how to protect yourself. SOURCES OF INFORMATION AND ASSISTANCE The State encourages you to become informed about your options in foreclosure. In addition to seeking assistance from an attorney or legal aid office, there are government agencies and non-profit organizations that you may contact for information about possible options, including trying to work with your lender during this process. To locate an entity near you, you may call the toll-free helpline maintained by the New York State Department of Financial Services’ at 1-800-269-0990 or visit the Department’s website at <http://www.dfs.ny.gov>. FORECLOSURE RESCUE SCAMS Be careful of people who approach you with offers to “save” your home. There are individuals who watch for notices of foreclosure actions in order to unfairly profit from a homeowner’s distress. You should be extremely careful about any such promises and any suggestions that you pay them a fee or sign over your deed. State law requires anyone offering such services for profit to enter into a contract which fully describes the services they will perform and fees they will charge, and which prohibits them from taking any money from you until they have completed all such promised services. We are attempting to collect a debt. Any information obtained will be used for that purpose. The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of the Hon- orable Dennis E. Ward dated February 23, 2022. The object of this action is to foreclose a mortgage and covering the premises known as 111 Woodell Avenue, Cheektowaga, NY 14211 located at Section 102.45 Block 2 and Lot 30.
