Moxie Gardner Launches New Book

Relatives and friends turned out for their autographed copy of Black Ice.

The official launch date for Book Two of the Buffalo Trilogy, Black Ice, written by Moxie Gardner was held last Friday, July 31st at The Best Cellar Bookstore in Clarence, NY. Relatives and friends turned out for their autographed copy of her new book.

"Moxie Gardiner" was born on the West Side of Buffalo, NY and earned a Bachelor's degree in Communications from Buffalo State University. After graduation, she moved to the nation's capital to pursue a career in journalism, traveled frequently on assignment, and published numerous magazine articles.

She left her journalism career behind to become a speechwriter, and went on to earn a Master's degree in Public Administration from American University. For the next nearly 30 years, she worked at a number of different federal agencies. In addition to two tours on Capitol Hill and a three-year assignment in Brussels, Belgium, she was selected for a year-long fellowship at RAND, a Washington area "think-tank."

In December 2014, she reinvented herself once again as "Moxie Gardiner" (her pen name), an author, writer, blogger, and speaker. In 2016, she was selected as one of 10 aspiring novelists to participate in the Novel Year program at The Writer's Center in Bethesda, MD.

Book One, Virgin Snow, was published in 2023. This novel follows a young West Side girl as she navigates the tragedies and triumphs of her teenage years.

Book Two, Black Ice, was published just last Friday. Leaving behind a recent tragedy in Buffalo, Così McCarthy pictures The Big Apple as a real-life Oz, but it isn't long before the curtain parts and she finds herself on thin, black

New Route for YMCA Turkey Trot

YMCA Buffalo Niagara is excited to announce a new loop course for the 131st YMCA Turkey Trot. This year's Thanksgiving race introduces a circuit route, starting and ending at the Buffalo Convention Center. While the course is new, the race maintains its historic identity by keeping the original route's second half down Delaware Avenue to the finish and remains a full 8-kilometer (4.97 mile) course.

The new course offers easier access to day-of packet pick-up, indoor warm spaces, and restrooms at the Buffalo Convention Center. Spectators will also enjoy a better viewing experience, with the ability to see runners

The 186th Erie County Fair

The Erie County Fair is preparing to welcome guests back August 12-23 for its 186th year, bringing together agricultural traditions, family attractions, live entertainment, new food and beverage offerings, and affordable fun for all ages. From animals and exhibits to music, food, and interactive attractions, the 2026 Erie County Fair offers guests more ways than ever to create their own Fair experience.

"Value is not only about what it costs to get in. It is also about what guests can experience once they are here," said Erie County Fair CEO and Manager Jessica Underberg. "At the Erie County Fair, you're not purchasing a ticket to one attraction. You're purchasing the opportunity to create your own Fair day. From agriculture and exhibits to entertainment, music, culture and food, there is truly something for everyone." The Fair continues its commitment to providing value for families. Advance admission tickets are on sale now through August 7 for just $15, offering savings off the regular gate admission price. Fair officials are also highlighting additional opportunities to save at the gate, value-priced menu items available at participating food stands, and affordable ways to enjoy more than 50 rides on the midway. An Erie County Fair admission ticket provides access to much more than food and rides. Guests can experience nearly 1,500 animals on exhibit, explore more than 9,800 competitive exhibits entered by local residents, watch over 117 demonstrations, and discover cultural and historical attractions throughout the grounds. Admission also includes 282 hours of live music during the Fair's

