61st Annual Kids Telethon

On Saturday and Sunday March 4th and 5th, "Heroes for The Kids" will be helping the Variety Club with their mission to support Oishei Children's Hospital and the Variety Dr. Robert Warner Rehabilitation Center.

We are excited to announce details on the 61st Annual Variety Kids Telethon! With over 60+ years of serving and helping the families and children who need help here in our hometown, Variety is proud to produce the longest locally produced Telethon in the United States.

The 61st Annual Variety Kids Telethon will once again be staged from the Variety Club Headquarters, 6114 Broadway in Lancaster from 6pm – 11pm Saturday, March 4th, 2023, broadcast on WGRZ TV Channel 2, and streaming LIVE at www.wgrz.com.

The Sunday telecast will air from 10am – 8pm LIVE on WBBZ-TV, Your Hometown MeTV Station (Channel 67.1 on-air; Cable 5; FiOS 5; Dish 5; DirecTV67). The Sunday presentation will be streamed LIVE on the Variety Club of Buffalo Facebook page.

Now entering its 61st year, the Variety Kids Telethon has continued because of the support from tens of thousands of Western New Yorkers who watch, and pledge their support each year, along with corporate partners who participate in our "Corporate Match."

Proceeds benefit dozens of local children's charities, in addition to Oishei Children's Hospital and the Variety Tent #7/Robert Warner MD Rehabilitation Center there. The Telethon raised over $906,000 in 2022.

The 61st Annual Variety Kids Telethon will honor the many "Hometown Heroes" here in Buffalo & WNY. Variety is proud to be able to spotlight those who have helped others, serving as inspiration to support the children and families we serve.

A Heart-Breaking & Hilarious One-Man Show From SGT

Second Generation Theatre presents Duncan Macmillan's EVERY BRILLIANT THING March 3-19 at the Shea's Smith Theatre. The one-man show features Kevin Craig, and is the directorial debut of Charmagne Chi, one of Buffalo's best-loved actors and comedians.

Chi says "Every Brilliant Thing deals with some heavy topics but still manages to be hopeful and so, so funny. Finding the lightness and comedy, even when we're in crisis, is something I excel at, but even more than that, I think laughter is necessary when things are most bleak. It can literally be a

Pray For Ukraine

You cannot placate a bully. The only way to stop the aggression of an aggressor: use force. The foreign policy weakness exhibited by British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain more than 80 years ago led to World War II. In 1938, Adolf Hitler set his sights on annexation of Czechoslovakia. Chamberlain traveled to Germany to appease Hitler, the outcome being the “Munich Agreement” of 1938. Germany would not be stopped from claiming a section of Czechoslovakia as its own. Chamberlain jubilantly declared “peace in our time.” Hitler ignored the peace pact, annexed the rest of Czechoslovakia, and invaded Poland. This led to World War II and the atrocity that killed millions of Jews in the Holocaust.

The same circumstances played out in 2014 when Russian President Vladimir Putin invaded and annexed a portion of Ukraine: Crimea. The global reaction was similar to when Hitler claimed Czechoslovakia as his own: appeasement. The United States did not send representatives to the Winter Paralympics in Russia. The “Group of Eight,” a collaboration of global superpowers, kicked Russia out. That was it. Hitler did not stop following the annexation of Czechoslovakia. Putin did not stop with the annexation of Crimea. On February 24th, 2022, he invaded all of Ukraine.

My family came to America in 1965. They hail from a rural Ukrainian village called Horajec (Hoe-Rye-Its) on the western border of Poland. My Baba (Grandmother) and Dido (grandfather) were farmers. They fled Ukraine during World War II. They survived the Holodomor wheat famine, when Russian dictator Joseph Stalin hoarded wheat, starving millions of Ukrainians to death. My Ukrainian roots were firmly planted at birth, when I was baptized at Saint Nicholas Ukrainian Catholic Church. Every Saturday night, Pani (Mrs.) Emily Swiatkiwsky taught me the Ukrainian alphabet and how to read our language using “Dick and Jane” type books before working at the Saint Nicholas bingo hall.

We kept our Ukrainian culture strong by attending summer camp outside of Fillmore, New York, and supporting the Dnipro Ukrainian Cultural Center in Buffalo. My family is there Friday nights, where our son attends CYM (pronounced Soom), an educational/cultural association for kids. For years my father-in-law Roman “Ray” collected money, clothing, and medical supplies, and shipped them directly to Ukraine. After the invasion of Crimea in 2014, Ray gathered military supplies and shipped them to the front lines.

