School's Back In Session!

Kids get ready for another exciting school year starting September 5, 2024.

It's school time again! Kids are probably feeling excited and maybe a little sad that summer is over so soon. Some kids feel nervous or a little scared on the first day of school because of all the new things: new teachers, new friends, and maybe even a new school. Luckily, these "new" worries only stick around for a little bit. Let's find out more about going back to school.

Here are a few final tips for a fantastic school

- Get enough sleep.
- Eat a healthy breakfast.
- Try your best.
- Get Oriented; the first day of school is your first chance to find your way around a new school, or learn the pathways to new classes in your old school. It's a lot to learn in one day, so don't be surprised if you need a reminder or two.
- Use good work habits, like writing down your assignments and turning in your homework on time.

- Take your time with school work. If you don't understand something, ask the teacher.
- Keep a sense of humor. One teacher we know shows his new students a picture of himself graduating high school — a grinning ape in a red graduation cap and gown. This usually makes the kids laugh, and it's a good way to remind them that school is fun!

Meditation At The Waterfront: Yoga Fest

Yoga Fest, presented by Independent Health, will offer avid yogis and beginners a full slate of outdoor yoga classes, amid a picturesque waterfront backdrop at the Outer Harbor.

On Sept. 15 at Terminal B, local yoga instructors will lead a line-up of five classes from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The event will also feature health and wellness vendors, food trucks, live music and free giveaways from Independent Health.

A donation of $15 per person to benefit the Independent Health Foundation's Fitness for Kids Challenge allows attendees to participate in all Yoga Fest classes and activities.

Fitness for Kids collaborates with local schools to challenge every child to get daily exercise, proper rest and make good nutrition choices. Prizes are awarded year-round to participating schools, classrooms, teachers and students.

Yoga Fest Schedule:
10:00am - 2:00pm: Live music with DJ Katie B Kind
10am - 10:30am: Cory Sampson, Yoga instructor

10:45am - 11:15am:

HEAL BFLO Yoga

11:30am - 12pm: YMCA

Buffalo Niagara

12:15pm - 12:45pm:

Afrochick Yoga

1:00pm - 1:30pm: Soma

Cura Yoga

Tickets can be purchased in advance here. Children 13-and-under are free.

"Yoga Fest is a great opportunity to enjoy one of the final days of summer along our city's beautiful waterfront," said Lauren Ford, general manager, Buffalo Waterfront. "We're looking forward to a fun day of fitness to cap off another great summer season at the Outer Harbor."

Stop For The Stopped School Bus!

Reminder: BPS students begin the new academic year on Thursday, September 5th; do not pass a stopped school bus in the City of Buffalo!

Cameras have been installed on all Buffalo school buses and drivers will capture images of a stopped school bus. Enforcement begins on October 1, 2024; digital message boards with reminders to motorists

Buffalo School Buses now have cameras that record when a car passes a stopped School Bus.

Twelve boys wearing blue and white jersey's that said Kansas City across their chests, celebrated royally after their team, the Royals, won the Championship in the Green Division of Rookie Boys this Summer in Shoshone Park.

The Royals defeated the Red Sox 10-8 in the seven team Double Elimination Playoffs held in late July following two very exciting games that could have gone either way. Both 6U teams were so evenly matched that both sides agreed, could have gone either way. Winning team manager Charles Trottier led the Royals to a 10-1-1 record during the regular season, good for the second cede in the House Division Playoffs. With an even mix of first and second year players, Trottier watched the boys become great models to the younger players this season.

"We lost to the Red Sox, 10-9, in the last inning of the first Championship in a very emotional game and the kids thought it was over," he said. "But then I told them we were in the winners bracket and we still had a chance."

The Red Sox were the comeback story of the Rookie Boys Division this season. They got off to a slow start in May, losing three of their first five games but they turned their season around just before the Playoffs and beat the A's, 7-4 in Round One.

Roman Dwyer of the Royals blasted a three run homerun in the top of the sixth to put Kansas City up by three heading into the bottom half of the Inning. Dwyer, a staple for the Royals all season long, got help from teammates defensively to shut down the Sox.

