With the upcoming Kid's Day on January 26th at the Knights of Columbus, 1530 Kenmore Ave, Buffalo, Healthy Buffalo is putting together an event that offers an affordable and fun afternoon that the whole family can get involved in. Kids ages 4 through 12 have the opportunity to participate in a variety of sports activities. There will be a team filming an exciting recap of the days festivities, individual, group and action shots of all the kids, and your child will be introduced to a host of different sports and activities. It is a great opportunity for kids of all different ages to get out, be active, make some friends, and take part in Continued on page three.

H.O.P.E. Youth Summit

The H.O.P. E. Youth Summit will be coming to Buffalo to provide youth education, career opportunity after High School, and the unique chance to help develop Buffalo's first youth coalition to promote positive community change.

Erie County Restorative Justice Coalition, West Side Youth Development Coalition, West Side Black Rock-Riverside Neighborhood Housing Service, and Renovation Church will host the event, starting with a Kickoff from 10 am to 2 pm on January 26th at Renovation Church, 567 Hertel Avenue, Buffalo. The Kickoff event will provide high school-aged youth throughout the area a unique tabling experience, where they will learn about the diverse opportunities offered in Western New York, from local college faculty and business professionals, such as Amazon employees, who will also provide resume assistance. In addition, there will be entertainment from local talents, such as Christian Rapper Kyria and Poet Solomon Dixon, and there will also be giveaways. Admission is free and breakfast and lunch will be provided.

This summit will continue with four weeks of youth education, in part Continued on page three.

Pet Adopt-A-Thon

Local animal rescues, fostering networks, animal shelters, and WNY's pet loving community will come together in partnership with the Erie County Health Department on Saturday, February 9th from 10 am until 3 pm at the Pvt. Leonard Post, 2450 Walden Avenue in Cheektowaga, to help dogs and cats get adopted into loving homes.

A collaborative effort between local shelters, animal groups, rescues and foster networks, hosting a fun festive atmosphere to adopt out a substantial number of animals in a limited period of time. This event will take place in partnership with the Erie County Health Department and feature fun, family friendly activities, prizes and raffles.

This will offer a one stop shopping experience to potential adopters looking to fall in love and bring home a new best friend. Every pet adopted will receive a free microchip and registration courtesy of the Erie County Health Department, and an adopter goodie bag.

There are millions of pets that will end up in shelters in North America this year. About half of those pets will be euthanized due to overpopulation. Every pet adopted at this event will mean two lives were saved. The pet that has been adopted and the one that will fill the space created for whether it be at a local shelter, within a loving foster home or safely in the hands of a rescue. This event will build awareness to the plight of homeless pets and help to save lives.

Emergency Need

A donation shortfall over the winter holidays is prompting the American Red Cross to issue an emergency call for blood platelet donors to give now to prevent a blood shortage from continuing throughout winter and affecting patient care.

"Many people may not realize that blood products are perishable, and the only source of lifesaving blood for patients is volunteer blood donors," said Cliff Numark, senior vice president, Red Cross Biomedical Services. "When donations decline – as they did around the holidays and may further decline if severe winter weather and flu season pick up – lifesaving medical treatments could be delayed." Right now, the Red Cross has less than a three-day supply of most blood types on hand, well below the ideal five-day supply needed to respond to emergencies and daily hospital needs. Blood products are currently being distributed to hospitals faster than donations are coming in. "We hope people can resolve to save lives now – when there is an emergency need – as well as throughout the year," added Numark.

Eligible donors can find a blood or platelet donation opportunity and schedule an appointment to donate by using the free Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org or calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

Sabres Spiral Downward - Season In Crisis Mode

The Sabres playoff prospects are diminishing following a blowout 7-2 loss at Edmonton Monday night although there is a lot of time remaining this season. The team has won only six of those 21 games, a record of 6-15 (6-11-4) since the ten game winning streak. That is the second lowest point total in the league over that time only better than the last place New York Rangers.

The Oilers are hardly a league power and sat behind the Sabres in the standing but torched the Buffalo's porous defense and shaky goal tending for seven goals. The Sabres gift wrapped three goals for the Oilers. Rasmus Ristolainen's flubbed point shot gave Connor McDavid a 120 foot break-away. McDavid stumbled twice and even looked behind himself briefly, no doubt surprised to see that no Sabres players were anywhere near him before scoring. Marco Scandella centered a pass to Milan Lucic like they were teammates for an easy goal against.

