

Happy Mother's Day

Mother's Day takes place this Sunday, May 8th.

In the United States Mother's Day is a holiday celebrated annually on the second Sunday of May. Mother's Day in 2022 is on Sunday, the 8th of May in week 19. Although Mother's Day does always take place in May, the exact date alters each year. Don't forget to give your mother a gift, send a card, take her out for dinner or buy her some nice flowers to show her how special she is. Mother's Day is not a federal holiday but it's a day to celebrate motherhood and show appreciation for mothers, including (great-) grandmothers, stepmothers, foster mothers and other mother figures. The history goes way back: the modern holiday was first celebrated in 1908. Anna Marie Jarvis was the founder of this holiday in the United States. This special day is celebrated in a lot of countries around the world. Some with different celebrations, traditions and dates. Most of them are celebrated on the second Sunday of May, like in the United States. If you are from the United Kingdom or Ireland you should know that it is celebrated on the fourth Sunday in Lent (Sunday 27 March 2022). And if you live in an Arab country the day will most likely be celebrated on the 21st of March.

Food Truck Thursdays Return Starting On Cinco De Mayo!

Mayor Byron W. Brown and the Buffalo Common Council announced this year's list of food trucks participating in Food Truck Thursdays in Niagara Square. This year, 20 participating food trucks will take part in the program. "Celebrate Cinco De Mayo with us this week as we kickoff another season of Food Truck Thursdays in Niagara Square," stated Mayor Brown. Initially, there were only 8 participating vendors during a 3-month trial. This year, 20 trucks are taking part on a rotating basis, every Thursday from May through October, creating another lively and diverse food scene in Buffalo. The first Food Truck Thursdays of 2022 will be happening Thursday, May 5th from 11:00 AM - 2:30 PM. A Mother's Wish Annette Gallivan, third from the left and sandwiched between daughters Peyton, Mikaela, Georgi and Dakota has been teaching the game to countless girls for a number of years in Shoshone Park.

This Saturday, the long wait will be over, The opportunity to play baseball and softball again in North Buffalo will be here in Shoshone Park. Boys and girls, numbering over 1,100 players, will soon be playing their first game of the season Saturday and for the next four months, making the tiny Park on Hertel Avenue near Main Street, their second home.

Ever since last year ended in early September, boys and girls have waited to start this season. That's usually been the case for the 65 year old League, opening their season on the Saturday just before Mother's Day. A day for paying tribute to the women of the Shoshone Park families. They'll be there, supporting their Sons and Daughters as they cheer on the teams around the Park's eight diamonds.

While the Sport has been a rite of passage for fathers and their sons throughout its history, the North Buffalo League has always felt that the Mom's of the North Buffalo families have been the center of their child's success in their young lives. A clean jersey given to all children this week for their first games, will no doubt get dirty during their games. It's the Mom who operates the washing machine and serves the pre-game meal before each game.

Meet Annette Gallivan, one of the many girls Softball coaches for Hertel North Park. Her four daughters have grown up in the Park, Peyton age 12, Mikayla,16, Georgi 19 and Dakota 25, have all had the benefit of having their Mom coach them over the years which has proved to be an extension of their family. Like her Mother who coached her when she was at this age in the late 70's, the four girls have excelled in North Buffalo Softball and are one of the finest families to play in Shoshone.

This year, Hertel North Park has asked the K O Bar & Grill on Delaware Avenue near Hertel to host a special night where the League is lighting up Shoshone Park. In an advertisement here in this paper, the whole community is invited to the K O Bar & Grill to help with the cost of improving the light towers on two of the Shoshone Park diamonds. The Lights on these two diamonds are very important for the League as it carries out its season. With the increased numbers in the boys and girls playing now, every Park diamond will be utilized this coming season.

"The lights were outdated," according to the League's board of directors. In an email sent out to all families last month, the board found a competent electrician who was willing to help improve the Park's eight light towers, four on each diamond, so the players can safely see the playing fields with no dark corners. "They needed to be replaced with safer, more energy efficient LED bulbs."

The Light Up Shoshone Park event will be held from 7:00 - 10:00 pm and will include beer and pizza. Tickets for the evening are available at www.clover.com/online-ordering/hnpybl. There will also be tickets available at the door of the K O Bar. The League is most grateful for your support and looks forward to a great season.

We'll play songs from artists like:
Perry Como, Carmen McRae, Tony Bennett, Ella Fitzgerald, Jack Jones, Lena Horne & more!

Ask Rusty – I’m Working; Why Hasn’t My Social Security Benefit Increased?

Dear Rusty: My wife passed from COVID-related heart disease in 2020, just short of her 65th birthday. I will be 66 in May 2023. Do I have any recourse for a part of her benefit? Online at ssa.gov it says I can retire 4 months early due to her passing. Is that true? I’m confused on these issues. Signed: Confused Widower

Dear Confused: Our condolences on the untimely loss of your wife. To answer your question, you are already eligible to collect a survivor benefit from your wife, but you may wish to consider a few points before deciding when to do that:

- If you claim your survivor benefit now, before your full retirement age (FRA) of 66 years and 6 months, the amount you get will be reduced. The reduction would be 4.75% for each full year early (.396% per month early). If taken at your FRA, your survivor benefit would be 100% of the amount your wife was receiving (or was eligible to receive) at her death, but if you claim it before your FRA, it will be reduced.
- You will become eligible for your full survivor benefit 4 months earlier than your normal FRA; in other words, you can get 100% of the benefit your wife had earned up to her death when you are 66 years and 2 months old. But, if you are still working at that time, you will be subject to Social Security’s “earnings test” which may affect your eligibility to collect benefits earlier than your full retirement age. The earnings test applies until you reach your FRA, so if you claim your survivor benefit before your FRA and exceed the earnings limit, you will lose some of your survivor benefits. The earnings limit for future years isn’t yet known, but the 2022 limit is $19,560 per year, or $1,630 per month for the remainder of the year if you claim mid-year). If you’re working full time at a decent salary, you would probably be disqualified from receiving early survivor benefits (because your benefit amount wouldn’t be sufficient to offset the penalty for exceeding the earnings limit).

