School's Back In Session

As another summer comes to a close, kids get ready for another exciting school year starting September 8, 2022.

It's school time again! Kids are probably feeling excited and maybe a little sad that summer is over so soon. Some kids feel nervous or a little scared on the first day of school because of all the new things: new teachers, new friends, and maybe even a new school. Luckily, these "new" worries only stick around for a little bit. Let's find out more about going back to school.

Here are a few final tips for a fantastic school

- Get enough sleep.
- Eat a healthy breakfast.
- Try your best.
- Get Oriented; the first day of school is your first chance to find your way around a new school, or learn the pathways to new classes in your old school. It's a lot to learn in one day, so don't be surprised if you need a reminder or two.
- Use good work habits, like writing down your assignments and turning in your homework on time.

• Take your time with school work. If you don't understand something, ask the teacher.

• Keep a sense of humor. One teacher we know shows his new students a picture of himself graduating high school — a grinning ape in a red graduation cap and gown. This usually makes the kids laugh, and it's a good way to remind them that school is fun!

National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) In Buffalo & Erie County

NAMI Family Support Groups are for adult family members and caregivers (over age 18) of a loved one living with mental illness. A safe, confidential place to receive support as well as referrals to needed resources, groups are led by trained NAMI member volunteers with family experience of a loved one living with mental illness. There is no fee to attend. Adult family members or caregivers anywhere in Western New York may attend a group. Pre-registration is only required for on-line groups. Family Support Groups (for in-person, no pre-registration needed): Dates/Locations as of Sep-

Buffalo Mullet Champs Crowned At Wing Fest

— USA Mullet Championships will bring the first-ever national mullet circuit to the 20th annual National Buffalo Wing Festival in Buffalo, New York. The USA Mullet Championship official qualifying event will take place from 12 p.m. to 9 p.m., Sept. 3 and from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m., Sept. 4 at Highmark Stadium, home of the Buffalo Bills.

As the nation's official mullet-ranking authority, USA Mullet Championships determines the best of the business-in-the-front, party-in-the-back hairstyle. Top mullet competitors from around the region and nation will participate in the event, with judges assessing contestants in multiple categories, including Continued on page two.

Back To School!

Summer break is quickly coming to an end and back to school season is approaching. Buffalo Public Schools start the 2022-23 year on Tuesday, September 6th. My office would like to wish all the students, faculty, and staff a very happy and healthy school year. Please be aware as you are taking your daily commute that many children walk to school, so it is important to follow speed limits in school zones and petition will automatically earn a spot in the highly competitive “Top 25” Mane Event mullet competition this fall. The top-ranked mullets at the wing festival also will vie for a total of $1,000 in prizes. As the Official Whisky of the 2022 USA Mullet Championships, Revel Stoke, will serve as a mullet ambassador through various bar, restaurant, in-store and online programs. Man-scaped.com is the official hair care line for the USA Mullet Championships for 2022, and an acknowledged leader in the mullet phenomenon. Major League Eating, the sanctioning body of the annual Nathan’s Famous Fourth of July be extra cautious during morning drop off and afternoon pick up times. School Buses will be out as well, so you may need to give yourself a few extra minutes to adhere to the rules of the road that pertain to school buses like frequent stops. Before the new year starts, I want to relay a message to the students, last year was not a very easy one, but you came out on top. This year, remember you are capable of great things and will succeed. You will persevere and meet your goals. Continue to be the best you can be and always make your family and community proud!

International Hot Dog Eating Contest on Coney Island, and USA Mullet Championships recently partnered to further advance the mullet brand through a series of digital and in-person championships nationwide in 2022, including at existing MLE events. The National Buffalo Wing Festival takes place over Labor Day Weekend at Highmark Stadium in Buffalo, NY. Part of the proceeds from the festival go to benefit Western New York charities, with more than $400,000 raised over the festival’s history. This year marks the festival’s 20th anniversary. Ask Rusty – Younger Widow Asks About Collecting Survivor Benefits

