

National Night Out

Millions of neighbors take part in National Night Out across thousands of communities from all fifty states.

The purpose of National Night Out, which is organized in conjunction with various police organizations nationwide, is to inform the public about various police and community programs. Drug prevention initiatives, town watch organizations, or even tips on how to burglar proof your home, are only a few of the educational highlights of a typical National Night Out community gathering. Since National Night Out always occurs on the first Tuesday in August, watch for this year's 36th annual festivities to be scheduled for Tuesday, August 6, 2019 in neighborhoods from coast to coast. National Night Out was first established in 1984 by Matt Peskin of the National Association of Town Watch. The first National Night Outs were fairly simple. In most communities, it amounted largely to "lights on" vigils and some basic information being delivered to the community. The event was quite popular, and attracted more than 2 million par-

Rick Martin - Rico

On July 26th 1951, Richard "Rico" Martin was born in Verdun, Quebec. Martin was drafted by the Buffalo Sabres in the 1971 NHL Amateur Draft with the fifth overall pick. He was the Sabres first selection in their second draft, following the selection of Gilbert Perreault, the first overall choice in the 1970 draft.

Martin scored a then NHL record 44 goals as a rookie, breaking the record of 38 set by Perreault the year before. Perreault and Martin teamed with Rene Robert to form the famous "French Connection" line which swash-buckled their way in the NHL during the 1970's. Martin played for the Sabres for 10 years, tallying 695 points in 681 games along with 53 points in 63 playoff games.

Martin was an electrifying goal scorer and was he NHL's premier left winger in the 1970's. He created many memories for the fans and helped too establish the expansion Sabres as a solid franchise. On April 7th 1974, Martin scored three goals as the Sabres defeated the St. Louis Blues 5-2 at the Aud in Buffalo. Rick Martin led the way with three goals to become the first player in franchise history to score 50 goals in a season.

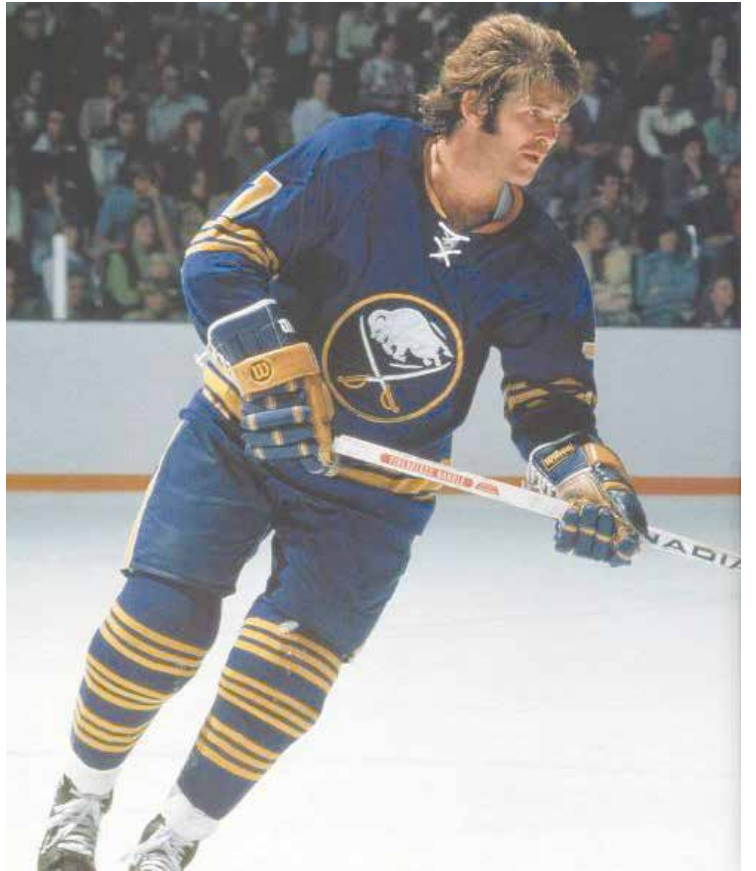

He had some memorable performances in the annual NHL all star game. On January 25th 1977, Martin scored two goals in the 3rd period of the 30th NHL All Star Game including the game winner with 1:56 remaining. He led the Wales Conference all stars in a 4-3 victory over the Campbell Conference all stars earning MVP honors. Marcel Dionne assisted on both of Martin's goals. The game was played in Vancouver's Pacific Coliseum.

The next season in Buffalo the Sabres hosted the NHL all star game at the Memorial Auditorium on January 24th 1978. Gilbert Perreault and Rick Martin, played for the Wales Conference. Both players delighted their hometown fans by scoring with Martin tying the game with 1:39 remaining in regulation time and Perreault scoring the game winning goal 3:55 into overtime to defeat the Campbell Conference 3-2.

Rico suffered a career ending knee injury against the Washington Capitals when goaltender Mike Palmateer charged him and tripped him while on a breakaway. Following surgery to repair his knee, Martin was traded along with Don Luce to the Los Angeles Kings for two draft choices. One of those picks was used to draft Tom Barrasso. Martin played only four regular season games with the Kings over two seasons before he was forced to retire due to his injury. Martin picked up six points in those four games.

