Buffalo Museums To Participate in Museum Day Live! Initiative

On Saturday, September 26th, 2015, more than a dozen Buffalo area museums and cultural institutions will offer free admission to visitors who present a 'Museum Day Live!' ticket, as part of Smithsonian Magazine's 11th annual 'Museum Day Live!' initiative. Museum Day in Buffalo is presented in the spirit of the Smithsonian Institution's commitment to make learning - and the spread of knowledge - accessible to all, giving museums across all 50 states the opportunity to mirror the admission policy of the Smithsonian museums in Washington, D.C. For one day only, participating museums across the country and in Buffalo will emulate the free admission policy of the Smithsonian Institution, opening their doors free of charge to those who download a 'Museum Day Live!' online ticket. Now in its 11th year, more than 500,000 guests are expected to visit over 1,000 museums across the country on Museum Day Live! Visitors who present the ticket will gain entrance for two at an institution of choice on Saturday, September 26th, only; one ticket per household, per email address. These Are the People in Your Neighborhood...

Officer Christine Sikora has been a Buffalo police officer for 26 years. She is a life long resident of North Buffalo, and for the past year and a half has been performing duties as a Community Police Officer. In this role Officer Sikora can devote more time to the quality of life issues in our community.

Officer Sikora works closely with block clubs and can't stress enough the importance of participating. "It doesn't have to be the huge commitment that people assume it is. Some clubs communicate online and only meet a few times a year." Sikora goes on to say that by simply keeping a eye on your neighbor's house when they are out of town can make a big impact. Knowing who should and should not be in your neighborhood goes a long way in helping deter criminals. If you are interested in forming a block club, contact Officer Sikora at 851-5822.

The Adventures of...

Rocket Man

by Doug Smith

'King o' the Moon

Could "King o' the Moon" eclipse "Over the Tavern?" Despite astronomical odds, it seemed in the stars at last Thursday's preview in the Kavinoky Theater. A huge crowd got every joke, sobbed at every misfortune and rose almost as one at the close.

During the later talk-back, one witness thanked playwright Tom Dudzick for creating a sequel that did not require attendance at its predecessor.

"I did want to write something that stood alone" said Dudzick, nearly blushing.

Dudzick, a Buffalo East Sider who cut many theatrical chops in North Buffalo, wrote the autobiographical "Tavern" for the Studio Arena. Its success was equally unexpected and unprecedented, opening in 1994, closing in 1997. The Studio begged for more. Dudzick determined that the celebrated Pazinski family, which had so resonated with non-traditional theater-goers, had more to say and moved them – well, most of them – 10 years into the future, the night of the Apollo Moon Landing, and from over the tavern to behind it.

In this setting, the nation is squirming through the Vietnam war while the Catholic church is struggling with rigidity on divorce and abortion. Dudzick and his more mature but distinctively recognizable "family" confront these issues with passion, compassion, intelligence and humor.

Dan Urtz plays Rudy, grown from clownish Sullivan impressionist to seminarian, the actor nearly a double for Dudzick at his age. His theological struggles ooze sincerity, yet his portrayal of a senior war-protester is falling-down funny. NU's Adriano Gatto breathes fire as his military brother.

Kevin Craig wondrously renders the developmentally-challenged Georgie, never out of the scene, even as a spectator. And fight choreographer Steve Vaughan, besides staging two deadly serious familial battles royal, steps in cozily as bartender Walter, a gentleman who wouldn't mind setting himself up with an order of the Widow Pazinski. "I ain't got it," he laments. Wrong.

Kelly Copps brings the agony of sister Annie, who has married neither wisely nor well, her unseen husband cuckoo for model trains. Kelsey Mogensen is both coquettish and crafty as the soldier's wife, once despised as "Easy-Make" Blake, and Lorraine O'Donnell envelops them all in the sometimes uncomfortable cloak of maternal affection.

Dudzick concedes that "Moon" was launched with more creation than recollection, yet his feel for his characters crosses the generations. Walter's marriage proposal, with clues suggesting that consummation may not be an issue, confirms the absence of romantic age limits.

David King's set, with its vital tree house, works perfectly as Dudzick directs his own work with a refreshing repertory of paces. Houston, their only problem may be seating everyone, through October 4. NINE ROCKETS (out of 10.)