- Patrick Tobin – The Sinatra Experience – A tribute to the timeless music of Frank Sinatra.
- The Catnip Junkies – A lively New Orleans-style street band.
- The Strolling Boombox – Interactive roaming entertainment bringing music throughout the Fairgrounds. Returning favorites will continue to entertain Fairgoers throughout the 12-day event, including Hilby the Skinny German Juggle Boy, Sea Lion Splash, and the ever-popular Racing Pigs. Guests will also find new interactive experiences across the grounds, including the Fair's first-ever Fire Truck Pull, an America's 250th Anniversary Scavenger Hunt, opportunities to Write a Letter to a Hero, enhancements to Little Hands on the Farm, and the new Cuddle Corner inside Fair Bear's Farmland. Another new addition for 2026 is the expansion of the Fair's miniature golf course, featuring eight brand-new holes designed and created by community organizations and local schools, adding a unique hometown touch to one of the Fair's most popular family attractions. Additional highlights include the Nya Weh Village, Erie County Fair Museum, Historical Building, the new Asian Culture showcase on August 21, daily strolling entertainment, livestock competitions, youth exhibits and hands-on demonstrations taking place throughout the Fair. Food remains one of the top reasons guests attend the Erie County Fair each year, and this year introduces 39 new food and beverage offerings for guests to enjoy. Featuring everything from savory specialties and Buffalo-inspired creations to indulgent desserts and creative beverages, this year's New Food Showdown highlights the best in Fair food innovation. Returning guest favorites will also be available throughout the Fairgrounds. A complete listing of this year's New Food Showdown entries is attached. Where and When

The series unfolds across four evenings in two parks:

Riverside Park (by the T-Ball Diamond, Crowley and Tonawanda St)

September 4 — The Mitchells vs the Machines

Each screening runs from approximately 8:00 to 9:30 p.m., with films beginning at sunset

What to Bring

Admission is completely free. Organizers recommend bringing a picnic blanket, lawn chairs, and your family's favorite snacks to settle in for the evening. Since the events are weather dependent, please refer to the Conservancy's Facebook and Instagram (@bfloparks) for last-minute updates before heading out.

Community Support Behind the Screen

The series is made possible in part thanks to funding secured by New York State Assemblymember Jon D. Rivera. The Conservancy is also inviting local businesses and community members to become official "movie night crew" sponsors, with recognition packages ranging from $500 to $1,000 that include name and logo placement on marketing materials and social media shoutouts.

Assemblymember Jon D. Rivera said, "Buffalo's parks are some of our community's greatest assets, and programs like Family Movie Night help bring neighbors together in a welcoming and affordable way. I was proud to secure state funding to support the Buffalo Olmsted Parks Conservancy and help make these free events possible for families across our city. Whether it's introducing children to a favorite film, enjoying an evening outdoors, or simply spending quality time together, these movie nights create lasting memories while showcasing the natural beauty of our park system. I encourage families from across Buffalo to bring a blanket, gather their loved ones, and take advantage of this wonderful summer tradition."

Whether you're a longtime Olmsted Parks regular or looking for a new summer tradition, this movie night series offers a simple, free way to enjoy Buffalo's historic parks with the whole family. Bookmark www.bfloparks.org/movie-nights for future reference.

For sponsorship details, contact Anna Kaplan, Deputy Director of Strategic Initiatives and Development, at Anna@bfloparks.org.

About Buffalo Olmsted Parks Conservancy:

Is the Medicare Part B Premium a Percentage of our Social Security Amount? - Ask Rusty

Dear Rusty: I have a simple question: Is the amount we pay for Medicare Part B premium a percent of our Social Security amount we receive? Signed: Curious

Dear Curious:

Your Medicare Part B premium is not based on a percentage of your monthly Social Security benefit amount. Medicare Part B premiums are set in October of each year by CMS (Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services) and are based upon anticipated total costs of the Medicare program in the forthcoming year. Generally speaking, Medicare Part B enrollee premiums are expected to offset about 25% of CMS' anticipated total Medicare Part B costs; the rest is borne by the Federal Government. So, when CMS estimates Medicare program costs for the upcoming year, they also look at the number of anticipated Part B enrollees. They then divide 25% of total anticipated Part B program costs by the number of expected Part B enrollees, resulting in the "standard" Medicare Part B premium for next year. For 2026, the standard Part B premium amount is $202.90. The standard premium for 2027 will be announced in October 2026 and will likely be different.

