Zooper Saturday This Weekend

The Buffalo Zoo will hold a Zooper Saturday event this weekend, featuring some animals who the public don't often get to see. Come meet the animals you might miss on a regular visit to the Zoo!

The education department is home to the Zoo's ambassador animals. These are the animals who don't mind getting up close and personal with people. The ambassador animals are used in educational programming including the Zoomobile and special events. Since they aren't on exhibit, even frequent visitors might not have met these outgoing critters!

During this special Zooper Saturday event, visitors will have a chance to see a duck paint, have a conversation with a parrot, and meet a porcupine! The event runs from 11:00 am until 3:00 pm and is free with Zoo admission. All of the scheduled activities will take place inside the Zoo's Tree House education room.

For more information about the Zooper Saturday event, visit www.buffalozoo.org.

The Adventures of...

Rocket Man

by Doug Smith

And the Winner is...

"Spotlight"! First Mate presciently dialed it up Saturday night. Seeking respite after a wearying day of packing, she went to "On Demand" and demanded it. Rocket Man thought it odd choice for relaxation, but the two-hour tribute to the journalism craft, and then its later selection as Best Picture, confirmed her navigational genius.

"Spotlight," its title taken from the autonomous investigative team of the Boston Globe, describes a year's probe of the frequency of Catholic clergy misconduct and, more vitally, the Diocese's devotion to keeping those sexual offenses from public knowledge. The "fix" was in at every level, according to the movie, starting with the appropriately-named Cardinal Law. In fervidly Catholic eastern Massachusetts, this was a deeply unpopular cause, particularly driven by a Jewish editor, to whom the Cardinal pompously presents a bound copy of the catechism.

All sought to preserve the Church's reputation for the sake of the "greater good," the true noble charity of Catholicism, cold comfort to the victims, the "rapees," so to speak. Their numbers started at a tremulous 10 people and reached, by film's end, 108 DIOCESES!

Rocket Man recalls being pinned on his own investigation of high-school wrestling in Pennsylvania because a coach who was also a city official threatened to axe his paper's application for a cable franchise. Another probe, of shoddy roadwork, hit a dead end when officials told the paper: "If you ever want that road to Pittsburgh, you'll stop this now." Ever drive past Erie, PA? You know where that led.

"Spotlight" showcases every obstacle – economics, the standdown after 9-11, the fear of losing the story to a rival paper which might mishandle it, the careful post-Christmas timing. "Spotlight" ends not with a bang, but with the ringing of countless telephones from other victims. ArtVoice has a category for this which the Academy does not: Ensemble performance. A right clean movie, too, for its "R" rating and sordid subject. Read all about it.

AND NOW – But Rocket Man missed the presentation. Didn't record enough. An organization with so many awards for editing should be able to conclude its own showcase inside a 3 ½-hour budget.

These were the whiniest Oscars ever. It's a wonder Chris Rock didn't gripe that a piano has more white keys than black. While there's a certain smirk when so "progressive" a clique as movie-makers stands charged with the racism of which it accuses everybody else, this gag got very old, very fast.

Good moments, nonetheless: Whoppi Goldberg sloshing about with a mop, and Rock, in what Rocket Man hopes were bona fide street interviews, finding audiences in "The Hood" clueless as to movies with largely white casts.

Good heavens, the president of the ACADEMY itself is a woman of color and as Rock did observe, 30 years ago racism concerned things that really matter. Can't we all just get along?

Register for Buffalo Police Exam

Mayor Byron Brown and the City of Buffalo Police Department are looking for qualified city residents to take the Buffalo Police exam on June 18th, 2016. At the same time, a police recruitment campaign will take place that's designed to generate interest and educate potential recruits about the professional and personal benefits for choosing a career with the Buffalo Police Department and encourage them to register for and take the upcoming police enrollment exam.

"Public safety remains a top priority and we're calling on qualified candidates to answer our call to serve and protect the residents, businesses and visitors of the City of Buffalo," said Mayor Brown. "This is a great opportunity to change lives and be proud of what you do. Through this application process and recruitment campaign, we want to attract high-quality, diverse candidates that can help us continue to reduce crime and also help ensure that the makeup of the force better reflects the makeup of our city."

"The City of Buffalo is proud to have one of the finest police departments in the state and I would like to encourage more of our qualified young men and women to consider a career in police work," said BPD Commissioner Daniel Derenda. "Buffalo police officers play an extremely important role in ensuring our residents enjoy a good quality of life, while upholding and enforcing the laws that protect residents and visitors alike."

In the coming weeks the Buffalo Police Department will conduct an extensive outreach campaign and recruitment drive at local colleges/universities, churches and community centers, providing information about the benefits of becoming a Buffalo Police Officer. This public outreach component of the campaign provides an opportunity for local citizens to meet one-on-one with police officers, ask questions and learn how they can sign up to take the exam. The last exam was administered by the City in 2011.

Deadline for exam registration is May 13, 2016. The exam will be given on June 18, 2016. To qualify, applicants must meet the following requirements:

- Must be between the ages of 19 and 35 on exam date.

- Must reside within the City of Buffalo at least ninety (90) days prior to the date of his or her application for examination.

- High School Diploma, GED or Equivalency Diploma.

Anyone interested in learning more about becoming a BPD Police Officer and to register for the exam can visit www.city-buffalo.com, call 311 or contact: City of Buffalo Department of Human Resources/Civil Service Administration, 65 Niagara Square, 1001 City Hall, Buffalo, NY 14202, 851-9614.

The Buffalo Police Department offers excellent benefits to becoming an officer. Salaries range from $50,373 to $66,031. Benefit packages include health, dental and optical coverage, vacation/sick pay, retirement plan and a continued education stipend.

ADOPT A PET Sponsored By The Buffalo Rocket
 This Week's Featured Friend:
BLANKA
 Hi there!! My name is Blanka and I'm a lovely lady about 5 yrs old that was recently surrendered to the shelter. I'm happy, playful, sweet and looking for another home to scoop me up and take me in. While this isn't something that stops me from living my doggie life with quality, I do have to mention that I am deaf. Honestly, dogs like me live in homes all the time and all you have to do is learn to communicate with me a little differently. I love going for walks and am bouncy and peppy in my step. I could probably lose a few pounds though, because I was fed pretty good in my past home. I like toys, running in the yard and enjoy people giving me a good ole fashioned scratch and belly rubs. I am hoping that someone will see beyond my disability and welcome me into their life and home. I would love to work on more hand signals and eye contact because that is what will make an incredible bond between me and you. I promise you that I will add so much to your life if you give me the home I deserve. LOVE & LICKS BLANKA.

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN
(Never known to fail)
Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. There are none that can withstand your power. Oh, show me herein you are my mother. Oh Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3X). Holy Mother, I place this cause in your hands (3X). Holy Spirit, you who solve all problems, light all roads so that I can attain my goal. Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine.
The person must say this prayer 3 consecutive days. After 3 days, the request will be granted. This prayer must then be published after the favor is granted. R.J.C.
