The AFC Champion Buffalo Bills Banners are back at City Hall.

Buffalo Bills fans to visit the Bills AFC East Championship banners which are now hanging from the City Hall portico to celebrate the team as they continue their play-off run.

“The seven vertical banners serve as a great signal to the city, and to the world, that the Bills are back as AFC East Champions and serious playoff contenders! We are proud of our Buffalo Bills, and by re-installing the banners as a signature selfie station, we hope fans from across Western New York come to City Hall and take outdoor, socially distanced photos to safely commemorate another historic Bills season,” Mayor Brown said.

Mayor Brown, in partnership with the Division of Citizen Services and the Buffalo Police Department, is also calling on Buffalo Bills fans, who plan to stop by the “selfie station” at City Hall, to take part in the City of Buffalo’s Martin Luther King, Jr. Day of Service Winter Clothing Drive.

Support Arts Engagement And Education At Shea’s Performing Arts

Shea’s Arts Engagement and Education will continue to grow their master class program for students in the community. In collaboration with the touring Broadway productions that come to Buffalo, Shea’s offers master classes and workshops in the areas of musical theatre, dance, design, and other key components of performance and theatre development. The master classes typically bring one or more actors from the touring company to teach a class to local students at Shea’s Performing Arts Center, a local community center, school, or virtually.

Evans Bank is supporting Shea’s in other important areas of the organization with the Black-Tie Gala held in May, Holiday Community Photos in late Fall of 2022, and Once on This Island at Shea’s 710 Theatre.

Shea’s Performing Arts Center is excited to collaborate with Evans Bank and bring new offerings to Western New York audiences.

Sponsored By The Buffalo Rocket

This Week's Featured Friend: ROSE

Rose is an approximately 6 month old bully breed mix who came to the shelter as a stray and was never claimed. This sweetie pie came to us in really rough shape; way too thin and with some skin infections that were left untreated. She is recovering beautifully and should have no issues in the future, now that she is getting proper care.

Because of the COVID19 situation, the shelter is closed to the general public. If you would like to meet any of the adoptable dogs, please fill out an application online (if you are not already pre-approved), call the shelter, and leave a message with your name and phone number and the dog you're interested in. Have patience, and they will call you back when they can. From there, a time will be scheduled for you to come and meet the dog. Please be patient, and remember they are very short staffed at the moment. Applications can be found at <https://friendsofcas.org/adopt>

Canisius College Receives Grant From Oishei Foundation

Canisius College Health and Science Building.

Canisius College received a $500,000 grant from The John R. Oishei Foundation to support the completion of Science Hall.

"The college is proceeding with its strategic vision to create a modern, urban campus connected to its community," said Canisius President John J. Hurley. "The completion of Science Hall is key to that vision and our commitment to academic excellence and we are extremely grateful to the Oishei Foundation for this generous gift to help make this happen."

The $17.6 million Science Hall project includes development of 60,000 square feet of classroom, laboratory and office space on the second floor to house three of Canisius' highest enrolled undergraduate majors - biology, psychology and animal behavior, ecology and conservation (ABEC). This final phase will be completed over the next two years.

The college will finance the project in part with a $4.4 million New York State Higher Education Capital (HECap) matching grant, awarded in summer 2021. New York State requires the grant is matched by the college on a 3:1 basis. Proceeds from the sale of the college's Health Science Building on the corner of Delavan and Jefferson avenues, will also fund the Science Hall renovation.

Over the last decade, Canisius has invested more than $47 million in the purchase and development of Science Hall, the largest capital undertaking in the college's history. More than half of the building's renovations have been completed, including the lower and first levels, as well as a portion of the third level. The building opened to students in 2012 with classrooms and laboratories, as well as a large commons area used by students and the neighborhood community.

Science Hall currently houses the departments of Mathematics, Computer Science and Physics, as well as the George E. Schreiner '43, MD Pre-Medical Center, the Institute for Autism Research and most recently, the college's new Physician Assistant (PA) Studies program. The third level of Science Hall is home to the Catholic Health System.

For more information, please contact the Office of College Communications at (716) 888-2790.

The John R. Oishei Foundation enhances the economic vitality and quality of life for the Buffalo Niagara region through grantmaking, leadership and network building. For more information about The John R. Oishei Foundation, visit www.oishei.org.

Ask Rusty - Is My Analysis Of My Wife's Social Security Correct?