During the American Revolution (1775-1783), Fort Niagara was a strategic location for the British and their allies on the Niagara frontier. "The history of Fort Niagara as a strategic planning hub and safe place for refugees will be woven into the re-enactment activities," said Robert Emerson, Executive Director of the Old Fort Niagara Association. Wooster Went to a wedding this weekend in Wooster, Ohio. Wooster! Had to laugh when I first heard that name years ago. Thought it was named by someone from Massachusetts as they have problems with pronouncing their "R". For instance, when they go to a party, they say potty. Assumed at first this was supposed to be Rooster and came out Wooster. Like Rochester is Worcester in Boston. No, it is spelled Wooster. Little town in the middle of the state. Farm and Amish territory. Rolling hills with lots of corn fields. My wife's father and brother settled there. The wedding was a niece's son.

Gone to lots of weddings over the years and times have changed. My wife suggested I bring and wear a dark suit, white shirt and tie. It was going to be hot, so I insisted on light colored slacks and a short sleeve dress shirt. Turned out I was overdressed. My son to make his mother happy wore a suit, white shirt and tie. They thought he was a member of the hotel staff. My son in law wore a Jacket that looked like the one in "Joseph and the technicolor dream coat". Multicolored. Both disposed of the jackets post hast although the white shirt still made my son look like a waiter.

The wedding was as nice as could be expected. The wedding party was well dressed as the groom's father is a doctor and did want some class at his son's wedding. In fact, the father of the bride, a farmer, did not even own a suit. So, they bought him one for the ceremony. They introduced the wedding party as couples, and each did a little dance upon entry. That is except the flower girl and the ring bearer.

He was not about to do anything he did not want to do. His name was Wyatt, but he should have been called Butch. Tough looking, about three-foot-tall, dressed in his little suit swinging the ring pillow like it was a weapon. He stole the show. The flower girl did a little dance, but he refused to participate. She was about two feet taller. He had a tough face like the Munchkins in the Wizard of Oz. Walked with his arms out to the side ready to take on anyone who messed with him. Like I said he was a hit.

The actual ceremony took about ten minutes if that. The whole thing was held in one room. The wedding, the dinner, and the dancing. It was done quite nicely considering they had eight weeks for some reason, to put this together. Wedding party was well dressed, pink gowns on the females and matching vested light tan suits for the men. Nicely done. As far as the guest, remember these are farmers. You could tell. You would think they would at least wash the jeans before going to a wedding.

Told my wife their

would be people there wearing sports shirts with names on them. Sure enough one woman had a Nike shirt on. Not sure if she was making a statement or that was dress up for her. Like I mentioned, I was overdressed. As a matter of fact, I did not know the father of the bride changed after the ceremony from his new suit into his normal attire. When it came time for the father daughter dance, I was shocked. He was dressed like one of the mountain men in the movie "Deliverance". Whatever floats your boat. Did not even take off his farmers cap. Seems the more weddings you attend they are different. Long ago the wedding followed traditions. Church mass followed by breakfast with a reception in the evening. I kind of like this short and sweet. No up and down, no kneeling. Just sit there for ten minutes and applause when it is over. The applause is for the bride and groom, not that it was short.

It was a great time and always fun to see the Ohio Clan. Another one next year in Cincinnati, but these are not farmers.

Ask Rusty - State Pension May Eliminate Survivor Benefit

Dear Rusty: Please validate or negate this dreadful information: My husband and I are recently retired and living on our combined retirement plans. I was told that when my husband dies, I will NOT be allowed to draw ANY of his hard-earned Social Security income. I cannot survive on my Louisiana teacher retirement alone. We were never informed of this until we had worked hard for 40 years & retired. Can you advise me on this dreadful turn of events. Signed: Bewildered in Louisiana

Dear Bewildered: Unfortunately, I don't have good news. If your teaching career and the associated pension were in the State of Louisiana, I'm afraid that any Social Security survivor benefit you might be eligible for from your husband will be impacted by the Government Pension Offset (GPO) – a provision of Social Security which applies to anyone with a pension from an employer who did not participate in the Social Security program. Louisiana is, unfortunately, one of 27 U.S. States whose employees may be affected by the GPO, because neither you nor the State of Louisiana contributed to the Social Security program while you were employed there. It's unfortunate you weren't made aware of this by your employer, but it's well documented in the State's "LASERS" information which you can view at this link: <https://www.lsuhs.edu/administration/hrm/benefits-retirement-nonss.aspx>.

The GPO will reduce your Social Security survivor benefit by 2/3rds of the amount of your LA State pension, and if 2/3rds of your LA pension is more than your SS survivor's benefit, the Social Security survivor benefit will be eliminated. I know it's no solace, but you are not alone in your dismay over this provision. In fact, a bill is active in Congress to eliminate the GPO (and a sister provision known as the Windfall Elimination Provision, or WEP), but that bill has made little headway despite having 195 Congressional co-sponsors. The bill I'm referring to is known as the "Social Security Fairness Act", which is House bill H.R. 1205 (there is a corresponding Senate bill S.915). You can examine it at <https://www.congress.gov/bill/115th-congress/house-bill/1205>, but I must let you know that very little progress has been made on this bill since it was introduced almost two years ago. For the record, the Association of Mature American Citizens (AMAC) has expressed support for the bill's passage, but to no avail in a Congress which is instead debating ways to resolve Social Security's larger financial issues which are now projected to deplete the Trust Fund by 2035. I'm afraid the only suggestion I can offer for your personal situation is to contact your Congressional Representatives and ask for their support and action on H.R. 1205 and S.915.

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN
(Never known to fail)

Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. There are none that can withstand your power. Oh, show me herein you are my mother. Oh Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3X). Holy Mother, I place this cause in your hands (3X). Holy Spirit, You who solve all problems, light all roads so that I can attain my goal, and thank You for Your mercy towards me and mine.

(Say this prayer 3 consecutive days, after which the request will be granted. This prayer must then be published.)