Old Fort Niagara will host a concert featuring four international fife and drum ensembles on Monday, September 21st, and is offering free admission to the fort and concert on this day to residents of Niagara, Erie and Orleans County. The ensembles, which are from Belgium, France, Italy and the United States, will perform at 11 am.

Fifes and drums have been used in the military for hundreds of years. The shrill tone of the fife and the beat of the drum can be heard over long distances, making them excellent instruments to be used for military communication in an age before radios and cell phones.

Niagara, Erie and Orleans County residents are reminded to bring identification that shows their residency, which will admit them free on this day. The fort will open at 9 am with the concert at 11 am. The fort will close at 5 pm (admissions end at 4:30 pm).

The Parkinson Disease North Towns Caregiver Support Group will hold their next monthly meeting on Tuesday, September 22nd from 3 to 4:30 pm at The Meadows in Weinberg Campus, 2650 North Forest Rd, Amherst. They're open-ended meetings where you can discuss concerns that might be impacting your ability to manage and cope as a family member/caregiver; an opportunity to meet others experiencing similar concerns and help problem solve and reduce the stress you may be feeling. The group regularly meets on the 4th Tuesday of each month.

For more information contact 449-3795.

Daley and Glahe Receive New Murphy Award

Hertel North Park League President Don Morris stands with Kellan Daley, a sophomore at St. Joseph Collegiate Institute, and Gabe John P. Glahe, a sophomore at Canisius High School, winners of this year's Mike Murphy award. Both boys continue to play baseball on their school teams.

Boys and girls from sixteen teams packed an Amherst Banquet facility with their coaches and their parents to receive trophies for their accomplishments last Friday night. Hertel North Park League president Don Morris thanked everyone for helping make this season a success.

Here are the winning teams for this season beginning with Ponytail girls in Rookie division. The Rebels finished in first place in the division but it was the Angels who won the play-off championship. Coaches Trey Gardner and Bob Gannon respectively introduced their teams to the room, calling each child up to receive what might be their first ever trophy awarded to them. From this vantage point, the smile was from ear to ear on all their faces.

Rookie Boys were next and Yankees and Blue Jays stepped to the microphone to receive their awards. The Yanks were led by Nicholas Marcello, Patrick "Patch" Pritchard, A.J. Porterfield and Andrew Bebak as they took first place in the division. Blue Jays won the Championship with players like Damone Parker, Nate Waldron, Quinn McKendry and Chad Pacholek.

There were Blue Jay and Yankee girls too in Minor Pony. Evie Gardner and Tori Hatch helped lead the Yankees to a Championship, their second in three years. Blue Jay girls like Julianna Verni, Meena Rose, Mary Kate Wegman and Julia Purpora helped set the tone for the division during the regular season.

In Major Pony, the Cardinals clinched the division and defeated the Rockies in the playoffs. Ellie Robertson, Georgi Gallivan, Anna Gardner and Julia Kilonsky were just four members of a powerful lineup that gave teams like the Athletics and Dodgers as well as the Rockies frustrating times this season.

The Pirates and Braves teams won in Boys Second Minor. V.J. Verni, Gio Amodeo and Joseph Cheman helped clinch the division during the regular season. But the Braves led by Adam Kilminster, Nick Purdie, Eamon Langdon and Owen Moriarty made life different in the Playoffs for teams like the Pirates, Marlins and Brewers.

The highlight of the evening however came at the very end when the Hertel North Park League unveiled a special presentation to two players, Gabe John P. Glahe and Kellan Daley for receiving the first annual Mike Murphy Award for their careers in Shoshone Park. Both boys began playing t-ball together in 2005 and continued playing the game in both the house (Shoshone) and travel teams throughout their young careers.

The Mike Murphy Award, named after the long-time coach in North Buffalo for baseball will be presented each year to a player after they have completed their final season in Shoshone Park. Any eligible boy or girl must play in all games at every level in order to be considered. Both Glahe and Daley displayed framed uniforms of their careers at the podium while receiving their award from Don Morris.

Other Championship teams included the Major Boys Mets and Cardinals teams. The Athletics and Tigers from the First Minor Division. The Senior Pony Athletics made their way to the podium to receive their trophies and the Mets in Senior Boys rounded out the evening.

According to Morris in his letter to the league, it's nice to look back and see what we accomplished. But also take a look at what we can do better.