Dear Rusty: I am 63, and my wife is exactly 4 ½ years younger than me to the day. I plan to file for Social Security when I turn 70. My earnings history is considerably higher than my wife's. I talked with a person at the local Social Security office, and she suggested that my wife file at 62 based on her own record then convert to her spousal benefit when I file at age 70. However, from what I can tell, if she files before her FRA of 67, not only will she get less based on her own record, but she will also receive less for her spousal benefit, as well as her survivor benefit if I die before her (which is statistically likely). Is my analysis correct?

Signed: Planning Ahead

Dear Planning: Your analysis is correct regarding your wife's spousal benefit while you are both living, but incorrect regarding her survivor benefits if you die first. Here's why:

If your wife takes her personal Social Security (SS) retirement benefit at age 62, she'll get 70% of what she would get if she waited until her FRA of 67 to claim. That amount is permanent (except for COLA), and it is what her "spousal boost" will be added to when she takes her spouse benefit (when you claim). In the scenario you mention, in addition to your wife's own benefit being reduced by 30% for claiming at 62, since she will not yet have reached her FRA of 67 when she takes her spouse benefit from you, her "spousal boost" will be reduced as well. So, claiming at 62 not only reduces her personal benefit, but it also means she'll get less than 50% of your FRA benefit amount when you claim (FRA amounts are used to compute spouse benefits, regardless of the age benefits are claimed). All of which means her spousal benefit will be considerably less.

That isn't necessarily an unacceptable strategy unless she is working, in which case she'll be subject to an earnings limit which will either reduce how much Social Security will pay her while she's working or, if her earnings are high enough, eliminate her eligibility for any benefit until she stops working. The earnings limit changes yearly but for 2022 it will be $19,560 and if that is exceeded, they will take away benefits equal to $1 for every $2 she is over the limit. There is no longer an earnings limit when your wife reaches her FRA so your wife's plans for working should be factored into her decision on when to claim.

In any case, you should look at your overall benefit opportunity as a couple to see when your wife should claim, and life expectancy should always be factored into your thinking. If your wife expects to live a long life (and does), waiting until her FRA to claim her own SS will maximize her monthly benefit (including her spouse benefit) for the rest of her life.

Attend Save the Great Northern Grain Elevator/Silo on Thursday, January 20 at 2:30pm. This rally will take place at Niagara Square in front of City Hall and is hosted by Citizens to Save the Great Northern. In case you missed it, the Great Northern Grain Elevator sustained significant damage to its north wall during the windstorm on December 12, 2021. While the damage is dramatic, it is not as bad as it looks. Locally landmarked since 1990, the Great Northern Grain Elevator is believed to be the only surviving example of "brick box" elevator. A form advocating for the preservation of this landmark can be found at <https://secure.everyaction.com/p846jIPT-EmvOs39Pt5vYA2>.

Buffalo Theater: The Lightbulb Project

"The Siegel 2" play production still.

The Lightbulb Project brings a unique pricing perspective for the theatrical production of the professional play The Siegel they are producing. The modern, romantic comedy runs at the Alleyway Theater from January 28th, 2022, to February 20th, 2022.

The ticket price to see this 90-minute, professional show, in the heart of downtown Buffalo?

Pay what you can afford. No questions asked. "Our goal is to introduce as many people as possible to the experience of live theater. It can be expensive producing live theater. We have a cast of six, stage manager, three designers. That being said, people of all socio-economic backgrounds should enjoy the beauty of a show. We have a standard ticket price. Patrons can pay more or nothing at all," said Lightbulb Artistic Director Lucas Lloyd.

The theater group, whose name The Lightbulb Project was inspired by Thomas Edison (their website references his 10,000 "failed" attempts to find a filament that would burn just right -- a light that was sustainable, faithful, and available to everyone) also represents the welcoming, love, power and purity of light.

A wide range of ticket prices can be found on their website, lightbulbprojectionstage.com, and on their Facebook page is a GoFundMe link where folks can donate to the organization that promotes live theater for all. The Siegel is about a young man who shows up to ask the parents of the woman he loves for their permission to marry their daughter. Only issue: he and their daughter broke up two years ago -- and she's in a serious relationship with someone else.

"I'm proud of our show. It is a hilarious, heartfelt work of art that is meant to be shared. People will love it. While we welcome generous patrons that could afford to support us, we will never deny someone the opportunity to spend a great night with us just because they struggle to pay for a ticket," concluded Lloyd.
