Purple Heart Recipients To Be Honored

Erie County Clerk Michael P. Kearns will again honor veterans that have been bestowed the Purple Heart by adding their name to the William J. Donovan Purple Heart Recipients Book of Merit. Kearns is encouraging veterans who were awarded the Purple Heart or their surviving family members to submit their request to his office by August 1st in order to be added to the 2024 edition and be part of this year's ceremony.

Purple Heart veterans or their families must complete a short application that can be obtained online at erie.gov/clerk/PurpleHeartForm or by email at salutes@erie.gov as well as provide proof the award was issued. Those with additional questions can call the Erie County Clerk's office at 716-858-6787.

"I think it is important to honor the brave men and women who have served and sacrificed for our Country. They deserve to be recognized and I am pleased we can maintain a record of our local military heroes at the Erie County Clerk's Office", stated Kearns.

Kearns established the William J. Donovan Purple Heart Recipients Book of Merit in 2018 and has committed to add to the book each year with new recipients, which is now in its sixth year. The book is named after Buffalo native and leading advocate for the Central Intelligence Agency, William J. Donovan. Donovan would receive three Purple Hearts during his service in the military, and would go on to head the predecessor of the CIA, during World War II.

The complete volume of the William J. Donovan Purple Heart Book of Merit is on display year-round at the Erie County Clerk's Office in Old County Hall located at 92 Franklin Street, Buffalo. It presently holds five hundred forty (540) names of those honored with the Purple Heart from Erie County.

The Purple Heart is the oldest military decoration awarded to members of the United States military who were wounded or White Sox or Red Sox? It Doesn't Matter.

Residents living along Shoshone Avenue, Tacoma and Parkside Court are up in arms. They're upset that cars are being parked on both sides of their streets, blocking their drive-ways and making it impossible to reach their homes at night after 6:00pm during the week and on Saturdays. They have made numerous calls to the Buffalo Police Department as well as recorded vehicles on film parking illegally.

For years, they have tried to be good neighbors to Shoshone Park with everything that goes on in the tiny green space, especially during the Hertel North Park Youth Baseball League season from May until early August but their patience is wearing thin. Some have reached out to the leaders of this almost seventy year old league and complained of how families of the little league players, boys and girls, take chances parking their vehicles "for just a couple of hours." Pictures of cars parked illegally in front of their homes have been posted to the Hertel North Park Youth Baseball League website www.hnpybl.com and on Facebook.

The Board of Directors of HNPYBL has fielded

many complaints from residents since Opening Day, May 4th, and has been embarrassed by the behavior of some visitors of the Park who think nothing of being courteous and lawful. It has been stressed numerous times how families should use the NFTA LaSalle Street Station lot above the Park as the best place to find a space to watch any or all games. The Park is quickly accessible just by using concrete stairs between diamonds five and seven on the East side of the home of the Hertel North Park Youth Baseball League.

This has been a legitimate problem for the League this season and for everyone meeting at the Don Morris Fields at Shoshone Park. With the new Thomas M. Smith Athletic Center being built, parking is at a premium for space just off the work site. A reduced parking lot for cars just past the Beard Avenue entrance has made it difficult to maneuver a vehicle to the League's headquarters at the top of the hill. If you are blocking anyone in this lot, your license plate will be announced over the address system and you will be asked to move your car.

Fortunately, all the Children playing in the League are having a great season so far. We're six weeks into the Regular season now with most teams having played eight to ten games, depending on a Division. This past Wednesday and Thursday nights, All-Star teams were formed in the various Divisions based on a players age and they competed against each other with their head coaches watching and hundreds of people on hand to watch some good Baseball and Softball. All children played for bragging rights and received a medaillon to wear afterward. It's a great event for Hertel North Park.

For some in the League, team uniforms and names don't mean a thing. Take the 10 year old Boys White Sox team in the Triple AAA Division. While the Major League team from Chicago has struggled so far with just 17 wins through April and May, the White Sox in Hertel North Park, coached by first year manager Corey Auerbach aren't paying any attention to what's going on in Chicago. They just won two in a row with victories over the Royals and Orioles, Daniel Hannon had four hits and struck out three over two innings in the win over a tough Royals team. Other players on the team are Paul Harrod Jr., Henry Morris Beerman-Brink, Oscar Cross, Cian Pawloski, Ayden Hearon, Alex Dunbar, Leo Schwartz, Ben Auerbach and Charlie Rush. Other players include Liam Duddy, Atticus Huebner and Cameron Kreuz.