With two outs, the Red Sox loaded the bases after scoring a run before pitcher Declan McCabe knocked down a ball hit right back to him and threw a strike to first baseman Liam Roehl to make the catch for the third and final out of the 6th and the Championship victory was theirs.

Unfortunately, one Royals player wasn't a part of the final game. Byron Smith, a leader all season long for the Royals, is the team's leadoff hitter and could be counted on to lead the Kansas City attack. Smith was stellar on the diamond as well, making several putouts during the year, catching line drives or pop ups off an opponent's bat.

"We missed Byron Smith for the last game," said Trottier afterward, "so the boys and I decided to dedicate the game in his honor and I think their emotions came through royally"

Players on the team include Hudson Courneyea, Hugo Derringer, Hendrix Garcia, Finn McGowan, Ben Reimann, Kealon Sinnott, Emmett Trottier and Drew Wilson.

"I'm very happy and proud of these boys," said Trottier afterward. "They hung in there and played well every game. You can't ask for anything better than that."

Husband Upset about His Wife's Survivor Benefit – Ask Rusty

Dear Rusty: This is a matter that I find particularly irksome. My wife – a retired teacher – was told that, should I pre-decease her, she is not eligible to get survivor benefits from my Social Security payments. I'm sure there is some arcane, bureaucratic justification for this, but I think it unconscionable. Is this true and if so, what sort of major miracle would be required to alter that?

Thank you in advance for your service as a Social Security Advisor.

Signed: Disgruntled in Texas. Dear Disgruntled: If your wife was a teacher in a school district (which includes all Texas school districts) that exempted her from paying into Social Security, then any Social Security surviving spouse benefit she becomes entitled to from you will be affected by a provision called the Government Pension Offset (GPO). The GPO will reduce her Social Security survivor benefit by two-thirds (67%) of the amount of her (non-covered) teacher's pension, which can (and often does) eliminate her surviving spouse benefit. The GPO affects teachers in about 15 states who have opted not to participate in Social Security.

For information, this is similar to what happens to a spouse who has also earned a Social Security retirement benefit – their survivor benefit is offset by their Social Security retirement benefit, and only the excess (if any) is paid. The GPO is actually a bit more generous, in that your wife's survivor benefit is only offset by 2/3rds of her non-covered teacher's pension, whereas the offset is 100% for other surviving spouses who have earned SS retirement benefits as well. This is a provision that has been law since 1977, affecting all those who have a pension earned without contributing to Social Security. Its premise was to better equalize the way SS benefits are paid to everyone.

How can that be altered? Well, the only way is by Congress changing Social Security law. There have been numerous attempts to change the GPO law over the years, none of which have been successful. Indeed, there is a proposed law – H.R. 82 – The Social Security Fairness Act – which was introduced in Congress last year. That proposal, to eliminate the GPO (and a sister provision called the Windfall Elimination Provision), has essentially made little Congressional progress, short of a few committee hearings, and the outlook for passage at this point is about zero.

I'm afraid I can't be optimistic that the GPO will be repealed, as Congress is more keenly focused on resolving Social Security's looming solvency issue, set to come to a head in less than a decade.

Stop For The Stopped School Bus!

Continued from page one. about the safety initiative are now located at Delaware and Hertel Parkside and Linden and Main Street and Delavan.

With the new Buffalo Public Schools academic year to begin on Thursday, September 5th, Mayor Byron W. Brown and the City of Buffalo, along with Buffalo Public Schools and BusPatrol, issued another reminder to motorists to not pass a stopped school bus in the City of Buffalo. Digital message boards were recently moved to a few new locations this past week in a continued effort to remind residents and motorists about this added precaution to keep students safe while traveling to and from school. The new locations for the digital message boards are Delaware and Hertel, Parkside and Linden and Main Street and Delavan. "Driving passed a stopped school bus is not okay. It's extremely dangerous. Our children will be on these buses beginning in early September, and we need to take every precaution to ensure students get to and from school safely," said Mayor Brown. "Motorists, please pay attention and do not pass a school bus illegally. The safety of our children is extremely important."