After benching Lawrence Pilut for a horrendous giveaway in the previous game there are many candidates for the press box Wednesday night against the powerful Calgary Flames. Calgary is second in the league standings and possess a high scoring offense featuring four players with more points than Jack Eichel's 49. And defenseman Mark Giordano has 48 points. (This paper goes to print before that game so we have no report on it.)

The question has been asked repeatedly, which is the real Sabres team? The team that went on the ten game winning streak or the team which for 21 games has rivaled last seasons last place finishers? The consensus seems to be that the real Sabres are somewhere in between those two examples. But these last 21 games constitute a rather large sample size, 25% of the season. This is rather significant evidence that points to the Sabres being a below average team with a lot of holes in the lineup. At that pace they may barely win ten more games before the season is over.

After the debacle in Edmonton there should be big lineup changes for the game in Calgary including the breakup of the top line. Jack Eichel is now pointless in five games. He will break out of this slump eventually. Let him do so with new wingers. It's time to shake up the team and put Jeff Skinner and Sam Rhinehart with Casey Mittlestadt to give the team two scoring lines. And then see what happens.

Connor McDavid and the Oilers took the Sabres to school.

How to Brighten Your Home with Houseplants that Bloom

By Melinda Myers

Brighten your indoor décor with plants that bloom. Whether growing traditional favorites, flowering tropical plants, or annuals moved inside for winter; their colorful flowers are sure to elicit smiles and months of enjoyment. Just provide the right growing conditions and sufficient light and you will be enjoying months of indoor color.

You may have enjoyed an initial burst of color from traditional favorites like African violets and orchids but struggled to get them to flower again. Maximize your enjoyment and their colorful floral display by providing supplemental lighting. Plants with colorful flowers benefit from brighter or longer periods of light, especially in winter, than what streams through your windows. Grow lights, which provide bright, full-spectrum illumination, are an ideal solution.

You can find many types of grow lights, including simple hanging lamps, DIY fixtures, and metal stands. These are often relegated to the rec room or basement but might be less welcome in your living room. Consider furniture-style light stands like the Bamboo LED Grow Light Gardens (gardeners.com) that will complement your living spaces. They're outfitted with special high-output bulbs, tucked out of sight and more than twice as bright as most standard LEDs. This allows you to grow most flowers and even some fruits without the need to raise and lower the lights to accommodate different plant heights.

Expand your indoor flowering plant collection with a few tropics. Here are just four of my favorites.

Give flowering maple

(Abutilon) bright light and cooler winter temperatures to enjoy their beauty all year long. The solid green or variegated maple-shaped leaves inspired their common name. Plants may be compact and upright or vining, while the flowers may resemble those of hibiscus or dangling lanterns. Select varieties known for year-round flowering.

Create a focal point with the unique blooms of chenille plant (Acalypha). The long, fuzzy, cascading flowers resemble chenille yarn. Perfect as a hanging basket, set upon a plant stand or pruned into tree form. This plant needs high humidity and plenty of light to maintain its health and year-round beauty indoors.

Enjoy the coppery bronze flowers of the shrimp plant (Justica brandegeana). This long blooming Mexican native performs best in bright light and high humidity. Use it as a hanging basket, prune into a small tree or set it upon a plant stand where the cascading shrimp-like flowers can be enjoyed.

Brighten your fall and

Bamboo LED Grow Light Gardens are attractive and have bulbs more than twice as bright as most standard LEDs.

winter décor with lipstick vine (Aeschynanthus). The vivid red flowers emerge from dark maroon structures, resembling a tube of lipstick. The glossy green foliage adds needed greenery indoors throughout the year. The more light these plants receive, the better the floral display.

As always, check the plant tags for specific care instructions.

You can boost your indoor floral display by placing annuals you're overwintering, such as geraniums and mandevilla, under lights to encourage blooming. Give these plants bright light, water thoroughly as needed, and enjoy the extra color. Prune if necessary, to keep the plants full and compact.

Incorporating flowers into your living space will boost your mood and reduce stress while livening your indoor décor.