- It’s possible for you to claim your survivor benefit completely independent of your own SS retirement benefit. So, for example, you can collect only your survivor benefit first and allow your personal SS retirement benefit to continue to grow, up to age 70 when it reaches maximum. That might be prudent if you expect at least average longevity because it would allow you to maximize your personal benefit while still collecting your survivor benefit (average longevity for a man your current age is about 84). For clarity, you don’t get your survivor benefit in addition to your personal benefit – you get one or the other (whichever is more).

Considering your circumstances, if you are now working full time and will continue to do so, it may be prudent to wait until your full retirement age (66 years and 6 months) to collect your full survivor benefit (thus avoid the earnings limit). At your FRA, you can take your unreduced survivor benefit (only) and allow your own SS retirement benefit to continue to grow, up to age 70 if you like. At age 70, your personal SS benefit would be 28% more than it would be at your FRA and would replace your smaller survivor benefit from your wife. If you’re not currently working full time or if you stop working, the earnings limit won’t apply and you can claim your full survivor benefit (only) at age 66 and 2 months, and still defer claiming your own benefit until a later age for a higher amount (but don’t wait longer than age 70).

Niagara Falls Lighting To Honor Nurses

The Niagara Falls Illumination Board has approved a request from the School of Nursing to illuminate the falls with blue and white lighting on May 12 in honor of Western New York nurses and nurses across the nation.

The lighting will take place from 10:30-10:45 p.m.

Those who choose to visit the park in person must adhere to public health guidelines. You can also view the lighting online.

May 12 is a date of significance for the profession: It marks the last day of National Nurses Week and International Nurses Day. In 2019, just before the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, the American Nurses Association expanded National Nurses Week to National Nurses Month in recognition of nurses' crucial role in the health and well-being of our nation.

As the largest portion of the global health care workforce, nurses are vital to the well-being of society through clinical practice, research, policy, advocacy, leadership, education and more, but have long been unrecognized and underappreciated.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, the world witnessed firsthand how important nurses are for keeping our communities safe and healthy.

Participation in the national and international celebration during Nurses Week and Month is just one of the ways to recognize nurses for their important work.

A quintessential symbol of Western New York, Niagara Falls represents strength, resilience, and renewal — the same qualities we have witnessed, and must continue to honor, in nurses.

This Week's Featured Friend: SLADE

Slade is a handsome young fella that was a bit confused about shelter life when he came in. He walks good on leash, but will need continued guidance once in a home. Slade takes his treats very nicely and is pretty treat motivated which helps with training and creating a great bond. He started out a bit of a loner but is coming out of his shell more and more and appreciating the fun of pets, snuggles and bonding with a human pal.

Because of the COVID19 situation, the shelter is closed to the general public. If you would like to meet any of the adoptable dogs, please fill out an application online (if you are not already pre-approved), call the shelter, and leave a message with your name and phone number and the dog you're interested in. Have patience, and they will call you back when they can. From there, a time will be scheduled for you to come and meet the dog. "This is the year to bring back the sights, the sounds, the food, the entertainment, and the heritage," said Judy Porto-Fiorella, the festival's board president, during a news conference.

The Galbani Italian Heritage Festival of Buffalo is a highlight of Summer events in Western New York. Sponsored by the Hertel North Buffalo Business Association, the West Side Business and Taxpayers Association and the Federation of Italian-American Societies of WNY, this annual event features the very best of Italian food, Entertainment and Heritage that our area has to offer. The proceeds of the festival are divided among the three organizations and are used to benefit the community.

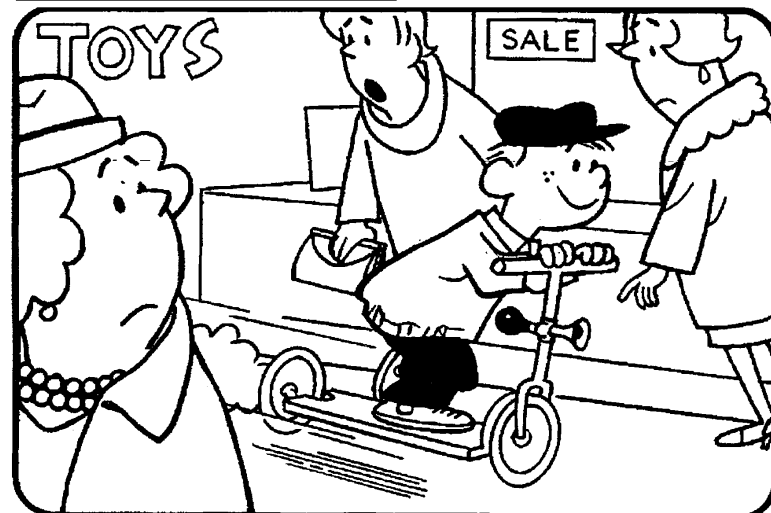

In the mid 1970's the festival was moved to Connecticut Street in a neighborhood known as the "Italian Village" sponsored by the Amici Lodge. In the mid 1980's the festival moved to Hertel Ave. where it was enjoyed for many decades. It has also taken place on the Buffalo Waterfront and most recently in Niagara Square. The festival will run from 11 a.m. - 9 p.m. on July 15 and 16 and until 6 p.m. on July 17.