To ensure students get to and from school safely, cameras were installed on all Buffalo school buses last spring and are now capturing images of drivers who pass a stopped school bus. From now through September 30th, a grace period will remain in effect, with warning letters issued to violators during this trial period. Enforcement begins on October 1, 2024. On October 1st, tickets will be issued and could cost drivers who are caught illegally passing a school bus up to $250.

According to the state's Traffic Safety Committee, roughly 50,000 vehicles illegally pass school buses every day in New York State. The cameras will snap an image of anyone who illegally passes a stopped school bus. The technology, installation, and maintenance are provided at no cost to the school district or taxpayers.

vided at no cost to the school district or taxpayers.

13 Of 18 Carnivorous Plant And Art Exhibit Frights And Excites At The Botanical Gardens

The Buffalo and Erie County Botanical Gardens is preparing to show their brand-new carnivorous plant and art exhibit, Mutation Invasion: Flesh-eating Flora opening on Friday, September 13 to be on display through Halloween on October 31. This is the first carnivorous plant exhibit to take place at the Botanical Gardens featuring hundreds of carnivorous plants with varieties of venus flytraps, sundews, pitcher plants, and more. These flesh-eating plants will be brought up close and personal for visitors to learn about and enjoy. The exhibit is tied together with two special art installations by local artists.

BUFFALO AND ERIE COUNTY

Botanical Gardens

Mutation Invasion: Flesh-eating Flora will give visitors the opportunity to not only learn more about these shocking and interesting plants, but also to go on an exciting and action-packed adventure with the help of a plot-twisting comic strip created by local Buffalo artist, Nate Phillips. Through the exhibit, follow the exciting vintage-inspired comic-book story of Mutation Invasion: Flesh-eating Flora across a series of large posters. It shares the story of how the Botanical Gardens' carnivorous plants were mutated into even bigger and scarier flesh-eating flora that put the Botanical Gardens' horticulturists at risk of being eaten alive. They then must band together with an army of pollinators to save the day.

Throughout the exhibit visitors will enjoy over a dozen larger-than-life, bug-snatching sculptures created by local artist, Melanie Fisher. From large-scale pitcher plants, to various sized flytraps and many other alien-like creatures, the Botanical Gardens will be temporarily transformed into a scene straight out of a 1950's sci-fi comic.

Adding to the creepy theme of the exhibit will be two corpse plants on display, famously known to the Botanical Gardens as Wednesday and Pugsley, from their family of corpse plants. These plants have just begun to grow and will be on display during the exhibit for visitors to watch and see if they are growing into leaves or stinky flowers.

The exhibit comes at the perfect time to enjoy the spooky season in a unique way that involves creepy creatures, plants, and artwork instead of the typical pumpkin patches, goblins, and ghouls. It will be a family-friendly environment with spooky surprises and educational opportunities throughout.

Families will also enjoy a BOOtanical Costume Party on Saturday, October 26 from 10:00am to 4:00pm. Visitors are asked to put on their best costumes and enjoy the carnivorous plant exhibit, complete a spooky scavenger hunt, take frightening family photos, and enjoy lots of ghostly games and activities. This Wegmans Day of Play is the perfect addition for anyone looking for indoor Halloween happenings. The BOOtanical Costume Party is included with regular admission.

The fun continues for the adults at a brand-new Cosplay Photography Night on Sunday, October 27 from 4:00pm to 9:00pm. Cosplayers and photographers are invited to join forces to create some photography magic inside the lush Botanical Gardens. There will be opportunity to take both daytime photos and evening photos with special lighting effects at night. The carnivorous plant exhibit, Mutation Invasion: Flesh-eating Flora, will make for an even more interesting backdrop filled with carnivorous plants and mutated plant sculptures guaranteed to make the perfect cosplay scene. Tickets are $30 per person and guests must be 21+ to attend.

Mutation Invasion: Flesh-eating Flora will be open daily starting Friday, September 13 through Thursday, October 31 from 10:00am to 4:00pm. The exhibit is included with regular admission. Tickets are $16.50 for adults, $15 for seniors (62+) and students (13+), $9 for kids aged 3-12, and kids and Botanical Gardens members are free but must have a ticket.