At first, our supply chain was cut off, so we had to find a distributor on the Polish border, who in turn would drive supplies into Ukraine. Polish Priest Father Walter Grabowski at Saint Gabriel's in Elma did the same, sending money to his niece in Poland, who in turn supports Ukrainians and refugees.

Putin expected Ukraine to fall into his hands in days. One year later, war rages on. Thankfully Ukraine and the world fought back. Many countries imposed tough economic sanctions that hit Putin in the pocketbook.

The United States, Poland, and allies continue to give aid and support to Ukraine as it still beats back a bruised and battered, but not completely defeated Russia.

I understand resistance from some in the United States that argue: why should we send billions to Ukraine when Americans need support here? If the world doesn't stop Putin now, Poland will be next, no different than Hitler. Global security is America's concern. The safety of our great nation and the world depends on defeating Putin in Ukraine and stopping the invasion of other nations.

This past week, my wife Ashley and I baptized our baby girl Victoria Anna at Saint Nicholas, the same church where both of us were baptized. We named her after her two Ukrainian Baba's, but also wanted “Victoria” to be her first name since she was born right after Putin attacked Ukraine. She will forever be associated with “Victory.” We thought it would be a fitting tribute to name her after “Victory” in Ukraine.

As a Ukrainian-American, I continue to pray for victory in Ukraine. We want Victoria to grow up knowing her family's homeland is free and defeated a communist monster that tried to destroy a democratic supporting nation. The world and America will be better places once that happens, sooner rather than later.

A Heart-Breaking & Hilarious One-Man Show From SGT

Continued from page one. life raft. Hope and laughter are central to this piece and for better or for worse I will squeeze every bit of comedy out of a moment. It's what I've spent my entire Buffalo theatrical career doing as an actress, in my cabaret act, and now, as a director. It's so exciting working with Kevin's unique comedic voice and letting it shine in this brilliant play.”

A 70-minute show, the audience plays a major role in the telling of the Narrator's story. According to Craig, “It's a really different vibe than what we're used to thinking of as ‘audience participation’ and gives me the chance as the actor to really connect with someone. It will be a different show every night. I really look forward to the intimacy and sense of community that comes with casting the audience as characters in the play.”

The UK Guardian hailed EVERY BRILLIANT THING as “The funniest show you'll ever see about depression... maybe the funniest show you'll ever see, full stop.” SGT hopes that the production will help continue to stimulate discussion about mental health. The company is partnering with BestSelf Behavioral Health, Spectrum Health & Human Services, Horizon Health Services and the NYS Office of Mental Health. Representatives from these groups will be on site for each performance, and participate in a post-show discussion every Thursday night. “This show is incredibly entertaining, but it also provides an opportunity for honest conversations about mental health,” says Artistic Director Kelly Copps. “It's a perfect example of the incredible impact theatre can have.”

This Week's Featured Friend:

OUR SHELTER IS OVERFLOWING WITH DOGS!

Meet Simba! He is new to us here at the shelter, recently surrendered due to no fault of his own. Simba's fur could use a little TLC in his new home, a nice brushing every few days would do him wonders. We are not sure how old he is....but he is SO super handsome. And everyone knows ginger cats rule!

If you would like to meet any of the adoptable dogs, please fill out an application online (if you are not already pre-approved), call the shelter, and leave a message with your name and phone number and the dog you're interested in. Have patience, and they will call you back when they can. From there, a time will be scheduled for you to come and meet the dog. ## Ask Rusty – What’s the Best Way to Start Receiving My Survivor Benefit?

Dear Rusty: When one becomes a widow/widower, what is the most efficient way to start receiving the deceased’s monthly Social Security? Signed: Still Grieving

Dear Still Grieving: There is really only one way to start receiving surviving spouse benefits – you must contact Social Security directly to apply. You can call 1.800.772.1213 or call your local SS field office (find the number at www.ssa.gov/locator) to make an appointment to apply for your survivor benefits. These appointments are normally conducted over the phone, so a personal visit to the Social Security office isn’t usually necessary.

The larger question to consider is when you should claim the survivor benefit. Like most other Social Security benefits, your age when you claim determines how much your survivor benefit will be. And a survivor benefit isn’t payable in all cases. Consider these points:

If the surviving spouse is already receiving their own SS retirement benefit and that is more than the deceased spouse was receiving, the surviving spouse continues to receive only their own higher benefit but will get a one-time lump sum death benefit of $255.

If the surviving spouse’s own benefit is less than the deceased was receiving, the surviving spouse’s benefit will be based on the higher amount.