Dear Rusty: My husband died several years ago in 2019. It is my understanding that I should be receiving some portion of his Social Security payments. However, when I called to notify Social Security that he passed, they told me not to touch his last check because it would be taken back. I was 8 years younger than my husband, so I am still only 58. I also have always made more income than he did. How do I find out if there is some sort of residual that I should still be receiving? Signed: Widowed Wife

Dear Widowed Wife: The reason you were told “not to touch” your husband’s last check is because benefits are not payable for the month a person dies. Social Security pays benefits in the month following the month they are earned, so someone who dies before month ends isn’t entitled to benefits for that month. Social Security will, indeed, take that payment back. As a survivor, you aren’t entitled to those benefits because they were awarded to your deceased husband and will be taken back because he didn’t live the full month. As for any benefits you are entitled to as your husband’s survivor, you cannot collect a monthly survivor benefit until you are at least 60 years old (unless you are disabled, in which case you can collect as early as age 50). Sixty is the earliest age to collect survivor benefits, but claimed at age 60 the survivor benefit will be reduced by 28.5% from what it would be at your full retirement age (FRA) of 67. Survivor benefits reach maximum at your FRA, but taken any earlier will be reduced by .396% per month early, to a maximum reduction of 28.5%. You are, however, entitled to a one-time lump sum death benefit of $255, for which you can contact Social Security at 1.800.772.1213 (or at your local SS office).

You should also be aware that taking any monthly SS benefit before reaching your full retirement age of 67 will subject you to Social Security’s “earnings test,” which limits how much you can earn before they take back some (or all) of your benefits. The earnings limit changes annually but for 2022 the limit is $19,560 and, if that is exceeded, SS will take back benefits equal to $1 for every $2 over the limit (they “take back” by withholding future benefit payments or requiring you to repay in a lump sum). If you’re working full time and earning substantially more than the annual earnings limit, it’s usually not prudent (and may not even be possible) to claim your monthly survivor benefit before your full retirement age. From what you’ve shared, it doesn’t appear that you are currently entitled to any Social Security survivor benefit, other than the one-time death benefit of $255. You may consider claiming a survivor benefit when you are sixty, but your work status and earnings level may restrict or eliminate your ability to collect a monthly survivor benefit at that time. Once you reach your FRA, however, the earnings test no longer applies, and you can apply for any benefit available to you. When the earnings test goes away at your FRA, you can also choose to take your smaller survivor benefit first and let your personal SS retirement benefit grow, to maximum at age 70 if you wish.

Living Longer

The only people that can tell what it is like to grow old are those that are old, or as I prefer, older. I seem to fit into that stage of life. I find that there are good things and not so good things that happen as your life passes before you and you do grow older. One way or the other it continues to go on relentlessly unless of course you die. Then it ends and it is all over. Personally, I have not reached that goal yet so I can relate to what it is like to continue into later life, or the golden years.

There are so many pleasant memories and some not so pleasant. We all have our happy moments which we cherish. We also experience grief in so many ways. Let's start off with the good things about long life. The most pleasing events are seeing your children and grandchildren grow from newborn babies into children, teenagers and adults. The longer you live the more births, graduations, and weddings you attend. Dance recitals, sporting events, religious functions. The longer you live, the more changes you see. Not only in people but buildings, neighborhoods and technology.

Technology alone is mind boggling. I have lived to see a time where people did not even have a telephone at all, even in their homes. Now everyone carries their own phone in their pocket or on their wrist. We can talk to anyone, anywhere in the world. I recall the comic strip, "Dick Tracy" a detective that had a two-way radio on his wrist. Two way was a fantasy as with radio back then you could only listen not send. This was science fiction. Who would believe you would be able to talk back and forth with a wristwatch. Today it is commonplace. I seen the transition over the years. This is a good thing. I think.

We can go into the changes you see in the landscape, the parks, the homes, buildings that come and go. Went on a recent trip downtown. It is a different world than it was back in the forties and fifties. The new buildings. They must be necessary improvements needed to keep up with the times. I just remember it being so much fun to go downtown anytime, especially at Christmas. The hustle and bustle and the excitement with so many people. Being down there the other day after dinner was a new experience. It was totally deserted. No one anywhere, except Chippawa street.