Norah Jordan, Zoey Insalaco, Tilly Scanlon and Edith Mogavero each had two hits to help lead the Triple AAA Bulldogs to a 7-3 victory over the Spartans. The Wolfpack won their first game of the year over the Devils, 6-5 as Lola Houck knocked in Maggie Felver in the come from behind victory.

Gus O'Brien hit a double and a triple and struck out three on the mound to keep the Braves undefeated in Double AA with a 3-1 win over the Dodgers.

Skyler Callanan pitched for the first time in a Crimson Tide win over the Yellow Jackets. Bengi Hadden had three hits and scored two runs for the Giants in an 11-3 win over the Cardinals.

Sylvie Fyda hit a three run homerun and had two more hits for the Razorbacks in a 13-7 win over the Bears. Jordan Sabia scored the game winning run and teammate Charlie Ryan scored two others to help lead the Yankees to an

Ask Rusty – How Will My WEP Reduction Be Calculated?

Dear Rusty: I don't understand exactly how the Windfall Elimination Provision (WEP) works for my situation. I turned 62 in 2017 and am currently still working in a "non-covered" job, not paying into Social Security, but from which I will get a government pension when I retire. I began collecting Social Security at my full retirement age in 2021 and am now collecting $1507 per month thanks to the cost of living adjustments since I started. Will my Social Security benefit be reduced by $587 if I retire this year?

Thank you in advance for your service as a Social Security Advisor.

Signed: Confused by WEP. Dear Confused: You're certainly not alone to be confused by WEP, and your situation is somewhat special because you started your SS benefits before taking your "non-covered" government pension. And, unfortunately, most tools and charts which suggest how much WEP will reduce your Social Security benefit don't accommodate that nuance very well.

In your case, when you claimed Social Security at your full retirement age (FRA), you were awarded the full benefit you were entitled to, unreduced by WEP because you were not yet collecting your non-covered government pension. You were able to collect your full SS amount and receive each year's full cost of living adjustments (COLA) to those higher amounts. What actually happens is that each person's Primary Insurance Amount (PIA) is first determined at age 62, and Social Security applies an annually awarded COLA to their PIA (primary insurance amount), even if they're not yet receiving benefits. You received your full PIA, including COLA, because you claimed at your full retirement age. But when you start collecting your pension from your non-covered government job, the Windfall Elimination Provision (WEP) will kick in and reduce your Social Security benefit.

The amount of WEP reduction depends on how many years you had contributed to Social Security from "substantial" earnings but, with 20 or fewer years, the maximum WEP reduction is determined by the year you turn 62 and doesn't change. Since you turned 62 in 2017, your maximum WEP reduction, according to Social Security's process, is $442.50 – lower than the $587 you suspect.

Nevertheless, due to the way Social Security calculates the WEP reduction, the reduction from your current amount will seem larger than the WEP maximum. And that's because of the way Social Security applies the WEP reduction to your benefit. They start by first removing all cost-of-living increases since you were 62 from your primary insurance amount (PIA). They will then take your PIA (sans COLA) and subtract $442.50 (if you have more than 20 years of substantial SS-covered earnings they will subtract less), and then they will reapply all the cost-of-living increases since you were 62 to your WEP-reduced PIA. What just happened, in effect, is that your previous (pre-WEP) COLA increases were removed from your PIA, and those same COLA percentages were reapplied to your smaller WEP-reduced PIA, to arrive at your new monthly benefit amount under the Windfall Elimination Provision. And that new amount will be lower than your previous SS benefit amount by more than the published maximum WEP reduction for the year you turned 62.

A word of caution: Timely notification to Social Security of your non-covered pension is very important. As soon as you receive your non-covered pension award letter, deliver it to your local Social Security office and request a WEP recalculation of your SS retirement benefit. The WEP recalculation will likely take months to process, during which time you will continue to receive your higher non-WEP SS benefit. That means you will be overpaid for the period between when your non-covered pension started and the month your new WEP SS payment began, and that overpayment must be refunded to Social Security.

Purple Heart Recipients To Be Honored

Continued from page one. killed while serving, on or after April 5, 1917. Originally called the Badge of Military Merit, the Purple Heart was created by George Washington on August 7, 1782. In addition to receiving a purple heart shaped award, the honoree's name and regiment were inscribed in a "Book of Merit" which was lost after the Revolutionary War and the award was largely forgotten until over 100 years later.