If the surviving spouse has reached their full retirement age (FRA), the survivor’s benefit will be 100% of the amount the deceased was receiving. If the widow(er) has not yet reached their FRA when they claim their survivor benefit, the amount will be reduced (by 4.75% for each full year earlier than FRA).

A survivor benefit reaches maximum at the survivor’s FRA. If the surviving spouse hasn’t yet reached FRA, they have the option to delay claiming their survivor benefit until it reaches maximum at their FRA. There is one exception to this: if the surviving spouse was already receiving only a spousal benefit from the deceased (and not their own SS retirement benefit), the survivor benefit will be automatically awarded regardless of the survivor’s age.

If the surviving spouse hasn’t yet claimed their own SS retirement benefit, they have the option to claim only their survivor benefit first and permit their personal SS retirement benefit to grow (up to age 70). That would be prudent if the survivor’s own SS retirement benefit at age 70 will be higher than their maximum survivor benefit at their full retirement age.

If you haven’t yet reached your full retirement age and are still working, Social Security has an earnings test which limits how much you can earn before some benefits are taken away. The limit for 2023 is $21,240 and if that is exceeded, they will take away benefits equal to $1 for every $2 you are over the limit. The earnings test goes away when you reach your FRA.

So, as you can see, there are several things to consider as you decide when to claim your Social Security benefits as a widow or widower. I hope the above information helps you make an informed choice.

Zug

Scenic Zug, Switzerland.

I have one more story to tell about our trip to Europe. The ultimate goal of the trip was to visit Zug, Switzerland, where my wife’s ancestors originated. After traveling much of Europe, we finally reached Switzerland and searched out the little town of Zug. Quaint little Switzerland village where they spoke multiple languages and one of them happened to be English, so we can actually converse with the natives.

My wife, at the time, had Dorothy’s on Delaware where she sold collectables and antiques. So, one of the stops we made, after trying out a Swiss restaurant, was an antique shop. The proprietor spoke fluent English, so we were able to negotiate easily. European antiques are something to behold. Some of the items in his store probably date back hundreds of years. I expressed my interest in purchasing some and shipping them back to the United states. Although the antiques I was interested in were inexpensive, the shipping would be very costly. The purchase would have to be large for it to work.

After spending quite a bit of time at his shop he invited my wife and I to go to his home where he had more antiques. We accepted his invitation and waited for him to close his shop. We piled into his small car, which was very tight, as vehicles in Europe are tiny compared to American cars. We really didn’t know the fellow and we did not know how far his home was. It happened to be almost to the top of a nearby mountain. Driving on the streets we’re bad enough but going up that mountain was really a trip. As we began to climb and got further and further away from the town, again we thought maybe we were being kidnapped. However this time, I knew I could handle the guy.

The road up the mountain was a single lane with the mountain on the left and nothing but down on the right. We really climbed and he seemed to know what he was doing, but we didn’t. What happens if a car comes the other way, which they do every so often? With this road, being a single lane as it is, in order to pass a vehicle going in the opposite direction, they have cut offs in the mountain. One of the cars must pull into these cut outs for the other car to pass. This happened a couple times on the trip up. He thought nothing of it but we were nervous wrecks. You could not pull to the right as you would end up at the bottom of the mountain, hurting or dead.

When we reached his house, it was like entering a museum. The antiques he had there were breathtaking. Hard to describe the clocks, the tables and the colors and the beauty;

it was awesome. I wanted to take pictures but we were out of film. So, he left us in his house and went to a neighbor to get a couple of rolls for us. We were able to take pictures of the little village of Zug, way down in the valley. We could see the whole town. When he told his neighbors that he had some people from The United States they were anxious to meet us. So, we went over to their house and had a glass of wine out in their backyard. The view from there is something you only see in movies. In fact, the scene reminds me of Julie Andrews singing the hills are alive in “The Sound of Music” and dancing.

After spending some time with him and his neighbor, he invited us to go to a party with him. Which we accepted. I was hungry. Down the mountain we went and joined him at this gathering. Really nice people and most of them spoke at least some English. They had a buffet, and I was starving. I told them my name was David and for some reason they kept calling me David Copperfield. When the food was served, I ate like a true American, not like a European. I will always remember as I scoffed down my second helping, a fellow sitting at the table, looked at me and said, “You must have been hungry, David Copperfield”. I have used that phrase many times when someone I’m with, or one of my kids goes up for a second and third helpings. I just say, “You must have been hungry David Copperfield”. My wife used to say it to me all the time.

After a delightful evening with my new Swiss friends our host took us back to our motel. We did keep in contact with our Swiss antique dealer friend but eventually that ended. Never did buy any antiques from him but have the memories of one wonderful day in Zug. Nice people, the Swiss.