The West Side and North Buffalo, which has been my territory, has changed dramatically in the last fifty years. So many new buildings, and the conversion of the old abandon structures into lofts. The foot of Ferry, my stomping grounds as a kid, is nothing like it was back then. Seen it change gradually into a much safer place for everyone, but it is nowhere near as much fun. Why was it so dangerous to be just the way it was and challenging. We swam in the river. Now you can hardly get to it.

I mentioned how you see people, not related, that you do not see regularly, change with years. Seen so many people at Bob and John's fiftieth anniversary the other day, that have not seen in many years. Some were just little kids. Now they are older with graying hair and a bit of a belly. That also seems to come with age for some reason. Still, it is so good to see they are still here and enjoying life. With their own families and some even with grandkids. Now, that really shows you are getting old.

Unfortunately, there is a downside to living longer. The longer you live the more funerals you must attend and even be a part of. That is the sad part of life. For whatever reason it is a big part. Guess we must take the bad with the good. So many good close friends, not even counting the relatives. Grandparents, parents, aunts and uncles, even sometimes children. The very worst is losing a spouse. It is so sad and like I said that is the downside of longevity. You see those who are close to you pass onto the next phase. The older you get the more people you lose. Ends up you have no friends left, just family. Not that it is a bad thing, but we must adjust, and believe me, that is hard to do.

Sometimes I wonder. Am I lucky to still be here? Is there something great going to happen that I would like to see. Like the Buffalo Bills winning a Super Bowl, the Sabres winning the Stanley cup. Is there still something I must accomplish before I make the transition? I like that I am still here, but I just wonder, why?

The North Buffalo Organization is hosting a press conference to mark the completion of the Michael Morgulis Mural "Buffalo Unbound" Mural Installation on Thursday, September 1, 2022, 6:00 PM on 1585 Hertel Avenue on the Corner of Parkside Avenue. The mural image was originally created in 1982 and titled "Vanishing Buffalo." At the time Buffalo was in dramatic decline. Forty years later, in 2022, with Buffalo experiencing a rebirth, Morgulis has given his work a new title – "Buffalo Unbound". For more information please visit northbuffalo.org.

The Tonawanda Kenmore Historical Society will host "The Buffalo-Corvair Connection and Corvair History" car show and speaker presentation on September 10th beginning at 11:00 am and in conjunction with the History Museum's Open House held that same day. The car show and presentation will be presented by The Niagara Frontier Corvair Club, Road, Tonawanda. There will be a display of Corvairs and Corvair-related items. For more info please email info@kentonhistory.org.

2022 Fall Bulk Trash Schedule is: South District – Week of Sept. 11 Delaware District – Week of Sept. 18 North District – Week of Sept. 25 University District – Week of Oct. 2 All Buffalo residents who want to properly dispose of used tires should mark their calendars for Saturday, September 10. The City will hold its final Tire Drop-Off Day on September 10, at the Broadway Garage, 197 Broadway, from 7 a.m. – 3 p.m. There is a limit of 4 tires per household and all tires must be off the rim.

Arts Services Inc. ASI invites artists to make their mark on the town of Amherst to submit proposals for an outdoor public art project located at the Amherst Police Department Community Policing and Training Facility in Amherst, NY. Assemblymember Karen McMahon's Office is seeking a public art mural that is "innovative and diverse for the Bailey Avenue neighborhood. A designed mural that promotes community engagement, celebrates the local neighborhood and can be seen via foot or vehicular traffic. This mural should encourage neighbors and the university district to envision themselves and their activities within the design." A panel of qualified, arts and business professionals (including community members of the Town of Amherst) will review proposals for their eligibility and appropriateness for the project. Deadline to Submit: No later than 5 pm on Friday, September 16th. Submission Guidelines: Proposals should be sent electronically (in PDF form) to info@asiwny.org with the subject line 'Amherst NY Proposal', as can questions. Since the site is open and available to the public, a site visit can be done at any time necessary. Artists can also schedule a visit by contacting Dan Rizzo at drizzo@amherst.ny.us to submit proposals for an outdoor public art project located at the Amherst Police Department Community Policing and Training Facility in Amherst, NY.