Kearns will recognize the William J. Donovan

Purple Heart Recipients and honor all Purple Heart veterans during a ceremony on Wednesday, August 7th which also serves as National Purple Heart Day annually. Complete ceremony details will be made available as the event date approaches.

Flag Day

"Raising the Flag on Iwo Jima", by Joe Rosenthal.

We love our flag, our beautiful flag, of red and white and blue. We pledge allegiance to the flag, of the United States of America My country tis of thee, sweet land of Liberty. The older generation would remember that before class when grammar school started, we would do the pledge of allegiance and sing, "My Country Tis of Thee". Daily and without anybody protesting or refusing to stand and show their pride in the country and the flag. Of course, when I was in grammar school, World War Two was in full swing. We were all one and truly the United States. We were all Americans fighting for the same cause. To stay as a sovereign country. Our symbol was the American flag, and everybody honored and respected it like it was sacred. It was sacred, and we loved it. Just a piece of cloth with certain colors on it. No matter what it looked like, we loved it. It meant America, land that we loved.

June 14th is Flag Day. A day set aside to honor our flag, the stars and stripes. Back then almost every house had a flag waving especially on that day. The American flag was everywhere. Not only on that day but everyday. In fact, as a kid, when we used to go for our Sunday ride in the country, we would count flags instead of cows as there were so many. We always had a flag waving. To this day I still have flags waving every day at my home in Florida, here, and at our business. You can call me what you want but I love my country and our flag.

Like most patriotic Americans it bothers me to see the flag dishonored. I am so happy the football player that kneeled during the National Anthem never played football again. There still is some justice. One of the things we do know is that the picture of the men raising the flag on Iwo Jima has become a classic photo over the years. It shows the struggle our country went through to save our freedom. It is difficult to compare then to now. That generation to the now generation. How would we survive now like we did then?

On the 80th anniversary of D-Day, there was a ceremony in Normandy that some of us watched. They had a lot of veterans there who survived the landing on that Memorial Day. Most were in their late 90's and some even one hundred or older. Just young boys in their teens storming a beach in a strange country. These are the survivors, so many did not make it and their young lives ended that day. There is no greater sacrifice.

One of the things that bothered me was an interview with a vet who was exactly one hundred years old. He was doing well for the beginning of the talk but as he was speaking, he broke down in tears. He was actually crying real tears as he recollected that day. His sorrow was not about that day as much, but the way things are today. I do not recall his exact quote, but he did say how upset he was that they fought and died for what? He was distraught over the way the country is today. Here is a 100-year-old man who lived through the worst day of his life, crying over the results of what he and so many of his buddies made, the supreme sacrifice for. That was sad.

That is why you will know that almost every veteran will proudly have a flag waving at their home on Flag Day. They did what they were called upon to do, whenever and wherever for whatever it takes to maintain our freedom. The flag is their symbol, let it be ours.

Three cheers for the red, white and blue,
For the red is the blood of our brothers.
The white is the light of the star
That has led us to where we are.
The blue is the hue of the sky
Where on high the Almighty falters never.
Our banner for two hundred years!
Oh pioneers! Here's to the stars and stripes forever!

Do you have a birthday greeting you would like to see here? Birthdays, anniversaries, interesting pictures, short stories or even a 500 word column of interest to your neighbors. Send them to me and I will see what I can do. Nothing political or controversial. Send to Jbortze@aol.com welcome our newest resident - Himalaya. She is a beautiful red panda with a charming and playful spirit," said Lisa Smith, President and CEO at the Buffalo Zoo. "She is an adorable ambassador for her species, which is in danger of extinction. Himalaya will help us raise awareness about the vital importance of conservation and our role in saving wildlife."

Himalaya will join the Buffalo Zoo's male red panda, Mogwai with the hope that the two will become a breeding pair. The two have yet to meet, but over the coming weeks, the Zoo's animal care team will begin introductions. Mogwai is a three-year-old, who came to Buffalo from the Pueblo Zoo in 2023. Red pandas are native to the Eastern Himalayas and are classified as endangered by the International Union for the Conservation of Nature (IUCN). Habitat loss and poaching are the biggest threats to these charismatic creatures.

Visitors can view Himalaya in the red panda habitat, located in the Vanishing Animals North section of the Buffalo Zoo.