Jewish Family Services To Host Career Open House

Jewish Family Services of Western New York continues to expand its programs, requiring additional staff to meet demand at its four operating locations. As a direct result, a Career Open House has been scheduled for Monday, February 27, 2023, from 3 p.m. – 7 p.m. at the agency’s 70 Barker Street location in Buffalo.

Up to 20 positions are being filled from most agency departments, including finance, counseling clinic, refugee and career services, and Health Home care coordination. The open house will feature introductory interviews with hiring managers for each area and the opportunity to have conversations with human resources and other agency staff.

“We are excited to be able to host an open house for job seekers to check out available positions, the outstanding benefits

we offer, and meet face-to-face with those making the hiring decisions,” said Todd Geise, Director of Marketing.

JFS has grown significantly over the past four years, and it is expected to surpass the 100- employee mark by early spring 2023. In addition, the agency has recently completed a competitive wage analysis, shifted to a 35-hour work week, and offers at least four weeks of paid time off, and 13 paid holidays.

New position locations include the main offices on Barker Street, The Feuerstein Center for Behavioral Health on Main Street in the city’s University District, Tri-main Center, and Niagara Falls.

The open house is business casual and candidates should bring two copies of their resume. Additional information is available at <https://jfswny.org/career-fair-2023/>.

SPCA Serving Erie County Holding Free Vaccine Clinics For Cats!

With the help of Petco Love, the SPCA Serving Erie County is holding two vaccine clinics for cats this winter! Both vaccine clinics will be free of charge.

The first clinic will happen on Saturday, Feb. 25, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Lipsey Veterinary Clinic located at the SPCA's main shelter at 300 Harlem Road, West Seneca. The second vaccine clinic will take place on Saturday, March 18, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Lipsey Veterinary Clinic.

No appointments are needed for the clinic. However, cats must be in a proper cat carrier (no totes or cardboard boxes).

At the clinic, cats will receive a rabies vaccine along with a combo vaccine that prevents feline viral rhinotracheitis (FVR), feline calicivirus, and feline panleukopenia virus. In addition, the clinic will offer flea medicine, an oral dewormer, and microchips.

Free pet supplies will also be available while supplies last.

Pet owners who may have additional questions can reach out to Amy Jaworski by calling (716) 875-7360 ext. 224 or by emailing ajaworski@yoursPCA.org.

It was completed in 1965 after a 30 year effort by Howard Higbee, a former Penn State Professor.

Professor Higbee painstakingly plotted by hand, the location of 45,000 miles of streams onto the map. It sold extremely well - until the printer declared bankruptcy and hauled Higbee's work to the landfill.

But reprints were impossible because the maps were printed in non-photographic blue. Higbee was even offered $400 for one of his last maps. And state agencies were forced to keep their copies under lock and key.

Then, at the age of 91, Howard Higbee's dream came true. Computers made it possible to reprint the map.

Then the STREAM & LAKE MAP OF NEW YORK was created.

Stream & Lake Map of New York

Why every angler and boater needs this map

Professor Higbee's Stream & Lake Map of New York is the first and only highly detailed map of its kind. The 3.5-foot-by-4.5-foot New York map shows 65,000 miles of streams plus lakes.

For a limited time -- get 3 bonuses with each map

BONUS #1

GUIDEBOOK: Pinpoint the best fishing in New York with this valuable guide. Easily locate over 3,000 streams and 1,200 lakes shown on the "Stream & Lake Map." Your map guide will take you to the top 1,123 select water for 19 species of gamefish.

BONUS #2

REPORT: Finding Secret Fishing Spots 47 tips, tactics and tools you can use to find your own secret spot and catch more fish.

BONUS #3

REPORT: How Anglers Stalk and Catch Record Fish The average big fish has evaded capture for over 10 years. Find out which instincts set them apart from smaller fish. Stalking and catching a trophy requires knowledge of their unique habits and those special times when their guard is down. Armed with the information in this new and exclusive 24-page report--you could be in for the fight of your life.

RAVE REVIEWS

"It is in showing where to find out-of-the-way trout streams that makes this map such a treasure to the fisherman."

—Joe Gordon, TRIBUNE-DEMOCRAT, Johnstown, PA

"I have one of the original Higbee's Stream Map of Pennsylvania on my wall behind my desk. It's the best thing available as far as streams are concerned. I use it all the time for reference. I don't know of anything more extensive and it is the most accurate map out there as far as streams are concerned."

—Dave Wolf, PA Fish and Boat Commission