It's important to understand also that not everyone pays the "standard" Part B premium. Some lower income seniors may pay less because of the so-called

"hold harmless provision," and some higher income folks may pay more than the "standard" monthly Part B premium because of a provision called "IRMAA."

The "hold harmless provision" says that monthly Social Security benefits cannot decrease as a result of a Medicare premium increase, so if the annual SS COLA (cost of living adjustment) is insufficient to offset any increase to the standard Part B premium, then the SS beneficiary may pay a smaller Part B premium amount so that their SS benefit doesn't decrease (note there are exceptions to this rule).

Conversely, those with a higher "provisional income" (an IRS definition), may pay more than the standard Medicare Part B premium. That's because of a provision known as "IRMAA" (Income-Related Monthly Adjustment Amount), which adds a supplemental amount on top of the standard Medicare Part B premium. IRMAA supplemental amounts are determined using a sliding scale to define the required higher Part B premium for each income level category, and IRMAA will cause the Part B premium to be more than the standard premium amount. For those with exceptionally high incomes, the Part B premium can be as much as $690 per month.

FYI, income reported to the IRS two years ago is used to determine if an individual is subject to IRMAA for the forthcoming year.

The reason for this is timing: when next year's Part B premium is determined in October of each current year, the IRS has processed all tax returns for the preceding year but doesn't yet have individual income for the current year. Thus, they must use a person's income from October of the preceding year to determine who will pay the standard Part B premium next year, and who will pay a higher IRMAA amount.

And just to complete this picture, you should be aware that IRMAA also applies to Medicare Part D premiums. And that means that those with higher incomes who are affected by IRMAA for Part B will also pay a higher Medicare Part D premium. (Medicare Part D is private insurance coverage for prescription drugs). But none of this is related to your Social Security benefit amount.

INGREDIENTS

Bring the taste of New England home with this quintessential lobster roll recipe. Chock full of tender lobster meat and savory, buttery flavor in every bite, these homemade lobster rolls are great for a party or extra-special lunch. If you've ever wondered how to make lobster rolls at home, it's easier than you think. All you need is hot dog buns, cooked lobster meat, butter, shallots and McCormick® Parsley Flakes to make this delicious snack.

- INGREDIENTS
- 4 split-top New England style hot dog buns

3 tablespoons unsalted butter softened, divided

14 ounces cooked lobster meat fresh or frozen, thawed, cut into 3/4-inch chunks

1 small shallot, very finely chopped

1 teaspoon McCormick® Parsley Flakes

Fresh lemon wedges, to serve

- INSTRUCTIONS
- Spread outside of rolls with 1 tablespoon of the butter. Toast buns in a large non-stick skillet on medium-low heat until

- golden brown, about 3 minutes per side. Set aside.

Melt remaining 2 tablespoons butter in the same skillet on medium heat. Add shallot to pan; cook and stir for 3 minutes or until softened. Add lobster meat; cook, stirring gently, about 2 minutes or just until lobster is warmed through. Stir in parsley.

Divide lobster meat among toasted buns. Drizzle with any remaining butter from pan. Serve with lemon wedges.

Lobster rolls are typically prepared using a mixture of claw and tail meat. This recipe starts out with either fresh or frozen, thawed pre-cooked lobster meat. To prepare using fresh or frozen raw lobster tails, you will need to pre-cook about 3 to 4 tails.

- Split top side of lobster tail shells using kitchen shears to cut straight down the middle towards the fan of the tail. Do not cut through the fan or meat. Pull sides of shell apart gently, just enough to work with the meat. Separate meat from the shell—you can use a spoon or your fingers to do this.

To cook raw lobster tails, add enough water to fill a large stockpot or steamer pot with about 3 to 4 inches (7 to 10 cm) of water. Bring to a boil. Place lobster tails in steamer basket and place basket in pot. Cover. Steam for 8 to 10 minutes or until shells turn bright red and meat is opaque. You can also bake raw lobster tails in the oven, if desired—check out our recipe for Baked Lobster Tails.