Oreo is a sweet one year old male looking for a special home. He is a friendly and loving kitty, but is having a bit of trouble finding a home. Oreo tested positive for Feline Immunodeficiency Virus and people do not seem to know that this is not a particularly contagious condition. Cats who are FIV+ usually live long, healthy lives and do not infect other pets. FIV is only transmitted through deep blood-drawing bite wounds. Also FIV+ cats do not have a higher incidence of illness and live the same life span as non FIV+ cats. Come to the shelter and meet this wonderful boy. He may just be the perfect companion for you.

Ask Rusty – What Percent Of My Benefit Will My Spouse Get?

Dear Rusty: My wife and I were both born in 1959 and we both turn 60 this year. Both of us will be eligible for Social Security based on our work records to date, but my SS benefit is much larger than hers. Scenario: Say we both retire from work at 60. For simplicity let's say neither of us works in retirement, my wife claims Social Security at age 62 and I claim at my full retirement age of 66 plus 10 months. What will her spousal benefit be, as a percentage of my benefit, when she starts receiving it when I claim at my full retirement age? Signed: Planning Ahead

Dear Planning: A spouse claiming benefits at full retirement age (FRA) can get 50% of the higher earning spouse's FRA benefit, if that amount is more than she is entitled to on her own record. But if your wife claims her own Social Security retirement benefit early at age 62, her spousal benefit will be reduced even if it starts at her full retirement age. The reason is that her total spousal benefit will be the sum of her own age 62 benefit plus a "spousal boost" computed from both of your FRA benefit amounts - the spousal boost will be the difference between your wife's own FRA benefit amount and ½ of your FRA benefit amount.

Let's use an example: if your wife's Social Security benefit at her full retirement age is $1,000 and your benefit at your full retirement age is $2,400, your wife's spousal boost would be $200 ($1,200 minus $1,000). If your wife has reached her FRA when you claim benefits that amount would be added to her reduced age 62 benefit of $708 (70.8% of her FRA benefit amount), which would make your wife's total spousal benefit amount $908 ($708 plus the $200 spousal boost). So, in this example, your wife's total benefit would be about 38% of your FRA benefit amount, rather than the 50% she would get by waiting until her full retirement age to apply for both benefits. You can apply that same formula using your currently estimated FRA benefit amounts as provided by Social Security to arrive at a more precise percentage, but it will be somewhere in the 38% range, reduced from 50% because she is taking her own Social Security retirement benefit at age 62. Of course, your wife's own full retirement age benefit must be less than 50% of your FRA benefit for her to even be eligible for a spousal benefit. And, since you were both born in 1959, if you both claim benefits some months before your wife has reached her full retirement age, her "spousal boost" amount will be actuarially reduced according to the number of months before she reaches FRA that you claim. The only way your wife can get the full 50% of your FRA benefit amount is by waiting until she has reached her full retirement age to claim Social Security benefits.

Perfect Gift for an Angler!

Stream & Lake Map of New York

Why every angler and boater needs this map

Professor Higbee's Stream & Lake Map of New York is the first and only highly detailed map of its kind. The 3.5-foot-by-4.5-foot New York map shows 65,000 miles of streams plus lakes.

For a limited time -- get 3 bonuses with each map

BONUS #1 GUIDEBOOK: Pinpoint the best fishing in New York with this valuable guide. Easily locate over 3,000 streams and 1,200 lakes shown on the "Stream & Lake Map." Your map guide will take you to the top 1,123 select water for 19 species of gamefish.

BONUS #2 REPORT: Finding Secret Fishing Spots 47 tips, tactics and tools you can use to find your own secret spot and catch more fish.

BONUS #3 REPORT: How Anglers Stalk and Catch Record Fish The average big fish has evaded capture for over 10 years. Find out which instincts set them apart from smaller fish. Stalking and catching a trophy requires knowledge of their unique habits and those special times when their guard is down. Armed with the information in this new and exclusive 24-page report--you could be in for the fight of your life.

RAVE REVIEWS

"It is in showing where to find out-of-the-way trout streams that makes the map such a treasure to the fisherman."
—Joe Gordon, TRIBUNE-DEMOCRAT, Johnstown, PA

"I have one of the original Higbee's Stream Map of Pennsylvania on my wall behind my desk. It's the best thing available as far as streams are concerned. I use it all the time for reference. I don't know of anything more extensive and it is the most accurate map out there as far as streams are concerned."
—Dave Wolf, PA Fish and Boat Commission
